'Data protection bill in a few months'

"The sustainable growth of a digital economy and our leadership of the innovation space in the coming years is as important a goal for us as a country as laying out the dos and don'ts for companies that deal with data with individual consumers. These are not binaries and we will never treat them as binaries," the minister observed.

The PDP Bill drafted by the Srikrishna Committee was tabled in Parliament in 2019. Subsequently, the Joint Parliamentary Committee submitted its report in November 2021. Chandrasekhkar justified the government being exempted from law on several grounds, including public order and security of the state, saying the government was not 'monetising' the data, as the private sector was doing, but was using the data for a different purpose. "There are differing objectives. I believe the two different standards need to be applied," the minister said. He added that exemptions for governments, in delivering governance and public service, were valid. Clause 35 of the Bill seeks to empower the government to exempt any agency of the government from the application of the Act. The minister asserted that social media platforms must provide information on the first originator of messages, when asked for, saying there were technical solutions to enable this. Or else, they can give up their intermediary status and lose the protection of Section 79 of the IT Act. "You offer yourself for prosecution if there is anything illegal done on your platform and that will incentivise you to do enough due diligence to make sure there is no illegality on your platform. The second is, you do your due diligence before people sign up for WhatsApp. It is very clear, that you don't have to tag anybody, you can easily find out who the first originator is with deep packet inspection.

But what cannot continue is, you want anonymity, the platform wants intermediary safe haven and you say, by the way if there is an illegality we are not in a position of who did it. That's a bit of a zero-sum game that may work in 'planet la la land' but not in India," he said.

For 3-4 qtrs, RIL cuts outlook on refining margins

The government, which imposed export tax on auto fuels on July 1 citing windfall profits made by some of the domestic refiners, removed the tax on petrol on July 19 and slashed the levies on diesel and aviation fuels as the margins declined in sync with softening of the Brent crude prices. It also exempted exports from SEZs from the taxes, a move that is seen to benefit RIL the most as at least half of its petroleum products exports are from units located in Jamnagar tax-free enclave. The government has also said the taxes would be revised promptly, taking into account the changes in export margins in every fortnight.

Though RIL did not disclose its gross refining margins (GRM), the Singapore GRM averaged at around $20 a barrel in the first quarter. Even as the regional benchmark has since then fallen significantly, Morgan Stanley had, in a note on July 20, estimated RIL's prevalent GRM at $13 a barrel, near the upcycle margin.

RIL's GRM came under some pressure following imposition of export duties and windfall taxes by the government from July 1. In a July 20 note, Jefferies said the slashing of the taxes reversed the negative impact on RIL's GRM from $ 7-9/bbl earlier to around $ 1/bbl.

"Given that >90% of RIL's exports is via the SEZ unit, the exemption effectively lowers the impact of export duty on its realised GRM to $ 1/bbl. This, too, in our view, could be mitigated as the residual export volumes could now likely be placed in the domestic markets. In our view, this negates the regulatory overhang on RIL from the 1st July note," it said.

For the April-June quarter, RIL's oil to chemical (O2C) business that includes refining, petrochemicals, fuel retailing and aviation fuel among others reported highest-ever earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA) at ₹19,888 crore, 62.6% rise year-on-year, on the back of strong fuel cracks and stable downstream contribution. This was, however, slightly offset by high energy and freight costs. The EBITDA margin was at 12.3%.

Renews call to remove cap on domestic gas price

Expectations are that the ceiling will have to be raised steeply further for October 2022-March 2023 period, given the spiking global prices of the commodity. Of the total gas consumed in the country, almost 50% is imported LNG.

"We are continuing our advocacy for removal of ceiling prices," said Sanjay Roy, senior vice-president (exploration & production), RIL, in a post-result presentation to the analysts last evening. "The price must move up, Roy said. "It is expected that based on higher energy prices across markets, this (gas price ceiling) will go further up."

As global gas prices continue to remain elevated, RIL attributed it to two factors—the shift in European demand from Russia and gas to LNG supplies and supply destruction. "A substantial amount of (traded gas) volume has been impacted," Roy said.

Roy added the company's MJ field in the KG basin will likely go on stream by the third quarter of this fiscal year. This should lead to further growth in EBITDA and value in the quarters to come and in the years to come, he said.

For the first quarter of the current fiscal, RIL's gas exploration and production business did not significantly better quarter-on-quarter, primarily driven by marginal growth in production in KG-D6 which was slightly over 19 million standard cubic meters (mscm). In KG-D6, the company's realisation on a weighted average basis, was $9.72.

