SUB: - HPCL to take 8% Stake in Petronet LNG Terminal

Dear Sir,

This is in reference to your e-mail regarding the news item appeared in "Financial Chronicle" dated 12th November, 2014. In this regard we wish to state/clarify as under:-

PLL is working on setting up an LNG Terminal at Gangavaram. Various internal studies and approvals are being pursued by the Company. As a part of completing the commercial structure of the project, PLL has been in discussion with potential LNG suppliers, Pipeline operators, consumers and various other agencies.

HPCL is one of the Companies with whom PLL has been holding discussions. The proposed project site is very near to the existing refinery of HPCL at Vishakhapatnam and therefore, can act as an anchor customer for this project. A Small equity participation in the project by HPCL is also under discussion. However, discussions with HPCL have not reached any conclusive stage and are preliminary in nature.

We will inform the Stock Exchange as and when any definitive agreement takes place in regard to the aforesaid project with HPCL. The Company intimates all price sensitive information to Stock Exchange as and when required. There is no information which is pending to be submitted to Stock Exchanges.

We trust you will find the same in order.

Thanking you.

Yours faithfully,

(K. C. Sharma)

Company Secretary
