Bombay HC rues people's 'litter here, cleanliness abroad' act; asks if we are living in civilised society

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

MUMBAI, AUG 1: The Bombay High Court has expressed strong disapproval over people littering in India but adhering to the rules abroad and throwing garbage only in designated places, and questioned whether this was the price one pays for liberty and democracy. A bench of Justices G S Kulkarni and Aarti Sathe on Friday called for sensitisation of citizens and municipal officers to ensure there is no garbage lying on public streets and spaces. "If a person wants a clean environment, then he or she has a corresponding fundamental duty towards society to maintain cleanliness. We want the civic officials to be ruthless in taking action," the court said. The court was hearing a bunch of petitions raising concerns about pollution, persistent foul odour, gas emissions and health risks for residents in the vicinity of Kanjurmarg dumping ground in the eastern part of the metropolis.

"We have to sensitise our citizens. Here, a person will throw garbage on the road without batting an eyelid, but these same people, when abroad, will strictly avoid such behaviour. Even a small chocolate wrapper they will throw in the dustbin," the HC said. Is this the price of liberty and democracy? the court remarked. Referring to large amounts of plastic waste lying in public places, the court said even beaches in the city are flooded with plastic and questioned if "we are living in a civilised society". The court noted that the city faces tremendous hazards daily from garbage dumped on the main roads and bylanes, and the serious health and hygiene issues arising from these.

Referring to the 'Swachh Mumbai, Sundar Mumbai, Aapli Mumbai, Sundar Mumbai' logo of Municipal Corporation of

Greater Mumbai, the bench said the intention is clear, but the same is being collectively defeated by citizens and by the civic machinery's inaction. "It is in these circumstances the role of MCGM's cleanliness machinery wardwise becomes significant, to take all effective steps so that public streets are not used by the citizens as dumping places," the court observed. If effective measures in this regard are not being taken, it would defeat the civic body's noble intentions as reflected in the logo, it added. It urged the municipal machinery to strictly implement all the rules to bring about an improvement.

The bench also raised concerns about the handling of garbage by municipal trucks near heritage sites in the city such as the Rajabai Tower, the HC building and so on. The court noted that a large number of tourists, including foreigners, who visit these sites see garbage lying on the roads due to mishandling of waste by the civic body's garbage collection trucks. The court asked the civic body to take appropriate action on this within a week, failing which it would be constrained to pass orders.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

NEW DELHI, AUG 1: With proactive support from all states, UTs, central government officials, and custodians, "over 1.2 crore manuscripts have been reported" under the GyanBharatam initiative, marking a remarkable national milestone, Union Culture Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat said on Friday. In his address at the 'National Digitisation Drive Workshop', he called for sustaining the national momentum and emphasised the need to maintain the current pace of work. Shekhawat also said that digitisation demands precision, discipline and collaboration, and stressed that preserving India's knowledge systems with accuracy and integrity is a "national responsibility". The government on March 16 had kicked off a three-month nationwide survey for documentation, conservation and digitisation of the country's manuscript heritage under the GyanBharatam initiative. The exercise will be taken up to the district level across the country, officials had said.

GyanBharatam, announced in the Union Budget 2025-26, is a flagship initiative of the Ministry of Culture, aimed at unearthing, safeguarding and preserving India's vast manuscript heritage. "India's manuscript heritage spanning philosophy, Ayurveda, literature, mathematics, yoga, and diverse knowledge systems reflects the civilisational ethos of 'jnaanamparamamdhhyeiam'," the minister was quoted as saying in a statement issued by the ministry. To advance this legacy, the ministry convened the National Digitisation Drive Workshop at The Ashok under GyanBharatam, with participation from over 200 representatives of states and UTs, centres, custodians, scholars, experts, and technology partners, it said.

The Union minister said, "with proactive support from all states, UTs, ministry's officials, centres and custodians, over 1.2 crore manuscripts have been reported, marking a remarkable national milestone". Union Culture Secretary Vivek Aggarwal emphasised on the need for a time-bound, systematic, and coordinated work with all stakeholders to ensure uniformity, quality assurance, and seamless integration across the country. The workshop, structured around five core themes, reviewed national digitisation targets, standardised imaging and metadata practices, refined implementation strategies, showcased best-performing states, addressed operational challenges, and developed a coordinated roadmap for a unified, standards driven national digitisation framework, it said.

The ministry also showcased India's "emerging National Digital Manuscript Ecosystem, supported by AI platforms" and a structured access policy framework.

