Pracharak Pranab: spoken...

"I am convinced that nationalism can only come out of the ideological fusion of Hindu, Muslims, Sikhs and other groups in India."

He had a message for the nation and the RSS: "We must free our public discourse from all kinds of fear and violence."

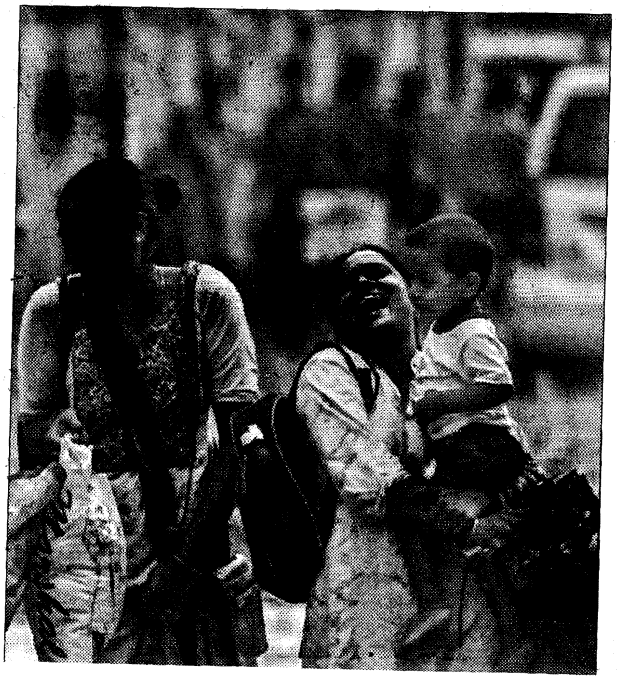

Before the former president spoke, Bhagwat said the debate over Mukherjee's decision to attend the RSS event was "meaningless" and no one is an outsider for his organisation.

Speaking ahead of Mukherjee's speech, Bhagwat said Mukherjee will remain what he is and the Sangh will remain the Sangh, even after the event.

Bhagwat also said his organisation wants to unify the entire society and no one was an outsider. People may have different views but they are all children of mother India, he said.

Mukherjee's decision to preside over the RSS event has already triggered a major political slugfest with several Congress leaders criticising his decision.

Senior Congress leader Ahmed Patel expressed his disapproval in a tweet and said he did not expect this from him.
