Demat account holders would be able to cast their vote without having to register again with the ESPs, thereby, not only facilitating seamless authentication but also enhancing ease and convenience of participating in e-voting process.

Revenue from operations for the year stood at ₹ 57,733.94 lakhs, as against ₹ 59,590.63 lakhs in the previous year. This variation is mainly attributable to a moderated sales volume of Poly Iso Butylene (PIB), which declined from 41,439 metric tons to 37,440 metric tons.

The Company achieved a Profit Before Tax of ₹ 8,220.78 lakhs for the financial year ended 31st March 2025, compared to ₹ 9,508.41 lakhs in the previous year. This slight change in pre-tax profitability was primarily due to a temporary dip in sales, resulting from lower production volumes caused by raw materials shortages.

With effect from the financial year 2024-25, the Company has opted for taxation under Section 115BAA of the Income Tax Act, moving from the normal tax regime. Accordingly, the impact of the change in the tax rate has been accounted during the year and the Deferred tax assets and liabilities were remeasured, contributing to the Company recording its highest-ever Profit After Tax.

Status of the Plant

During FY 2024-25, raw material disruptions caused by the simultaneous, unplanned shutdowns of two key suppliers for around 40 days resulted in short supply of raw materials. Despite this, the plant operated for 354 days without any major internal interruptions.

Additionally, the quality of raw materials consumed during this low throughput period was sub optimal, containing significant impurities. This not only affected the efficiency of the production process but also led to increased consumption of catalysts and other process chemicals, further impacting production performance.

The raw water supply from the Metro Water Board's TTRO plant faced frequent quality issues and disruptions. As a result, the company was compelled to procure water from external sources at a higher cost to maintain operations. A joint representation highlighting these concerns has been submitted to the Board by all industries located in the Manali area.

On a positive note, the plant's rainwater harvesting infrastructure enabled the collection and utilization of significant volumes of rainwater. This initiative contributed to substantial savings in water procurement costs.

The Captive Power Plant remained in good operational condition and was in service for 301 days during the year. Additional power requirements were met through supply from the State Electricity Board grid.

To enhance renewable energy usage, additional solar panels with a capacity of 60 kW were installed, supplementing the existing 247 kW facility. The new installation is currently awaiting approval from TNEB. The entire solar power generated during the year was fully utilized for internal consumption, with no power exported to the Government Grid.

Your Company engaged the National Environmental Engineering Research Institute (NEERI) to conduct a feasibility study for implementing a Zero Liquid Discharge (ZLD) scheme. NEERI has since submitted its report, and the findings have been forwarded to the State Pollution Control Board in compliance with their directive, for their review and further action.

We continue to maintain our existing certifications: ISO 9001:2015 for Quality Management, ISO 14001:2015 for Environmental Management, ISO 45001:2018 for Occupational Health and Safety and ISO 50001 certification for our Energy Management System. These certifications collectively demonstrate our dedication to excellence in environmental stewardship, energy management and the well-being of our workforce.

All statutory requirements stipulated by the Petroleum and Explosives Safety Organization (PESO) and the Directorate of Industrial Safety and Health (DISH) are fully complied with. All Preventive and predictive maintenance practices are systematically implemented to ensure that the overall plant remains in safe and optimal operating condition.

Performance

Your Company has achieved 12,767 calendar days of "Accident-Free" operation since inception. The Company has been continuously imparting safety training to all its employees to ensure that all project execution, apart from plant operation, is "Accident-Free" and efficient.

We achieved operational performance in FY 2024-2025, with a production volume of 37,995 MT of Polyisobutylene (PIB) and reached 87.6% of our annual target. This reduction was due to feedstock supply constraints and change in raw material mix.

We are proud to have received the CII Award for Excellence in Energy Management for the year 2024, and the Silver 3-Star Award for Manufacturing Occupational Health, Safety, and Environment (OHS & E) Excellence from the World Safety Organization (WSO) India, recognizing our commitment to safety, health, and environmental excellence.

