India-UK free trade pact to kick in from July 15

KRITY AMBEY
New Delhi, 17 June

India's free trade agreement (FTA) with the UK will kick in from July 15, nearly a year after the two sides signed the landmark deal in London. India's Double Contribution Convention (DCC), signed along with the FTA, will also take effect on the same date.

"It is a major stride for India's global economic engagement with the simultaneous enforcement of the India-UK Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (Ceta) and the Double Contribution Convention (DCC) on 15th July, 2026," Commerce Minister Piyush Goyal said in a post on X.

The deal will take effect after considerable ebb and flow following hurdles to the implementation after the UK announced steel safeguard measures. Both sides have held several rounds of discussions, including a visit to New Delhi by UK's Business and Trade Secretary Peter Kyle earlier this month to iron out the sticking points and implement the deal. The announcement of the implementation follows a meeting between Prime Minister (PM) Narendra Modi and his British counterpart Keir Starmer in France on the sidelines of the G7 Summit.

"This agreement will significantly boost our bilateral trade and investment. It will also unlock numerous farmers, workers, MSMEs, startups and innovators, and contribute meaningfully to the realisation of Viksit Bharat 2047," Modi said in a post on X.

According to the commerce ministry, the two sides have agreed to keep 85 per cent of India's exports out of the steel measures. "On the lines under the steel measures India's interest has been protected through a mix of country-specific quota (CSQ), residual quota, and access under Authorised Use Scheme (AUS)," the ministry said in a release.

In March, the UK government announced it would lower tariff-free steel import quotas by 60 per cent to safeguard the domestic industry from dumping. Starting in July, steel shipments above the quota limit will attract a 50 per cent duty in the UK.

To further sweeten the offer, the UK has also offered to increase the exemption period under its DCC with India to five years from three years. The DCC facilitates exemption to temporary cross-border assignees and their employers from paying double social security contributions.

The UK has committed tariff concessions on 99 per cent tariff lines, covering India's entire trade basket, under the trade deal. Meanwhile, India has opened 89.5 per cent of its tariff lines, covering 91 per cent of UK's exports.

Trade deal with Canada by Nov; EU pact by year-end

ARCHIS MOHAN
New Delhi, 17 June

The India-European Union (EU) trade deal will be formally signed by the end of the year, and the two sides will accelerate work on an investment agreement, European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen said on Wednesday after her meeting with Prime Minister (PM) Narendra Modi on the sidelines of the Group of Seven (G7) Summit in Evian, France.

Meanwhile, Canadian PM Mark Carney on Wednesday said his country's trade deal with India will be concluded by November before the G20 Summit. India and Canada concluded the negotiations for their Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (Cepa), and have set a bilateral trade target of $50 billion by 2030. Sources said the two sides are working to finalise Modi's visit to Canada by the end of the year, when the pact is likely to be signed. Modi and Carney met on the sidelines of the G7 Summit on Tuesday, where they reviewed progress in bilateral commercial arrangements relating to liquefied natural gas (LNG), liquefied petroleum gas (LPG), and metallurgical coal.

Modi's meetings with leaders attending the G7 Summit, and his intervention at the outreach session focused on furthering trade and connectivity projects. In his intervention during one of the sessions at the Summit, the PM said: "Disruptions to fuel, fertiliser, and food supply chains caused by the crisis in West Asia will continue to have a significant impact on the Global South for some time." "If we are truly committed to strengthening international solidarity, the most vulnerable countries should not be left to bear the burden of these crises alone," he said, urging international financial institutions to develop support mechanisms that help developing countries absorb such shocks and sustain their economic resilience.

On Tuesday, the PM held bilateral meetings with Starmer, Canadian PM Mark Carney, and UAE President Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan. On Wednesday, the concluding day of the Summit, Modi met von der Leyen and European Council President Antonio Costa. He also

"IF WE ARE TRULY COMMITTED TO STRENGTHENING INTERNATIONAL SOLIDARITY, THE MOST VULNERABLE COUNTRIES SHOULD NOT BE LEFT TO BEAR THE BURDEN OF THESE CRISES ALONE"

Narendra Modi
Prime Minister

held bilateral meetings with German Chancellor Friedrich Merz and US President Donald Trump.

During his intervention in the session on "Reviving a balanced, shared and sustainable economic growth for all", Modi underlined the disruptions to the global economy, including to energy supplies that the conflict in West Asia has caused. He proposed that India could work on connectivity projects with countries in Africa, Latin America, and the Pacific Island region, and these projects could draw inspiration from the India-Middle East-Europe Economic Corridor (IMEC).

Modi said that by bringing together the economic resources of the G7, the talent of India, and the ownership of countries across the Global South, "we may consider establishing International Mobilisation Partnership for Accelerating Connectivity and Trade (IMPACT)".

