Dahod, Due to the lack of bridge and road facilities in Kharapani Phalia of Vankol village of Jalod taluka, students are forced to risk their lives to go to school. Every day, these students, who go to study at Shri Madhyamik Shala, Dungri, have to cross the rushing water of the Gangga gorge, due to which serious questions have been raised about their safety. A total of 1149 students from Wankol, Kharapani Phalia, Dungri, Thala, Pipli and Kachubar villages study in Shree Madhyamik School, Dungri. Out of these, about 300 students from Wankol village, especially 40 students from Kharapani Phalia have to cross the unpaved road and the dangerous water flow of the Gangi gorge to reach school. The students cross this gorge by holding each other's hands and forming a human chain. During this, many incidents of slipping have also occurred. In a recent video, a student slipped in the water flow, who was caught and saved by other students. Parents have repeatedly presented their demand for construction of bridges and roads to local leaders and the administration, but no concrete steps have been taken till date. On one hand, the administration advises people not to cross the rushing water during the rains, on the other hand, students are forced to cross such dangerous streams to go to school. Parents and locals are raising the question of who will take responsibility if any untoward incident happens during this time. On this issue, Lalit Vahonia, Principal of Shri Madhyamik School, Dungri, said in a telephonic conversation with Divya Bhaskar, "Students from five surrounding villages study in our school, including about 40 students from Kharapani Phalia.