Based on the learnings from last year's monsoon flooding in the Manali Industrial Area, few proactive measures were undertaken to safeguard plant and machinery. The rainwater drainage gutter is being deepened and widened to facilitate efficient evacuation of stagnant water from the Inside Battery Limit (ISBL) area to the collection pond. Additionally, an existing mud pond has been revamped and lined with a geomembrane, enabling it to store approximately 4,000 KL of rainwater.

Strategic initiatives such as reactor debottlenecking, cooling tower upgrades, improved equipment reliability, and enhancements in thermal efficiency were undertaken during the year. Energy optimization efforts includes the implementation of a dedicated cooling tower line. As a result, energy consumption for the year stood at 0.327

TOE/MT of PIB, compared to 0.301 TOE/MT of PIB in FY 2023 - 2024, otherwise it would have been higher without the measures taken.

During the FY 2024-2025, the Company strategically purchased freehold land situated at Punjulurupada village, Nellore, for a total consideration of ₹ 7,272 lakhs. This acquisition aligns with the Company's long-term growth strategy and reflects its commitment to enhancing operational capabilities and infrastructure. The intended future development includes setting up advanced manufacturing facilities, office premises, and ancillary support structures to support anticipated business expansion and market demand. The Company is currently in the preliminary stages of project feasibility assessment.

Plant automation

As part of our commitment to operational excellence and transparency, the company continues to advance the digitalization of critical plant operational workflows and some of the efforts are:

- (i) The SafeTrack Digital Portal provides real-time visibility, accountability, and traceability in EHS (Environment, Health & Safety) functions, fostering a proactive and structured safety culture.
- (ii) All Quality Control (QC) activities have been fully digitized and upgraded through the Laboratory Information Management System (LIMS), enabling seamless sample tracking, standardized test result documentation, and audit-ready data management.
- (iii) Vehicle gate entry and exit are now effectively monitored through a 24x7 digital gate management system, ensuring enhanced security and logistics control.
- (iv) Additionally, smart energy meters have been installed at all key utility nodes to support granular energy analysis. These meters are fully integrated with our Energy Monitoring System, providing 100% digital, real-time tracking of node-wise energy consumption across steam, power, and fuel streams.

Safety

Initiatives to enhance the safety culture have been actively pursued through proactive measures such as regular safety audits, Behavior-Based Safety (BBS) observations, and Field-Level Risk Assessments (FLRA).

Emergency response preparedness was significantly strengthened through comprehensive training programs, including Emergency Response Team (ERT) drills, firefighting simulations, Self-Contained Breathing Apparatus (SCBA) training, and confined space rescue workshops. These efforts resulted in participation from over 90% of employees and contract personnel, ensuring a high level of emergency readiness across the site.

A general safety audit was recently conducted by an external agency to evaluate the effectiveness of our ongoing workplace safety improvements. Building on this foundation, we are now placing a strong focus on enhancing Process Safety Management (PSM) within the plant.

A PSM gap assessment was carried out using the Center for Chemical Process Safety (CCPS) internal standard framework. We are actively reviewing the assessment findings and implementing necessary actions to strengthen our overall process safety systems and ensure continued operational integrity.

Pollution and Environment compliances

Your Company has maintained robust environmental performance through strict monitoring of effluent discharge, air emissions, and solid waste management. Online monitoring systems have been properly calibrated and are integrated with the Tamil Nadu Pollution Control Board (TNPCB)'s CARE Air and Water portals, ensuring real-time regulatory visibility and compliance.

The Company remains vigilant in adhering to all environmental regulations, with no complaints received from the Pollution Control Board during FY 2024-2025. The Company holds a valid Consent to Operate (CTO) for Polyisobutylene (PIB) manufacturing, valid until 31st March 2028.

Research and Development

During the financial year, the Company significantly strengthened its Research and Development capabilities to support a growing pipeline of innovations and an investment of ₹ 117.12 lakhs was made towards acquiring state-of-the-art instruments and developing advanced facilities to strengthen the R & D infrastructure, with more to come in the following year. In addition, the Company augmented its workforce by onboarding specialized personnel to bolster day-to-day operations and drive research efficiency. Your Company has applied for two Intellectual Property (IP) rights, both of which have been approved by the Intellectual Property Office (IPO).

