AT LEAST 10 FLYERS INJURED A320 loses about 300 ft during descent

Air India Phuket-Delhi Flight Hits Severe Turbulence

Our Bureau

New Delhi: An Air India Airbus A320 operating from Phuket to Delhi encountered severe turbulence during its descent on Tuesday, leaving at least 10 passengers and a cabin crew member injured.

According to a Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) official, the aircraft experienced a sudden bout of turbulence, briefly losing about 300 feet in altitude shortly before landing at Delhi's Indira Gandhi International Airport. According to a PTI report, the DGCA is probing the incident. The plane's flight data recorder and cockpit voice recorder have been secured for a detailed examination.

Civil aviation minister K. J. Somaiya visiting one of the injured passengers in hospital PTI

"A small number of passengers and crew members with minor injuries requiring medical assessment have been taken to a medical facility at the airport for precautionary examination and care by Air India's airport team and medical personnel," the airline said in a statement.

Indian media reports, citing airline and aviation sources, said that the pilots regained control after the turbulence and completed the flight safely to the national capital.

The aircraft landed safely at the Delhi airport, where medical personnel were on standby. According to some reports, at least 12 people, including passengers and cabin crew, sustained injuries, although other outlets put the number of people receiving medical attention at 14.

The injuries were reported to be minor, but several people were taken to hospital for further evaluation.

1.48b Promotional Calls Blocked in Apr-Jun: Trai

New Delhi: About 1.48 billion promotional calls were blocked out of 13.16 billion originating from the designated 140-series, while 7.30 billion promotional SMS were blocked out of 248.06 billion sent by registered telemarketers after verification against consumers' registered do not disturb (DND) preferences, the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (Trai) said, sharing data for the April-June 2026 quarter.

Users can register their preferences through Trai's DND app. It offers the option to choose the kinds of promotional communications they wish to receive or stop all promotional communications. Trai has designated the 140-series for promotional calls to ensure such communications originate from a dedicated source, enabling users to identify and manage them. —Our Bureau

IndiGo's Strongest Days are Ahead: Walsh

Our Bureau

New Delhi: Willie Walsh, who took charge as chief executive officer of IndiGo on Monday, told employees that the airline's greatest opportunities are still ahead and that it should become the carrier of choice.

Walsh takes over following the resignation of former CEO Pieter Elbers after a December operational meltdown, which tarnished IndiGo's reputation for punctuality as cancellations stranded tens of thousands of passengers and drew regulatory warnings over operational mismanagement.

Addressing employees on his first day, Walsh said the airline is recognised across the global aviation industry not just for its size but also for its consistency, operational excellence and the trust it has earned from customers. "What you have built at IndiGo is admired throughout our industry around the world," he said.

Walsh—who has previously led Aer Lingus and British Airways as well as the global airline group—said building a successful airline is among the hardest things to do in business. "In the last 10 years alone, 408 airlines have failed. So what you have achieved is absolutely remarkable," he said, adding that success in aviation is earned through discipline, teamwork and consistency, without shortcuts. Flagg supply chain constraints, evolving airspace challenges and changing global conditions as headwinds, Walsh said these do not alter IndiGo's direction.
