Subject: Clarification on news item titled "Uno Minda launches advanced trumpet horn range for aftermarket" published on 09 March 2026 in Economic Times Auto ("ET Auto")

Dear Sir/Madam,

This is with reference to your communication seeking clarification regarding the news item published on 09 March 2026 on the ET Auto website titled "Uno Minda launches advanced trumpet horn range for aftermarket" and the movement in the price of the equity shares of the Company.

In this regard, we would like to submit the following clarification:

1. The product as mentioned in the news article is not a new product. The Company is already in trumpet horn business for more than a decade. The product is within the same basket of product category which the Company already deals in.
2. As the Company not only sells to OEMs but also in aftermarket, as such, advertisement and promotion of products in aftermarket is carried out. It is from the said promotion that the ET Auto has picked up and published.
3. Electronic horns and similar products are already widely available in the aftermarket, and several industry participants and competitors are currently offering comparable products. Accordingly, the promotion does not represent a new technological development or a unique market introduction.
4. The Company confirms that there are no negotiations, arrangements, or agreements related to the above product that would require disclosure under Regulation 30 of the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015. The product update forms part of the Company's normal course of business.
5. It may be further noted that the expected revenue for the product advertised is insignificant in terms of materiality.
6. There is no unpublished price sensitive information or any material event that has not been disclosed to the Stock Exchanges which could explain the movement in the trading price of the Company's shares on 09 March 2026.

J. R. Vasudevan

7. There are no regulatory or legal proceedings relating to the above matter that would require disclosure.
8. As the product referred to in the news article represents a routine product promotion activity in aftermarket within the existing portfolio and does not constitute a material event, as such, it does not fall under the ambit of disclosure under Regulation 30 of the SEBI (LODR) Regulations, 2015.

The Company remains committed to complying with all applicable disclosure requirements under the SEBI (LODR) Regulations, 2015 and will promptly inform the Stock Exchanges of any material developments as and when required.

Kindly take the above clarification on record.

Thanking you.

Yours faithfully,

For Uno Minda Limited