The Company successfully renewed its recognition from the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research (DSIR), securing this status for an additional three years, until 31st March 2028. This renewal underscores the Company's sustained commitment to scientific advancement and compliance with national R & D standards.

The R & D and Product Development teams continued to drive innovation, with a focus on the development of new applications. To facilitate the scaling of these new applications, the Company is establishing dedicated demo plant facilities, further reinforcing its position as a leader in innovation-driven growth.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Industry Structure & Development :

Polyisobutylene (PIB) is a highly versatile liquid polymer derived from isobutylene, used extensively across diverse industries, including automotive, adhesives, sealants, rubber chemicals, explosives, plastic masterbatches, and personal care. Our company primarily specializes in Conventional PIB, offering customized grades tailored to meet the specific needs of our clients across these varied applications.

In the automotive sector, PIB serves as a key additive in fuel and lubricants, enhancing combustion efficiency and optimizing dispersant performance. Our company has established a strong market presence and earned a trusted reputation in the adhesives and sealants segment, supported by robust customer relationships both domestically and internationally driven by our consistent quality and excellent product performance.

We are also proactively tapping into emerging market segments such as plastic masterbatches, including those based on both virgin polymer and recycled polymer. Another segment of key focus is cosmetics, with a focus on skin care, our PIB is gaining traction as a clean and sustainable alternative to traditional silicone and paraben-based formulations, aligning effectively with the modern consumer preferences. We believe that continuous exploration of new applications, either as a direct raw material or through formulations is a core driver of future growth and reinforces our vision of reducing dependence on any single end market.

Recent global geopolitical and trade disruptions have created unique opportunities for our company to expand internationally as well. We have responded proactively by increasing our export activities and converting previously opportunistic market exposures into long-term customer commitments. Our resilient supply chain and flexible production capabilities have enabled us to respond swiftly to shifting global demand.

With a focus on innovation, agility and reliability at the core of our operations, our company is well-positioned to capitalize on emerging industry trends and lead in the evolving landscape of Polyisobutylene applications.

Outlook :

Kothari Petrochemicals Limited (KPL) is the largest domestic producer of Polyisobutylene in India, currently meeting majority of the country's requirement, with a certain volume being met through imports. Domestic consumption has grown steadily at 4% year-over-year, and a trend expected to continue due to rising demand from sectors such as automotive lubricants, adhesives, and sealants.

After extensive discussions with Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEM)s, we believe India's automotive sector is headed toward a hybrid future - powered by a mix of internal combustion engines (ICE), electric vehicles (EVs). While the growth of electric vehicles is inevitable, it is not expected to significantly impact PIB consumption in the near term. As long as vehicles have moving parts, the demand for high-performance lubrication will persist. Based on current market indicators, we project continued steady market growth for PIB at a 4% CAGR.

KPL is strategically reinforcing its market position as a trusted and reliable PIB supplier both domestically and internationally, notably expanding its footprint in China, and Southeast Asia. Further expansions will focus on deepening our presence in these regions. Leveraging our enhanced production capacity, stringent quality standards, and robust logistic infrastructure, the company has successfully expanded its global customer base.

To support further growth and ensure uninterrupted supply capabilities, KPL is actively evaluating the establishment of strategic stock points in key markets. This initiative aims to optimize inventory management, improve logistical lead times, and enhance customer satisfaction.

Opportunities :

KPL is well-positioned to capitalize on the rising demand for 2400 molecular weight PIB, especially as a preferred viscosity modifier in advanced lubricant formulations. Industry forecasts indicate robust growth opportunities within the adhesives and sealants markets, fueled by infrastructure development and industrial expansion.

The masterbatch segment is experiencing significant growth momentum, and KPL's expanding Pan-India dealer network further enhances the company's ability to scale distribution efficiently. The industry shift toward recycled plastics further increases the need for PIB as a stabilizer and performance enhancer.