During the April-June period of the current fiscal, India imported 7,400 mmscm LNG valued at $3.4 billion. India's net natural gas production during the period was 2,724 mmscm.

"The advocacy on aligning domestic prices to LNG prices seems to be justified from the lens of upstream producer. However, the government is also doing (by maintain the price ceiling) a balancing act as increased gas prices also means that industries and consumers may switch over to polluting fuel thereby, negatively impacting the vision of improving share of gas in the primary fuel basket," one analyst said.

ICICI Bank net up 50% to ₹6,905 cr

The bank's net interest income (NII) improved by 21% on year to ₹13,210 crore on account of 22% year-on-year increase in the domestic advances to ₹8.96 trillion led by retail and corporate advances.

The asset quality of the bank improved both on a sequential as well as year-on-year basis. Gross non-performing assets (NPA) ratio declined to 3.41% on June 30, 2022, from 5.15% a year ago while net NPA ratio declined to 0.70% on June 30 from 1.16% a year ago.

The bank also saw net additions of ₹382 crore to gross NPAs compared to net additions of ₹3,604 crore in the year-ago period. The provisions declined by 60% on year to ₹1,144 crore.

Provisioning coverage ratio on non-performing assets was 99.61% at June 30. The bank's total capital adequacy ratio at June 30 was 18.74% and Tier-1 capital adequacy was 17.95% compared to the minimum regulatory requirements of 11.00% and 9.70%, respectively.

tively. The bank saw 200% on year growth in the value of credit from personal loans by improvement in discretionary spending, higher activation rate through digital onboarding of customers, including Amazon Pay credit cards, and diversification through commercial cards.

India to be 2nd-largest market by 2030

As far as challenges to building emerging Asia's EV market are concerned, the report listed three key hurdles—parity in total cost of ownership (TCO), which is closely tied to regulatory environment; OEM model availability and supply chain readiness; and critical mass in charging infrastructure.

"While looking at mature and greatly accelerating markets, we observe strong policy frameworks driving TCO parity; OEMs from incumbents to start-ups delivering a wide array of attractive models, including low-cost keyless—parity in total cost of ownership (TCO), which is closely tied to regulatory environment; OEM model availability and supply chain readiness; and critical mass in charging infrastructure to support the targeted volume of EVs on the road. Again, evidence points to the need to stimulate supply and demand simultaneously," the report added. "These challenges are more pronounced in India and the ASEAN, where TCO parity and supply chain readiness are key to unlocking consumer uptake."

Ad world goes hyper-local; targeted commercials gaining ground

"The campaign is in line with the voice of the local population, using subjects that are deeply relatable, and in a tone that is immediately understood," says Dabur India, who adopted the trend of original regional celebrities five years ago.

Dabur India uses tailor-made campaigns for top vernacular markets with TVCs for east and south India, and over 25 regional languages. Budget spent on these campaigns, which include e-commerce, non-e-commerce and TV, print or outdoor. "Consumers connect with advertising rooted in their region. We have started signing regional celebrities for brand recall. Like honey has different cultural contexts so a relatable campaign with model ambassador Rashmika Mandanna in south, actor Ritabhari Chakrabarty for west Bengal and actor Ashay Kumar for north and west works best," he says.

BARC India's Think Report on advertiser analysis on channels by language estimates for Q1 2022 suggests Hindi has highest share of new and returning advertisers (48%). Bengali registered highest growth (16%) in number of advertisers over Q1 2021 and so has Punjabi (18%) over Q1 2020; while Tamil has the highest share of exclusive advertisers (54%).

For differentiated targeting, Truecaller with over 300 million active users launched its Desh ka Truecaller, JanTheScam, ChhotaSMS and Call Reason social campaigns which garnered millions of views. "When it comes to penetration in Tier 2 and beyond, nothing beats TV, print, radio and OOH where digital and social media play a supporting role," says Manan Shah, director, marketing, India & SEA, at Truecaller.

Netflix, too, this year announced a new ad campaign as its global advertising technology and sales partner to build a new ad-supported offering, giving more choice for consumers and a premium, better-than-linear TV brand experience for advertisers. Social media platform ShareChat operates in 15 Indian languages, has over 180 million-strong monthly active Indian-language community, and engages for campaigns with Facebook, Amazon, Myntara and Oyo, to name a few. "We have launched our self-serve ad platform 'ShareChat Ads' for SMBs to connect directly with their target audience through micro-targeting and personalised multilingual campaigns," says Akshat Sahu, director of marketing, ShareChat. The brand has built a robust ad-tech platform to help brands reach scale with native advertising in video and banner assets, and drive impact through the homepage pinned posts that are customised for every brand.
