CONCESSIONAL-DUTY IMPORTS OF 20K UK-BUILT CARS IN 1ST YEAR

DGFT notifies OEM norms for UK car imports under FTA

AKBAR MERCHANT
Mumbai, July 10

THE DIRECTORATE GENERAL of Foreign Trade (DGFT) has operationalised the automotive import provisions under the India-UK Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA), enabling imports of up to 20,000 UK-built internal combustion engine (ICE) passenger vehicles at concessional customs duty in the first year through a tariff rate quota (TRQ) mechanism.

OPERATIONALISING IMPORTS

- Only OEM, or dealers and channel partners authorised by UK vehicle manufacturers, will be eligible to apply for quota
- Applicants will have to submit a pre-purchase agreement issued by the OEM specifying the proposed import quantity
- The allocation mechanism will depend on overall demand

- If demand exceeds the notified limit, allocations will be made on a pro-rata basis
- The annual quota for conventional-engine passenger cars will gradually increase to 37,000 units by the fifth year

The public notice completes the operational framework for implementing the market access commitments under the trade agreement by prescribing the annual quota, eligibility conditions, quota allocation methodology, customs documentation and utilisation norms for importers seeking the lower tariff. The move is expected to facilitate imports of premium and luxury vehicles from the UK while ensuring that the concessional duty regime remains tightly regulated.

The allocation mechanism will depend on overall demand. If applications remain within the annual quota, importers will receive the quantity sought. However, if demand exceeds the notified limit, allocations will be made on a pro-rata basis according to the quantities specified in the pre-purchase agreements. DGFT will issue TRQ certificates electronically and monitor cumulative utilisation, with fresh authorisations ceasing once the annual quota is exhausted.

To improve utilisation, the notification provides that importers failing to use a significant portion of their allotted quota during a TRQ year may face lower allocations in the following year. The Directorate has also retained the flexibility to review the allocation methodology after two years based on utilisation trends.

TRQ authorisations will remain valid for 12 months from the date of issue or until the end of the relevant calendar year, whichever is earlier. India will allow concessional-duty imports of 20,000 UK-built passenger cars in the first year, comprising 10,000 vehicles with petrol engines above 3,000 cc or diesel engines above 2,500 cc, 5,000 vehicles with petrol engines between 1,500 cc and 3,000 cc (or diesel engines up to 2,500 cc), and another 5,000 vehicles with engines up to 1,500 cc. Under CETA, the annual quota for conventional-engine passenger cars will gradually increase to 37,000 units by the fifth year, while customs duty will eventually decline to 10%.

June e-bus registrations up 28.5%

NITIN KUMAR
New Delhi, July 10

ELECTRIC BUS REGISTRATIONS in the country rose 28.5% year-on-year to 731 units in June from 569 units in the corresponding month last year, as government-backed procurement gathered momentum, according to the Vahan registration data.

GATHERING MOMENTUM

The data showed that electric buses accounted for 1.6% of the 15,751 buses registered during the month, up from a 1.4% share of the 14,292 buses registered in June 2025, signalling a gradual increase in electrification of the bus segment.

PMI Electro emerged as the market leader in the electric bus segment in June, registering 176 buses to capture around 24% of total registrations. PMI Electro's registrations more than tripled from 57 units in June last year. Switch Mobility followed closely with 175 registrations, up from 126 units a year earlier, while JBM Auto slipped to fourth position with 118 registrations, down from 163 units in June 2025, when it was the market leader.

GreenTech registered 127 buses during the month, while Volvo Eicher Commercial Vehicles and Tata Motors were distant contenders with 42 and 20 registrations, respectively.

The rise in registrations comes as deliveries under the Centre's PM E-Drive and PM E-Bus Sewa schemes have begun gathering pace after the award of large procurement contracts over the past year. Together, the two schemes aim to deploy over 24,000 electric buses across cities, with tenders for around 20,000 buses already awarded. The remaining procurement for nearly 3,600 buses is currently under bidding.

The June registration figures reflect the early execution of these orders, with buses beginning to enter service across state transport undertakings. Around 1,500 electric buses have been deployed since January across Delhi, Assam, Maharashtra, Gujarat and Odisha, while the country's largest-ever tender for 10,900 electric buses, awarded in December 2025, is now entering the delivery phase. Industry executives expect monthly registrations to accelerate as manufacturers ramp up supplies against the growing order book.

"The pace of electric bus penetration was relatively gradual in the initial phase, largely reflecting the time required to complete tendering and procurement processes. With tenders now concluded for approximately 80% of the e-buses under the two central government schemes, we expect deployment across public fleets to accelerate in the coming months," said Amit Bhatt, managing director India, International Council on Clean Transportation (ICCT).

FCNR(B) deposits: Oil reserve push FM to meet banks cleared $1.6-bn plan

EXPERTS BELIEVE THE FCNR(B) scheme could bring in $50-60 billion, with a significant portion expected through leveraged loans. The window for mobilising deposits remains open until September 30.

overseas operations to source deposits. "No bank would want to remain outside the scheme. It is an opportunity that everyone would like to cash in on in some way," the official said.

THE FACILITIES ARE operated by Indian State Petroleum Reserves, a special purpose vehicle under the Oil Industry Development Board. The existing Mangaluru reserve has a capacity of 1.5 MT. Mangalore Refinery and Petrochemicals, an ONGC subsidiary, has leased half of the existing Mangaluru facility, while the remaining capacity is leased to Abu Dhabi National Oil Company.

India. According to petroleum ministry data cited by S&P Global, India's SIPRs currently provide coverage of about 9.5 days of net oil imports, while state-run oil companies hold crude and petroleum product storage equivalent to 64.5 days of net imports, taking total national storage capacity to about 74 days. International Energy Agency member countries are required to maintain oil stocks equivalent to at least 90 days of net imports.

"Between August and September, when significant amounts should come in. Most of the preparatory work is now behind us," the official said, adding that there are no plans at present to extend the scheme beyond September 30. According to another official, the mobilisation drive is expected to be led by State Bank of India, Bank of Baroda, Canara Bank, Punjab National Bank, and to some extent, Bank of India because of their overseas presence and large NRI customer base.

Although all banks are allowed to mop up FCNR(B) deposits, those without an extensive international network would need to team up with larger lenders that have India's strategic reserves of crude oil, liquefied petroleum gas and natural gas, and recommend measures to expand storage capacity in view of rising geopolitical risks. The government has also directed oil marketing companies to maintain at least 30 days' worth of LPG stocks to strengthen energy security.

Separately, the ministry of petroleum and natural gas has constituted a task force to assess India's strategic reserves of crude oil, liquefied petroleum gas and natural gas, and recommend measures to expand storage capacity in view of rising geopolitical risks. The government has also directed oil marketing companies to maintain at least 30 days' worth of LPG stocks to strengthen energy security.