Rising global demand for PIB derivatives presents substantial opportunities to innovate and introduce specialized, application-specific products tailored for sectors such as personal care, high management solutions, and specialty chemicals, thus helping us diversify our portfolio and deepen our competitive edge.

Increased adoption of automation, robotics, and precision engineering across industries is set to amplify demand for high-performance lubricants and metal working fluids. This trend underscores the strategic relevance of PIB products and bolsters our long-term growth prospects. Continued investment in R&D, product innovation, and customer-focused solutions will enable KPL to remain ahead of market demands and sustain its leadership position.

Risks, Concerns & Threats :

KPL currently sources raw materials from nearby refineries and suppliers on India's western coast, and some without exclusive or proprietary access. While this arrangement exposes a degree of supply risk, KPL is effectively mitigating these concerns through constant monitoring of raw material supply availability across the domestic market and maintain competitive procurement practices to mitigate potential disruptions.

Operational challenges persist, including variability in raw material quality and extended payment cycles from international customers. These factors, coupled with monthly raw material price fluctuations and foreign exchange volatility, add to financial risk and necessitate robust risk management practices and feedstock pretreatment investments.

In Asia, competition remains intense, from producers in Korea, Japan, and China. Although global PIB demand remains stable, supply chain disruptions, especially those stemming from Red Sea route instabilities and uncertainty in base oil availability add to logistical complexity. Nevertheless, KPL has ensured uninterrupted supply to critical markets through proactive logistical planning and strong customer coordination.

The automotive sector's rise in electric vehicles (EVs) sales has led to a reduction but not elimination in PIB usage in electric vehicles. However, we believe the future of transportation will be a "flex-fleet", a combination of electric, internal combustion and hybrid engines. Our products has a very strong application in industrial lubricants, and advanced metalworking fluids.

On the regulatory front, developments such as the European Union's Carbon Border Adjustment Mechanism (CBAM) present emerging challenges. As CBAM gradually phases in, KPL may be required to address evolving carbon accounting measures and product-level emissions assessments. These changes highlight the importance of sustainable production practices and alignment with global environmental and compliance standards.

Internal Control Systems and their adequacy :

The Company has established a robust internal control system framework encompassing all aspects of business operations, aimed at safeguarding assets, ensuring operational accuracy, and maintaining compliance with applicable regulations. Regular internal audits are systematically conducted across critical functional areas, and audit findings are reviewed by the Audit Committee, Board of Directors, and senior management, ensuring proactive risk mitigation and timely corrective actions.

Clear, documented policies govern expenditure, authorization, monitoring, and control processes. All capital investment decisions undergo detailed feasibility evaluations, and multi-level reviews, ensuring alignment with strategic objectives and risk tolerance. Both capital and revenue expenditures are tracked against approved budgets through comprehensive reporting systems, fostering financial discipline, transparency, and accountability.

Additionally, continuous investment in training and awareness programs ensure that employees remain compliant with internal control policies and risk protocols, thereby fostering a strong culture of integrity and governance.

Human Resources / Industrial Relations :

At KPL, our employees are our most valuable resource. Their continuous development, engagement, and performance are central to our long-term success and organizational stability.

Throughout the year, our employees participated in various in-house training programs under the Employee Development Program, designed to build both technical and soft skills. We introduced a structured Performance Management System to foster individual accountability, align objectives across teams, and promote a culture of continuous improvement through clear goal-setting, performance evaluations, and feedback.

Industrial relations remained harmonious throughout the year. Our proactive and collaborative approach, aligned with industry best practices in the manufacturing sector has fostered constructive dialogue and early resolution of issues, contributing to a positive and productive workplace environment.

As of 31st March 2025, our petrochemical operations employed a total of 194 employees.

Information other than the financial statements and Auditors' Report thereon.