Bombay HC rues people's 'litter here, cleanliness abroad' act; asks if we are living in civilised society

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

MUMBAI, AUG 1: The Bombay High Court has expressed strong disapproval over people littering in India but adhering to the rules abroad and throwing garbage only in designated places, and questioned whether this was the price one pays for liberty and democracy. A bench of Justices G S Kulkarni and Aarti Sathe on Friday called for sensitisation of citizens and municipal officers to ensure there is no garbage lying on public streets and spaces. "If a person wants a clean environment, then he or she has a corresponding fundamental duty towards society to maintain cleanliness. We want the civic officials to be ruthless in taking action," the court said. The court was hearing a bunch of petitions raising concerns about pollution, persistent foul odour, gas emissions and health risks for residents in the vicinity of Kanjurmarg dumping ground in the eastern part of the metropolis.

"We have to sensitise our citizens. Here, a person will throw garbage on the road without batting an eyelid, but these same people, when abroad, will strictly avoid such behaviour. Even a small chocolate wrapper they will throw in the dustbin," the HC said. Is this the price of liberty and democracy? the court remarked. Referring to large amounts of plastic waste lying in public places, the court said even beaches in the city are flooded with plastic and questioned if "we are living in a civilised society". The court noted that the city faces tremendous hazards daily from garbage dumped on the main roads and bylanes, and the serious health and hygiene issues arising from these.

Referring to the 'Swachh Mumbai, Sundar Mumbai, Aapli Mumbai, Sundar Mumbai' logo of Municipal Corporation of

Greater Mumbai, the bench said the intention is clear, but the same is being collectively defeated by citizens and by the civic machinery's inaction. "It is in these circumstances the role of MCGM's cleanliness machinery wardwise becomes significant, to take all effective steps so that public streets are not used by the citizens as dumping places," the court observed. If effective measures in this regard are not being taken, it would defeat the civic body's noble intentions as reflected in the logo, it added. It urged the municipal machinery to strictly implement all the rules to bring about an improvement.

The bench also raised concerns about the handling of garbage by municipal trucks near heritage sites in the city such as the Rajabai Tower, the HC building and so on. The court noted that a large number of tourists, including foreigners, who visit these sites see garbage lying on the roads due to mishandling of waste by the civic body's garbage collection trucks. The court asked the civic body to take appropriate action on this within a week, failing which it would be constrained to pass orders.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

NEW DELHI, AUG 1: With proactive support from all states, UTs, central government officials, and custodians, "over 1.2 crore manuscripts have been reported" under the GyanBharatam initiative, marking a remarkable national milestone, Union Culture Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat said on Friday. In his address at the 'National Digitisation Drive Workshop', he called for sustaining the national momentum and emphasised the need to maintain the current pace of work. Shekhawat also said that digitisation demands precision, discipline and collaboration, and stressed that preserving India's knowledge systems with accuracy and integrity is a "national responsibility". The government on March 16 had kicked off a three-month nationwide survey for documentation, conservation and digitisation of the country's manuscript heritage under the GyanBharatam initiative. The exercise will be taken up to the district level across the country, officials had said.

GyanBharatam, announced in the Union Budget 2025-26, is a flagship initiative of the Ministry of Culture, aimed at unearthing, safeguarding and preserving India's vast manuscript heritage. "India's manuscript heritage spanning philosophy, Ayurveda, literature, mathematics, yoga, and diverse knowledge systems reflects the civilisational ethos of 'jnaanamparamamdhyaam'," the minister was quoted as saying in a statement issued by the ministry. To advance this legacy, the ministry convened the National Digitisation Drive Workshop at The Ashok under GyanBharatam, with participation from over 200 representatives of states and UTs, centres, custodians, scholars, experts, and technology partners, it said.

The Union minister said, "with proactive support from all states, UTs, ministry's officials, centres and custodians, over 1.2 crore manuscripts have been reported, marking a remarkable national milestone". Union Culture Secretary Vivek Aggarwal emphasised on the need for a time-bound, systematic, and coordinated work with all stakeholders to ensure uniformity, quality assurance, and seamless integration across the country. The workshop, structured around five core themes, reviewed national digitisation targets, standardised imaging and metadata practices, refined implementation strategies, showcased best-performing states, addressed operational challenges, and developed a coordinated roadmap for a unified, standards driven national digitisation framework, it said.

The ministry also showcased India's "emerging National Digital Manuscript Ecosystem, supported by AI platforms" and a structured access policy framework.