The PM lauded France's G7 Presidency for giving special importance to inclusive and sustainable growth "at a time when the world faces many challenges and uncertainties". He said the question of growth is not limited to gross domestic product (GDP) numbers or trade figures alone. "The real question is: Who benefits from this growth? Who is included in it? And what direction is it taking," he said.

On IMEC, Modi said the strategic corridor connects Asia, the Middle East, and Europe, and will accelerate trade, strengthen supply chains, and create new opportunities for investment, employment, and innovation across partner countries. Today, there is a need to further advance such initiatives, ones that are characterised by local ownership, transparent financing, and a clear vision for long-term sustainability, he said. While Modi did not mention China's Belt and Road Initiative, it has faced flak for its unsustainable debt burdens and lack of transparency.

The PM said developed countries, which are confronting the challenge of ageing populations, and the Global South, including India, which possesses talent, enterprise and skills, should harness this natural complementarity. "We may consider establishing a Global Skills Partnership. Under this framework, we can work together on skill-mapping and promoting trusted skilled mobility," he said. Modi said India has concluded trade deals with most of the countries represented at the G7 Summit. "This reflects India's belief not in fragmentation, but in integration, not in protectionism, but in partnership, and not in uncertainty, but in shared prosperity."

Bilateral meetings

After Modi's meeting with the EU leaders, von der Leyen posted on social media, "Since we have concluded the mother of all trade deals, we have been moving fast to deliver on our commitments. We will sign the Free Trade Agreement by the end of the year. And accelerate work on an investment agreement. We will also step up security and defence cooperation. And join forces for better connectivity by advancing IMEC." India and the EU announced concluding negotiations for the mega trade deal on January 27.

In Modi's meeting with the UAE President on Monday, the two leaders discussed the West Asian conflict and called for continued free, safe, and unimpeded navigation, and trade and commerce through the Strait of Hormuz. Modi invited the UAE leader to attend the Brics Summit, which India will host in September.

Modi and German Chancellor Merz discussed shoring up bilateral cooperation in areas of trade, investments, and defence, and also exchanged views on the situation in West Asia and the Russia-Ukraine conflict. They welcomed the understanding reached between the US and Iran to end the conflict in West Asia. They welcomed the signing of the Defence Industrial Cooperation Roadmap and the operationalisation of transit visa waiver for Indian nationals transiting through Germany.

Saibal Chattopadhyay is chairperson of National Statistical Commission

HIMANSHI BHARDWAJ
New Delhi, 17 June

The government on Tuesday appointed Saibal Chattopadhyay as chairperson of the National Statistical Commission (NSC), the nodal body overseeing core statistical activities in the country. It also named Shubhabrata Das, Satyendra Bahadur Singh, and Madhavan Mukund as members of the apex body.

Chattopadhyay, former director of the Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Calcutta, succeeds Rajeeva Laxman Karandikar, whose three-year term as NSC chairperson ended earlier this year. He holds a PhD and an MS in Statistics from the University of Connecticut, Storrs, US, and an MSc in Statistics from Calcutta University.

Saibal Chattopadhyay succeeds Rajeeva Laxman Karandikar, whose term ended earlier this year

Das is a professor at the IIM, Bangalore. While Singh is a retired Indian Statistical Service officer from the 1987 batch, Mukund is director of the Chennai Mathematical Institute. The appointments were okayed by the Appointments Committee of the Cabinet, according to a statement by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation.

Interim VB-G RAM G funds fall short of 125-day job promise: Civil society groups

LAKSHYA GUPTA & SALONY
New Delhi, 17 June

The Centre's interim allocation of ₹95,692 crore for the financial year 2026-27 (FY27) under the newly introduced Viksit Bharat Guarantee for Rozgar and Ajeevika Mission (Gramen) (VBGRAM) that replaces MGNREGA from July 1 won't support even half of proposed job entitlement of 125 days in any major state, claimed an analysis by civil society groups.

"Our analysis of the proposed interim allocation shows that, for every active job card, the number of person-days that can be generated under the proposed interim allocation falls dramatically short of the promised 125 days. In fact, in several states, the allocation would finance barely one-fifth of the claimed 125 days guarantee," said Nikhil Dey, member of MGNREGA Sangharsh Morcha, in a press conference.

To bridge this gap, Andhra Pradesh would need nearly ₹9,901 crore in additional funds, Bihar around ₹5,939 crore, and Chhattisgarh about ₹5,143 crore. Maharashtra would require additional ₹31,013 crore, Tamil Nadu around ₹27,000 crore and UP around ₹28,000 crore to meet the commitment.

According to the Ministry of Rural Development, under the interim allocation for VB-G RAMG, Uttar Pradesh has been allotted the highest sum of ₹9,721.48 crore, followed by West Bengal at ₹8,508 crore and Tamil Nadu at ₹7,585.49 crore.