5. The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Board's Report together with the annexure thereto and Report on Corporate Governance but does not include the Ind AS financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the Ind AS financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Ind AS financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Ind AS financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the Ind AS Financial Statements

6. The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these Ind AS financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the Ind AS financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

7. In preparing the Ind AS financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so. The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the Ind AS Financial Statements

8. Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Ind AS financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Ind AS financial statements.
9. As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Ind AS financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
 - Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3) (i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
 - Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the Ind AS financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
10. We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
11. We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.
12. From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the Ind AS financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.
- Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

As required by the Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2020 ("the Order"), issued by the Central Government of India in terms of sub-section (11) of section 143 of the Act, we give in the Annexure A, a statement on the matters specified in paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Order, to the extent applicable.

ANNEXURE B TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT.

Referred to in paragraph 15(f) of the Independent Auditor's Report of even date to the members of Kothari Petrochemicals Limited on the Ind AS financial statements as of and for the year ended March 31, 2025.

Report on the Internal Financial Controls with reference to financial statements under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Act

1. We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements of Kothari Petrochemicals Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2025 in conjunction with our audit of the Ind AS financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

2. The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditor's Responsibility

3. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and both issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

4. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.
5. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Financial Statements

6. A company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Financial Statements

7. Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

8. In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to financial statements were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

NOTES FORMING PART OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

CORPORATE OVERVIEW

Kothari Petrochemicals Limited (referred to as "KPL" or the "Company") is the Manufacturer of Poly Iso Butylene. The registered office of the Company is situated at "Kothari Buildings", No:115, Mahatma Gandhi Salai, Nungambakkam, Chennai - 600 034.

AUTHORIZATION OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Financial Statements for the year ended 31st March 2025 have been approved for issue by the Board of Directors of the Company on 28th May 2025 and are subject to adoption by the shareholders in the ensuing Annual General Meeting.

MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

i. Statement of Compliance :

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015.

ii. Basis of preparation and presentation :

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies below.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Company takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these financial statements is determined on such a basis, leasing transactions that are with in the scope of Ind AS 116, and measurements that have some similarities to fairvalue but are not fairvalue, such as net realizable value in Ind AS 2 or value in use in Ind AS 36.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are Categorised into Level 1, 2, or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fairvalue measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fairvalue measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

The principal accounting policies are set out below:

iii. Revenue Recognition :

Revenue is recognized upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration we expect to receive in exchange for those products or services. Revenue is presented net of trade / volume discounts, other price concessions and GST.

The Company considers indicators for assessing the transfer of control, including :

- a. the entity has a present right to payment for the asset.
- b. the customer has legal title to the asset.
- c. the entity has transferred physical possession of the asset.
- d. the customer has the significant risks and re-wards of ownership of the asset.
- e. the customer has accepted the asset.

Dividend, interest and other income

- Dividend income from investments is recognized when the right to receive payment has been established.
- Interest income is recognized on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the interest rate applicable in line with the effective interest rate method.
- Operating Lease rental income is accounted on straight line basis over the term of the relevant lease.
- Insurance claims are accounted on the basis of claims admitted and to the extent that there is no uncertainty in receiving the claims.
- Export benefits are accounted in the year of exports based on eligibility and when there is no uncertainty in receiving the same.

NOTES FORMING PART OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTSiv. Leases :

Where the company has lessee, Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee or the lease meets other criteria as laid down Ind AS 116. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

In the case of operating leases, Ind AS 116 requires lessees to determine the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease adjusted with any option to extend or terminate the lease, if the use of such option is reasonably certain. The Company makes an assessment on the expected lease term on a lease-by-lease basis and thereby assesses whether it is reasonably certain that any options to extend or terminate the contract will be exercised.

Lease rentals having lease term within 12 months are charged or recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The right to use assets are initially recognized at cost which comprises an amount equal to discounted lease liability plus any initial direct costs. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Lease liability is initially measured at amortized cost at the present value of the future lease payment. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if not readily determinable using the incremental borrowing rate for the company.

v. Borrowing costs:

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets are added to the cost of those assets, until such time the assets are ready for their intended use or sale.

