L&T Construction Awarded (Significant*) Contracts for its Power Transmission & Distribution Business

Mumbai, April 20, 2020: The Power Transmission & Distribution Business of L&T Construction has bagged orders in India and abroad.

The business has won an order to modernize the power distribution network in a subdivision of Bengaluru Metropolitan Area Zone. With the scope involving conversion of high voltage overhead lines into underground cables and creation of additional feeders for load bifurcation, the project will enhance the reliability of the power system. Similar distribution network strengthening orders have been received in the northern and western parts of the subcontinent as well.

The business has also bagged orders to establish 220kV, 132kV Substations and 132kV cable networks in India, the Middle East and Africa. In a consortium, another order has been secured for the rehabilitation of substations and transmission lines associated with hydropower plants in Myanmar.

Additional orders have been received in ongoing Substation, Transmission Line and Renewable Energy jobs in India.
