L&T Wins Orders Valued ₹2030 Crores

Mumbai, September 29, 2014: L&T's Metallurgical and Material Handling (MMH) business has secured new orders worth ₹2030 crores in the steel, port and bulk material handling sectors in the second quarter of FY 14-15.

L&T's scope includes construction and balance of plant of a coke oven battery as well as large capacity conveying system including yard machines at major ports. The contract also includes a coal handling plant at the mine heads of the Northern coal fields and the Mahanadi coal fields.

The orders are clear signs of the change in the investment climate in both Metallurgical and Bulk Material Handling Sectors where L&T continues to maintain its leadership position. The capabilities of MMH to provide technology, engineering, manufacturing and construction services coupled with the commissioning and demonstration of performance of all critical units of steel plants as well as material handling plants give it the unique status of a complete solution provider in the industry.