Interest income earned on the temporary investments of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalization.

All other borrowing costs are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they are incurred. Borrowing costs are not included in the value of inventories.

vi. Employee Benefits :(a) Retirement benefit costs and termination benefits

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit plans are recognized as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

For defined benefit retirement benefit plans, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the projected unit credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each reporting period.

Defined benefit costs are categorized as follows:

- Service cost (including current service cost, past service cost, as well as gains and losses on curtailments and settlements);
- Net interest expense or income; and
- Re-measurement.

The Company presents the first two components of defined benefit costs in Statement of Profit and Loss in the line item 'Employee benefits expense'.

Past service cost is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss in the period of a plan amendment.

Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate at the beginning of the period to the net defined benefit liability or asset.

Re-measurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the changes to the asset ceiling (if applicable) and the return on plan assets (excluding net interest), is reflected immediately in the balance sheet with a charge or credit recognized in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Re-measurement recognized in Other Comprehensive Income is reflected immediately in Retained Earnings and is not reclassified to Statement of Profit and Loss.

- Contribution to Provident Fund is in the nature of defined contribution plan and are made to Employees Provident Fund Scheme, 1952. Under the scheme the company is required to contribute a specified percentage of payroll cost to the Scheme. The interest as declared by the Government from time to time accrues to the employees under the scheme.
- Contribution to Superannuation Fund is in the nature of defined contribution plan and is remitted to Reliance Nippon Life Insurance Company Limited. Under the scheme the company is required to contribute a specified percentage of payroll cost to underwriters to enable them to make settlement to the qualifying employees.
- Contribution to Employees' Group Gratuity-cum Life Assurance scheme is in the nature of Defined benefit plan and is remitted to Reliance Nippon Life Insurance Company Limited. The Scheme provides for lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death while in employment or on termination of employment.

NOTES FORMING PART OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(b) Short-term employee benefits

Liabilities recognized in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related service and recognized as an expense in the year they are incurred. Liability for unavailed leave for employees is considered as short term benefit and provided accordingly in books.

(c) Other Long term employee benefits

Long term employee benefit liabilities other than post-retirement benefit are measured on the basis of actuarial valuation on respective reporting dates using projected unit credit method and recognized in the profit and loss for the period. Liability of unavailed sick leave for employees is considered as long term benefit.

vii. Earnings per Share :

The Company presents basic and diluted earnings per share (EPS) data for its equity shares.

Basic EPS is calculated by dividing the Profit or Loss attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period.

Diluted EPS is determined by adjusting the Profit or Loss attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

viii. Taxation :

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

Minimum Alternative Tax ("MAT") credit is recognized as an asset only when and to the extent there is reasonable certainty that the Company will pay normal income tax during the specified period.

➤ Current tax

Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the applicable tax rates and the provisions of the Income tax Act, 1961 and other applicable tax laws.

➤ Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilized.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

➤ Current and deferred tax for the year

Current and deferred tax are recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in Other Comprehensive Income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

ix. Property, Plant and Equipment :

All Property, Plant and Equipment are measured at cost, less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any.

The cost of asset includes the purchase cost including import duties and non-refundable taxes, and any costs that are directly attributable of bringing an asset to the location and condition of its intended use.

The carrying amount of the replaced parts are derecognized. All other repairs and maintenance costs are recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

Subsequent expenditure related to an item of Property, Plant and Equipment is added to its carrying value only when economic benefits are expected to accrue for a period beyond one year.

Depreciation on tangible fixed assets has been provided on the straight-line method as per the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013.

Estimated useful lives of the assets are as follows:

Particulars of Asset	Estimated useful lives
Freehold Land	Infinite
Building	3-60 years
Plant & Equipment	5-40 years

NOTES FORMING PART OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Particulars of Asset	Estimated useful lives
Furniture & Fixtures	10 years
Office Equipment & Computers	3-5 years
Vehicles	8 years

Assets costing ₹5,000 and below are depreciated in the year of acquisition.

