Dear Sir,

Sub: Glenmark Generics Inc., USA has filed a lawsuit in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware.

This is to inform you that Glenmark Generics Inc., USA the subsidiary of Glenmark Generics Limited announces that it has filed a lawsuit in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware against Astellas Pharma Europe B.V., Astellas International, Triax Pharmaceuticals, LLC, Precision Dermatology, Inc., Onset Dermatologics, LLC, and Metacon Labs. The lawsuit seeks to enforce Glenmark's exclusive royalty-bearing license agreement with Triax Pharmaceuticals, Astellas Pharma Europe BV and Astellas Pharma International BV. Under that agreement, Glenmark is entitled to 180 days of exclusivity with respect to its Hydrocortisone Butyrate Cream, as it is the first generic company to file an abbreviated new drug application (ANDA) for the product.

Earlier this week Glenmark filed this lawsuit after learning that Metacon Labs has launched a generic equivalent of Locoid Lipocream®. Glenmark is seeking, among other things, a temporary restraining order enjoining the sale, manufacturing or marketing of generic equivalents of Locoid Lipocream® by any of the defendants in violation of Glenmark's exclusivity period.

Glenmark recently announced the United States Food and Drug Administration (U.S. FDA) approved its ANDA for Hydrocortisone Butyrate Cream USP, 0.1%, a generic version of Locoid Lipocream®. Hydrocortisone Butyrate Cream is indicated for the Relief of the inflammatory and pruritic manifestations of corticosteroid-responsive dermatoses in adults and the treatment of mild to moderate atopic dermatitis in patients 3 months to 18 years of age. According to IMS Health sales data for the 12 month period ending June 2013, Hydrocortisone Butyrate Cream garnered annual sales of approximately USD 34 million.

Thanking you,

Yours faithfully,
For Glenmark Pharmaceuticals Ltd.
