MindTree Extends Strategic Partnership with Getronics for Remote Infrastructure Management, Telecom and Application Support Services

Partnership to expand the portfolio of services and joint global delivery to clients

Bangalore, INDIA, June 30, 2011: MindTree Limited, a global IT and Product Engineering Services company, today announced an expansion of the strategic partnership with Getronics in the area of Remote IT Infrastructure Management, Telecom and Application Support Services. Getronics, part of the €13.4 billion KPN group, is a leading ICT service-provider in the world with a market leading position in Benelux.

"This strategic partnership between MindTree and Getronics has proven itself over the last 7 years on two key objectives – cost reduction and improved quality of service and now expands to include a joint go to market agreement. This partnership will provide our clients with an extended services portfolio to choose from. " said Steven van Schilfgaarde, acting CEO of Getronics.

"The engagement with Getronics is significant as it is a testimony of MindTree's ability to take up large-scale engagements and be measured on stringent SLA based deliverables for managing critical IT infrastructure" said Parthasarathy N.S., President and Head of Infrastructure Management Services and Independent Testing at MindTree Limited.

This engagement has already ramped up to 450 engineers delivering high quality 24x7 services from MindTree's delivery centers in Bangalore and Chennai. Getronics confirms it has realized significant cost reduction coupled with improvement in SLAs through this engagement. Both companies expect significant engagements in the future.

"We want to provide our clients the benefits of offshore expertise through a strategic partnership. MindTree was chosen as a strategic partner for its technology expertise, proven track record of delivery, highly talented people, cultural fit and top management commitment" said Steven van Schilfgaarde.