Assets on leased premises are depreciated on the remaining period of lease or as per the useful life prescribed in Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013, whichever is earlier.

Depreciable amount for assets is the cost of an asset, or other amount substituted for cost, less its estimated residual value not more than 5% of Cost.

For certain items of plant and machinery, the useful life adopted is based on internal technical evaluation and best represents the period over which the Company expects to use these assets.

The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

An item of Property, Plant and Equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset.

Gains / Losses arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of Property, Plant and Equipment are determined as the difference between the sales proceeds or net realizable value and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss.

The carrying values of assets / cash generating units at each balance sheet date are reviewed for impairment. If any indication of impairment exists, the recoverable amount of such assets is estimated and impairment is recognized, if the carrying amount of these assets exceeds their recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and their value-in-use. Value-in-use is arrived at by discounting the future cash flows to their present value based on an appropriate discount factor.

When there is indication that an impairment loss recognized for an asset in earlier accounting periods no longer exists or may have decreased, such reversal of impairment loss is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

x. Investment Property :

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation (including property under construction for such purposes). Investment properties are measured initially at cost including transactions costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation over useful life of 60 years and impairment losses, if any. Though, the Company measures investment property using cost-based measurement, the fair value of investment property is disclosed in Notes. Fair values are determined based on an annual evaluation performed by a Chartered Engineer.

xi. Intangible Assets :

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost, less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses. Amortization is recognized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortization method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

Software and licenses are amortized over useful life of not exceeding 5 years.

xii. Inventories :

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Net realizable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories, less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale.

Cost of inventory comprises of purchase price, cost of conversion and other directly attributable costs that have been incurred in bringing the inventories to their respective present location and condition. The cost of inventories is computed on weighted average basis.

Inventories are written down on a case-by-case basis if the anticipated net realizable value declines below the carrying amount of the inventories in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

xiii. Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets :

A provision is recognized when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made.

NOTES FORMING PART OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value except in the cases where time value of money is not material and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date and are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

Contingent liabilities in relation to claims against the Company, includes legal, contractual and claims arising from custom. The assessment of the existence, and potential quantum, of contingencies inherently involves the exercise of significant judgment and the use of estimates regarding the outcome of future events. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the notes.

Contingent assets are not recognized in the financial statements.

xiv. Financial instruments :

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognized immediately in Statement of Profit and Loss.

xv. Financial assets:

All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognized and derecognized on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place.

All recognized financial assets are subsequently measured in their entirety at amortized cost or fair value, depending on the classification of the financial assets.

➤ Classification of financial assets

Debt instruments (including Trade receivables, Loans and Other Financial Assets) that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortised cost (except for debt instruments that are designated as at fair value through profit or loss on initial recognition):

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All other financial assets are subsequently measured at fair value.

➤ Effective interest method

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a debt instrument and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the debt instrument, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Income or Expense is recognized on an effective interest basis for debt instruments other than those financial liabilities classified as at FVTPL. Interest income or expense is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss.

➤ Impairment of financial assets

The Company assesses on a forward looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its assets carried at amortized cost. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been significant increase in credit risk.

For trade receivables, the Company applies the simplified approach permitted by Ind AS 109 Financial Instruments, which requires expected credit losses to be recognized from initial recognition of the receivables.

➤ Derecognition of financial assets

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another party.

➤ Derivative financial instruments

The Company uses forward contracts to hedge its foreign currency risks. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. Derivatives are carried as financial assets when the fair value is positive and as financial liabilities when the fair value is negative. Any gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of derivatives are taken directly to Statement of Profit and Loss.

xvi. Financial liabilities :

Borrowings, trade payables and other financial liabilities are initially recognized at the value of the respective contractual obligations.

They are subsequently measured at amortised cost using effective interest method. Any discount or premium on settlement is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss as finance cost over the life of the liability using the effective interest method and adjusted to the liability figure disclosed in the Balance Sheet.

