ED seeks cancellation of Vadra's anticipatory bail in money laundering case

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, May 24

THE ED ON Friday moved the Delhi High Court seeking cancellation of anticipatory bail granted to Robert Vadra in a money laundering case, claiming that he was non-cooperative and evasive during the probe and may tamper with the evidence.

It sought quashing of the trial court's April 1 order by which Vadra was granted anticipatory bail, saying the special judge failed to consider the settled position of law that bail should not be "granted in a routine manner".

Filed through ED prosecutor DP Singh, the plea said the protection granted to Vadra — brother-in-law of Congress president Rahul Gandhi — would be detrimental to investigation in the case on certain crucial aspects, including ascertaining the exact source of the alleged tainted money and the end use of the funds involved in the case. The Enforcement Directorate's plea is likely to be listed for hearing on Monday.

Besides Vadra, the agency has also challenged the anticipatory bail granted to Manoj Arora, an employee of Vadra's Skylight Hospitality and a co-accused in the case. Vadra is facing allegations of money laundering in purchase of a London-based property at 12, Bryanston Square worth 1.9 million pounds. The ED had alleged that Arora, a close aide of Vadra, was aware of his overseas undeclared assets and was instrumental in arranging funds.

Vadra and Arora's separate pleas seeking quashing of the money laundering case are also pending before the high court.

In the plea, the agency contended that if Vadra is granted a blanket protection of bail, there is a likelihood that he may tamper with the evidence and the witnesses in the case and the trial court has failed to appreciate that he is a highly influential person. It said Vadra is "non-cooperative" and "evasive" and he was given several opportunities to come out clean about his alleged role in the case but he remained evasive.

On the contrary, Vadra has "maliciously" claimed to be a victim of political vendetta and made all possible attempts to sensationalise the case, it added.

The ED said the other important aspects of the investigation are to unearth the entire source of credits for purchasing the properties and ascertaining all similar transactions in the accounts of the concerned enti-

TIHCL, Microsoft join hands to help MSMEs in Telangana

BV MAHALAKSHMI
Hyderabad, May 24

THE TELANGANA INDUSTRIAL Health Clinic (TIHCL) launched i-Health, a cloud-based platform, to facilitate micro and small enterprises in the state. This is a first-of-its-kind initiative in the country as TIHCL has partnered with Microsoft to build a platform aimed at facilitating the needs, challenges and efforts of the manufacturing MSMEs within the gamut of industry ecosystem comprising entrepreneurs, industries department, ministry/government, banks, financial institutions and other stake holders.

Established in 2017 as a fintech-driven non-banking finance company, TIHCL is an industry initiative to diagnose and cure stressed and incipient MSEs in the manufacturing sector. "We are currently working on reviving units in leather sector in Amoor, Coonur and Warangal clusters and the handloom sector in Siricilla and Pochampalli," Dr Yerram Raju, advisor to the department of industries, government of Telangana, said.

Since its inception, TIHCL has revived 41 enterprises through manual operations. While 20 of them required financial support, the rest of them were revived through counselling, mentoring and liaising with banks.

The clinic offers a portfolio of solutions and services, modelled on a participatory equity stakeholding pattern across government of India, state government, banks, financial institutions, entrepreneurs and other investors.

ties, linked to this case and which have been a result of the alleged money laundering.

It said they also require to confront Vadra with voluminous incriminating material for bringing the investigation to a logical conclusion. Recently, Vadra has approached a trial court seeking permission to travel abroad and his plea is pending. The trial court, while granting anticipatory bail to Vadra, had directed him not to leave the country without prior permission and also to join the investigation as and when called by the investigating officer.

It had observed that Vadra's office premises were searched on December 7 and 8, 2018 and voluminous documents running into nearly 20,000 pages were seized.

The ED had opposed Vadra's application, saying he was "needed to be dealt with custodial interrogation and that there was a risk of tampering with the investigation".

Vadra had earlier alleged in the trial court that he was being subjected to "unwarranted, unjustified and malicious criminal prosecution which on the face of it is completely politically motivated and is being carried out for reasons other than those prescribed under law".

According to ED, it lodged the money laundering case against Arora after his role came up during the probe of another case by the Income Tax Department under the newly enacted Black Money Act and tax law against absconding arms dealer Sanjay Bhandari. It alleged that

Jagan puts up brave face to bring fiscal discipline in AP

BV MAHALAKSHMI
Hyderabad, May 24

YS JAGAN MOHAN Reddy, the CM designate of Andhra Pradesh, has a huge mandate for the state as the coffers are nearly empty.

The state continues to experience financial stress which includes non-release of funds by the Centre, interest payments and increased borrowings. He also needs to address the problems of farm distress, rising unemployment and shrinking water resources in the state. However, his proximity to the Centre may help him manage resources to a certain extent. Reddy had a sweeping victory in Andhra Pradesh decimating his arch rival N Chandrababu Naidu of Telugu Desam Party (TDP).

The AP finance department officials, who did not wished to be quoted, estimate that it would need an additional budget of ₹56,000 crore to fulfill the poll promises made by Jagan Mohan Reddy. The Yuva Jana Sramika Rythu Congress Party (YSRCP) manifesto had promised 'Rythu Bharosa', an investment support of ₹12,500 per annum, along with free crop insurance and interest-free loans. However, while land-owning farmers can avail sops close to ₹1 lakh per annum, tenant farmers would get only ₹12,500 each year as financial assistance. The YSRCP had also assured that godowns, cold storages and food processing plants would be set up.

Jagan, who is going to be sworn in as AP chief minister in Vijayawada on May 30, said: "This is a new chapter in the annals of Andhra Pradesh which has scripted history by recording a stupendous victory sweeping the polls by winning 85% of the assembly seats and a record number of parliament seats and I reiterate that I will live up to expectations."

Rewriting the grammar of Andhra Pradesh politics and setting out a narrative of peoples' agenda, Reddy said that his task would be to implement the assurances and balance welfare with development, and results would be tangible in the first year itself.

"Jagan Mohan Reddy will

have to walk a tightrope. He has to bring in fiscal discipline and fulfill his Navaratnalu, or nine major promises, that include a promise to offer financial assistance of ₹50,000 to farmers; fee reimbursements for students; government bearing medical treatment costs above ₹1,000; ₹2,000 pension to senior citizens; interest free loans to self-help groups; and 25 lakh houses for poor people," analysts said.

To recall, the bifurcation burden was ₹97,163 crore on the state. During the last five years, the debt burden was ₹95,564 crore or ₹19,111 crore per annum. The Centre released ₹4,000 crore in installments during the last five years.

The party manifesto claims that most of its schemes would be women-centric. Besides ₹15,000 per annum under 'Amma Vodi' to enable women to send their children to schools, the YSRCP also promised ₹50,000 per annum for women under the Development of Women and Children in Rural Areas (DW CRA) programme under the 'YSRAasara' scheme. Besides, a financial assistance of ₹75,000 for BC, SC, ST and minority women over the age of 45 has also been promised by Jagan under the 'YSR Cheyutha' scheme, while the party has promised that the houses that are sanctioned under the YSR Housing scheme would be registered under the name of women in the household.

YS Jagan Mohan Reddy had done a walkathon of about 3,648 km padayatra in 14 months, moving with the people and interacting with all sections.
