- Reiterates MTIL's Commitment To Environment
- Gives Fillip To Company's Security Products
- Provides Competitive Edge & Enhanced Customer Confidence

Mumbai, 22nd June, 2012

Micro Technologies India Ltd., a leading global developer and marketer of security devices, today announced that it has received the prestigious ISO: 14001:2004 Certification for its excellence in business pertaining to Environmental Management which would enhance customer confidence in its large range of Security products and services.

The company was awarded the ISO 14001:2004 Certificate for the design, development, production, installation and support of its software solutions and products.

ISO 14001 2004 is an environmental management standard. It defines a set of requirements for environmental management systems. The purpose of this standard is to help organizations to protect the environment, to prevent pollution, and to improve their environmental performance. ISO 14001 has rapidly become the most important environmental standard in the world. Thousands of organizations use it, environmentalists support it, and governments actively encourage its use. It applies to all types of organizations. It doesn't matter what size they are or what they do.

ISO 14001 is a standards related to environmental management that exists to help organizations (a) minimize how their operations, processes etc. negatively affect the environment (i.e. cause adverse changes to air, water, or land); (b) comply with applicable laws, regulations, and other environmentally oriented requirements, and (c) continually improve in the above.

Emphasizing on the importance of the certificate, Mr. Karthik, Chief Operating Officer Micro Technologies India Ltd., said, "The company receiving the prestigious ISO 14001:2004 Certification is a step in the right direction. It underscores the importance that Micro Technologies places on environmental-friendly business processes. The certificate provides assurance on environmental issues to external stakeholders such as customers, community at large and regulatory bodies. We believe that this recognition will go a long way in strengthening Micro Technologies' position as the leader in manufacturing and marketing of security devices in the country."