De recognition of financial liabilities

The Company derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Company's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired.

xvii. Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, where by profit / (loss) before exceptional items and tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The company considers all liquid investments, which are readily convertible into known amounts of cash, that are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value to be cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents consist of balances with banks which are unrestricted for withdrawal or usage except fixed deposit with original maturity more than 3 months.

xviii. Functional and presentation currency and Foreign Currency Transactions

Items included in the financial statements of the Company are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which these entity operate (i.e. the "functional currency"). The financial statements are presented in Indian Rupee, the national currency of India, which is the functional currency of the Company.

In preparing the financial statements of the Company, transactions in currencies other than the entity's functional currency (foreign currencies) are recognized at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date.

Exchange differences on monetary items are recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they arise.

xix. Key estimates and assumptions

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Key assumption concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period that may have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year is as given below.

- (i) Useful life of property, plant, equipment and Investment property & Intangibles Periods.
- (ii) Provision for income taxes and deferred taxes.
- (iii) Provisions for Defined benefit plan.

Fair value measurement and valuation processes:

Some of the Company's assets and liabilities are measured at fair value for financial reporting purposes. In estimating the fairvalue of an asset or a liability, the Company uses market-observable data to the extent it is available. Where Level 1 inputs are not available, the Company engages third-party qualified valuers to perform the valuation.

xx. Operating Cycle

Based on the nature of products / activities of the Company and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realization in cash or cash equivalents, the Company has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

xxi. Recent accounting pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. For the year ended March 31, 2025, MCA has notified Ind AS - 117 Insurance contracts and amendments to Ind AS 116 - Leases, relating to sale and leaseback transactions, applicable w.e.f. April 1, 2024. The company has evaluated the new pronouncements and has concluded that it does not have any impact in its financial statements.

NOTES FORMING PART OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 35: Nature and extent of risks arising from financial instruments and respective financial risk management objectives and policies

The Company has adequate internal processes to assess, monitor and manage financial risks. These risks include market risk (including currency risk, interest risk and equity price risk), credit risk, liquidity risk and cyber security risk.

The Company seeks to minimise the effect of these risks by using financial instruments such as foreign currency forward contracts and appropriate risk management policies. The Company does not enter into trade financial instruments, including derivative financial instruments for speculative purposes.

a) Credit risk management

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counter party will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Company. The Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables) and from its investing activities, including deposits with banks and financial institutions.

Customer credit risk is managed by each business unit subject to the Company's established policy, procedures and controls relating to the customer credit risk management. The Company uses financial information and past experience to evaluate credit quality of majority of its customers and individual credit limits are defined in accordance with this assessment. Outstanding receivables and credit worthiness of its counter parties are periodically monitored and taken up on a case to case basis. The Company evaluates the concentration of risk with respect to trade receivables as low, as the major chunk of trade receivables is from oil PSUs and companies with high credit rating. Export markets for spot customers were backed by letter of credit. There is no material expected credit loss based on the past experience. The Company assesses the impairment of trade receivables on a case to case basis and creates loss allowances, if required.

b) Liquidity risk management

The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves, banking facilities and reserve borrowing facilities, by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows, and by matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities.

The table below summarises the maturity profile of the Company's financial liabilities based on contractual undiscounted payments as at 31st March 2025.

The Company is exposed to commodity price and supply risks associated with its key raw materials, primarily derived from crude oil. Fluctuations in global crude oil prices directly influence the cost of feedstock such as naphtha, butane and other petrochemical intermediates. These price movements are driven by a variety of factors including geopolitical developments, OPEC decisions, global demand-supply imbalances, and currency fluctuations.

In addition to price volatility, the Company faces risks related to the availability of raw materials in the required quality and quantity. Supply disruptions, changes in specifications, or logistics constraints may impact operational continuity and cost structures.

To manage these risks, the Company monitors price of rawmaterial continuously and Where ever viable, uses long-term contracts and hedging mechanisms to manage price volatility. The company is also in the process of getting into strategic relationships with a diversified base of reliable suppliers.
