Lenders to Appu Hotels Approve Promoter's Offer

In rare instance under IBC, lenders set to receive amount higher than their claims

Mumbai: Lenders of Appu Hotels, which operates the five-star Le Meridien hotels in Chennai and Coimbatore and a resort, have unanimously approved a settlement offer from the promoter, although the matter is under dispute at the Supreme Court, said two people aware of the development.

Lenders approved the ₹592 crore offer from promoter Periasamy Palani Gounder early this month under Section 12A of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC). Under this section, the promoter is given a chance to make an offer, and the tribunals can permit withdrawal from the IBC process if 90% of the lenders approve the offer.

Of the ₹592 crore, secured lenders would receive ₹366 crore and unsecured lenders would get ₹226 crore, the people

On February 17, the appellate tribunal set aside the NCLT-approved resolution plan of Rajagopalan and directed lenders to reconsider the settlement offer from the promoter. Rajagopalan then moved the Supreme Court. After hearing the matter, the court on March 16 reserved its order.

In its interim response, the company's resolution professional, Radhakrishnan Dharmarajan, said: "The overall corporate insolvency and resolution process at this stage is still subject to Supreme Court order, and hence the matter is still subject to the SC's decision."

The SC has allowed the process to continue but the outcome on the plan would be subject to its order.

Civil Courts Can Take Up Counter Case of Borrower against Lenders: Apex Court

Press Trust of India

New Delhi: A civil court is not barred from entertaining a counter-suit by a borrower against a lending bank or financial institution which is pursuing a separate recovery proceedings against him before a debt recovery tribunal (DRT) under a special law, the Supreme Court held on Thursday.

The top court was dealing with the vexed legal question whether a borrower can file recovery proceedings by a lending bank or financial institution which is pursuing a separate recovery proceedings against him before a debt recovery tribunal (DRT) under a special law, the Supreme Court held on Thursday.

"There is no provision in the RDB Act by which the remedy of a civil suit by a borrower against a claim by the bank is ousted," a bench of Justices Sanjay Kishan Kaul, Abhay S Oka and Vikram Nath said.

"Since there is no such power with the civil court, there is no question of transfer of the suit whether by consent or otherwise to the DRT," it held.

"We are thus of the view that there is no provision in the RDB Act by which the remedy of a civil suit by a defendant in a claim by the bank is ousted, but it is the matter of choice of that defendant. Such a defendant may file a counterclaim, or may be desirous of availing of the more strenuous procedure established under the Code, and that is a choice which he takes with the consequences thereof," it said.

The bench said it, however, has a word of caution keeping in mind the nature of powers exercised by the DRT and the objective of its creation.

"We certainly would not like that the process envisaged under the RDB Act be impeded in any manner by filing of a separate suit if a defendant chooses to do so. A claim petition before the DRT has to proceed in a particular manner and would so proceed. There can be no question of stay of those proceedings by way of a civil proceeding instituted by a defendant before the civil court..." it said.

It said that the DRT has been set up under the special RDB Act for expeditious disposal of the banks' claim before it and it should not be impeded by filing a civil suit.

"Thus, it is not open to a defendant, who may have taken recourse to the civil court, to seek a stay on the decision of the DRT awaiting the verdict of his suit before the civil court as it is a matter of his choice," it said.

The top court then held that its two judgements in "Indian Bank and Nahar Industrial Enterprises are affirmed except to the extent that they allow the transfer of a suit from the Civil Court to the DRT."

The judgement came on a plea of Bank of Rajasthan against a borrower who had moved a civil court against the lending bank.

SC BENCH SAID...

There is no provision in the RDB Act by which the remedy of a civil suit by a defendant in a claim by the bank is ousted otherwise to the DRT," it held. "We are thus of the view that there is no provision in the RDB Act by which the remedy of a civil suit by a defendant in a claim by the bank is ousted, but it is the matter of choice of that defendant. Such a defendant may file a counterclaim, or may be desirous of availing of the more strenuous procedure established under the Code, and that is a choice which he takes with the consequences thereof," it said.

The bench said it, however, has a word of caution keeping in mind the nature of powers exercised by the DRT and the objective of its creation.

"We certainly would not like that the process envisaged under the RDB Act be impeded in any manner by filing of a separate suit if a defendant chooses to do so. A claim petition before the DRT has to proceed in a particular manner and would so proceed. There can be no question of stay of those proceedings by way of a civil proceeding instituted by a defendant before the civil court..." it said.
