'India Inc may See More Staff Saying Bye this Year'

Average attrition rate may rise to 19% in 2022 against 12.1% last year; inability to change jobs during pandemic a key reason. Finds survey

Saumya Bhattacharya & Sneha Dha

New Delhi | Bengaluru: More employees will leave their jobs this year than last year when India Inc faced the worst attrition rate in some sectors. The attrition rate is likely to intensify in 2023 as the job market opens across most sectors. The overall average attrition rate is projected at 19% compared to the 2022 attrition rate of 12.1%, shows data from 100-plus companies across 10 sectors in the latest salary survey by human resources consulting firm Orman Consultants. The data, shared exclusively with ET, shows banking and financial services, e-commerce, IT, ITES, pharma and healthcare will see attrition rates around 10-15%.

Job-hoppers who have not had the opportunity to leave since last year, in part because of pandemic-driven uncertainty, say compensation experts.

Also, sectors like IT, ITES and startups have been losing talent with huge compensation hikes, leading to high attrition. Incentive expectations among the workforce, which, if not met, may lead to talent flight. The reasons for the spike in attrition are manifold — the unprecedented high demand for hot skills in technology, risk, assurance and areas such as ESG (environmental, social and governance) due to the economic recovery post the second wave, heightened the war for talent and in many cases people making more discerning choices about the type of culture in an organisation and the opportunities they have to do meaningful and fulfilling work," said Shikha, partner and head, people performance and culture at KP&G in India. As per the survey, the projected salary increase on average is likely to be about 6.2%, which is pre-Covid levels. A host of other salary increase surveys have also projected a lower salary increase of 5-8% this year. However, this may not be sufficient in retaining critical talent. The past trend in attrition, salary increase and job growth has been that all the three go hand in hand. A crisis, followed by over-compensation over a couple of years, and eventually normalising into a steady state," said Anil Koul, director, HR consulting at Orman Consultants. With talent taking flight and attrition expected to intensify, companies are gearing up.

Retailers Overcome Slow Start, to Grow in Double Digits in FY24

Office and school reopenings boost biz; but sales may be below than in Q3

Sagar Malviya & Writankar Mukherjee

Mumbai | Kolkata: Listed retailers across apparel, lifestyle products, restaurants, and supermarkets are reporting double-digit revenue growth year-on-year for the March quarter despite a slow start due to the Omicron wave, with reopening of offices and schools, and wedding driving demand. While their revenues in the quarter could still be lower than the sequential December quarter when festive demands and discount offers boosted their sales, most retailers expect their sales to pick up further in the new fiscal. "Target segment's disposable income is higher than what it was two years ago, which is driving consumption to go up," Shoppers Stop managing director Venu Nath told analysts recently. "The number of wedding events is starting to go up. School and offices are opening, which will require a wardrobe refresh. Consumption of beauty and kids' clothes will be back. So, the next six months will be recovery," he added. JCICI Securities expects apparel brands and retail companies such as Trent, Aditya Birla Fashion and Retail, V-Mart, Shoppers Stop and TVS Clothing Company to post more than 20% year-on-year revenue growth in the March quarter, backed by healthy store additions. The uniqueness of the third wave of Covid-19 in December

Strong Signs

January was hit due to Omicron with revenue recovery at 60% of pre-Covid. February improved with 80-85% recovery. March saw an even higher surge. Apparel brands and retail cos could gain from healthy store additions. Sales in March grew 28% over a year ago.

E-vehicles can Generate ₹3 L cr Biz by FY26: Crisil

Our Bureau

Mumbai: India could be a market of over three million electric vehicles (EVs) by FY26, primarily led by two-wheelers, generating a business opportunity of ₹3 lakh crore over the next five years for the entire value chain including automakers, lenders, insurers and mobility service providers, according to a report from Crisil Research. About 10-15% of the estimated 10 million two-wheelers sold in FY26 in India could be electric, according to the Crisil study. Similarly, the penetration in the car segment is expected to be around 1-2%, or 2-3% for three-wheelers and 4-6% for buses. Consequently, EVs could account for over three million out of the estimated 30-35 million vehicles sold in India in FY26, as per the report. "Considering the improving cost of EVs, the focus on electrification of vehicles, and the government's focus on EVs, we should not be surprised if EV penetration reaches three to five per cent by FY26," said Himanshu Thakkar, director, Crisil. As per the analysis, the cumulative business generated by automakers between FY23 and FY26 would be ₹1.5 lakh crore. Meanwhile, banks and institutions financing vehicle purchases will have potential to disburse loans to the tune of ₹80,000 crore. Insurers and shared mobility service companies will have ₹50,000 crore business opportunity.

ESG-COMPLIANT PROJECTS GET FUNDING

PE Funds Step up Responsible Investments in Indian Realty

This has also put pressure on developers to adopt sustainable construction practices

Sobia Khan @timesgroup.com

Bengaluru: A number of global as well as domestic private equity funds are directing their investments towards real estate projects in India that are ESG-compliant, social and governance compliant as the pandemic has accelerated demand for responsible investing. Over the last 12 months, funds such as Blackstone Capital, Indefinix, Brookfield, Mott MacDonald and Ask Fund Advisors have stepped up investments in ESG-compliant projects in India. This has also put pressure on developers to adopt sustainable construction practices.

compliant will be critical, and as per our commitment to the environment but also to enhance the value of Indian real estate on global platforms. Indian development companies will need to pay serious attention to ESG compliance in the future to attract global capital and secure their long-term growth. These funds are also making high-level investments into every stage of the property lifecycle, from due diligence to acquisition, from leasing to asset management. Some funds are also raising green loans to fund future projects across real estate assets. US-based private equity firm Blackstone is working with partner companies to help them achieve their sustainability goals by applying ESG insights into the investment cycle too. "We are committed to integrating ESG into all our investment processes and expect the pandemic to speed up our global philosophy," said Jon Crisp, global president and COO at Blackstone.
