India doubles imports of Russian oil to €5.8 billion

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, April 15

INDIA'S IMPORTS OF Russian crude oil doubled in March 2026, pushing total purchases to €5.8 billion, even as Moscow's export revenues surged 52% month-on-month to €713 million per day — the highest in two years — amid rising prices and sanctions-driven shifts in trade flows.

According to Finland-based Centre for Research on Energy and Clean Air, crude oil dominated India's imports at €5.3 billion, accounting for 91% of total purchases.

Coal imports stood at €337 million, while oil products were valued at €178.5 million, indicating continued diversification across fuels.

In February, India was the third-largest importer, purchasing Russian hydrocarbons worth €1.8 billion. Crude oil constituted the largest share at 81% (€1.4 billion), followed by coal (€223 million) and oil products (€121 million).

"India's imports of Russian crude oil doubled month-on-month...state-owned refineries' imports...saw a massive 148% increase," the report said, highlighting a sharp rise in spot purchases. The state-owned Mangalore and Visakhapatnam refineries had stopped Russian imports at the end of November 2025, but purchases resumed in March 2026. "Private refineries, meanwhile, registered a more modest 66% month-on-month increase, but remained lower than the same time last year," it said.

The increase came despite a 4% decline in India's overall crude imports in March, signalling a shift towards Russian barrels rather than higher demand. State-run refiners, including New Mangalore and Visakhapatnam, resumed Russian purchases after halting imports in November 2025. Russia's revenue surge was driven by both price and volume dynamics. Crude export earnings rose 94% month-on-month to €431 million per day, led by a 115% increase in seaborne crude revenues to €372 million per day. Volumes rose 29%, while prices surged sharply.

Urals crude averaged $94.5 per barrel in March, up 67% month-on-month and more than double the EU-UK price cap of $44.1 per barrel. The discount to Brent narrowed to $6.4 per barrel, halving from previous levels.

The price rally also boosted Russia's fiscal revenues. Early estimates indicate mineral extraction tax collections rose 114% month-on-month to €7.4 billion, reflecting the direct impact of higher crude prices.

India and China together accounted for nearly 90% of Russia's crude exports in the first quarter of 2026. China remained the largest buyer with a 51% share, while India accounted for 38%.

Oil retailers lose ₹60 on diesel/litre, ₹24 on petrol as margins plunge

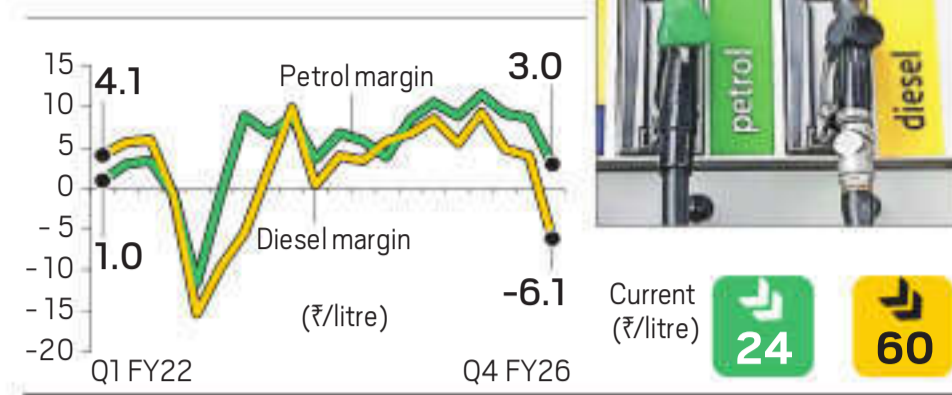

SAURAV ANAND
New Delhi, April 15

STATE-RUN OIL MARKETING companies (OMCs) are incurring steep per-litre losses of around ₹24 on petrol and nearly ₹60 on diesel, as fuel marketing margins have sharply turned negative amid rising global crude prices and elevated tax burdens, according to Kotak Institutional Equities.

The brokerage said "OMCs are likely making losses at current global prices," with the latest estimates showing a sharp deterioration in downstream fuel economics.

The margin erosion has persisted despite a ₹10 per litre excise duty cut, with the report noting that "with steep rise in international prices, marketing margins have...turned negative."

DEEP INTO RED

A key driver of the pressure is the sharp increase in windfall taxes on petroleum exports, particularly diesel. Kotak highlighted that "diesel export tax is up 158% to ₹55.5/litre or $95/bbl," significantly compressing refining spreads.

The report added that the revised tax structure "leaves very low or negative spreads versus Dubai or the Indian crude basket," underscoring the extent of profitability erosion for refiners.

The impact is most visible in diesel, where post-tax margins have shrunk sharply. Data in the report shows that spreads have dropped to as low as $3 per barrel over Dubai crude and turned negative against other benchmarks, limiting earnings visibility for refiners.

While petrol remains exempt from windfall taxes, pricing pressures persist due to elevated global crude benchmarks and unchanged retail fuel prices, which continue to weigh on marketing margins.

The data also marks a sharp reversal from earlier trends. Petrol margins had remained positive through most of FY25 and early FY26, reaching ₹11-11.5 per litre, while diesel margins had recovered to ₹8-9 per litre, before the recent correction pushed both fuels into loss-making territory.

Unemployment in youth at 9-month high in March

MARKET ADJUSTMENTS

KULDEEP SINGH
New Delhi, April 15

THE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE among persons aged 15-29 years rose to a nine-month high of 15.2% in March, up from 14.8% in February, according to the Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS) released by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MoSPI) on Wednesday.

This was the highest youth unemployment rate since June 2025, when it stood at 15.3%.

The overall unemployment rate for persons aged 15 years and above increased to a five-month high of 5.1% in March from 4.9% in February. The rise was mainly driven by higher joblessness in urban areas, MoSPI said.

In the 15-29 age group, the joblessness among male rose to 14.3% in March from 13.7% in February while for female the unemployment rate edged to 17.7% from 17.6% in February.

The rural unemployment among youth was 13.6% in March. In urban areas, it rose to 18.4% from 18.3% in February.

As per the Current Weekly Status (CWS) approach, the unemployment rate for persons aged 15 years and above in urban areas rose to 6.8% from 6.6% in February, while it edged up marginally in rural areas to 4.3% from 4.2%. Among males aged 15 years and above, the rate climbed to a five-month high of 5% in March from 4.8% in February. For females in the same age group, it stood at 5.3%, above the overall rate of 5.1%.

The March figure is the highest since October 2025, when the unemployment rate touched 5.2%. It had previously recorded 5.6% in both May and June 2025.

Rahul Singh, associate professor at OP Jindal Global University, said the 5.1% unemployment rate appears to reflect short-term labour market adjustments, including seasonal variations and evolving sectoral demand.

"External uncertainties, including developments in West Asia, may have had some indirect impact on sentiment and activity," he added. Singh expects ongoing improvements in investment, infrastructure, and workforce participation to support steady employment generation in the coming months.

The Labour Force Participation Rate (LFPR), the percentage of the population in the labour force, declined to 55.4% in March from 55.9% in February. Rural LFPR fell to 58% from 58.7%, while urban LFPR remained almost stable at 50.3% (down slightly from 50.4%). Female LFPR dropped to 34.4% from 35.3%, while male LFPR edged down to 77.4% from 77.5%.

The Worker Population Ratio (WPR), which measures the share of employed people in the population, declined to 52.6% in March from 53.2% in February.

Rural WPR fell to 55.5% from 56.3%, with male WPR at 75% (down from 75.4%) and female WPR at 37.3% (down from 38.4%).
