4. We have examined the Scheme of Amalgamation, the activities, financials etc. of the respective Companies, the proposed Swap Ratio of Equity Shares and the underlying justifications, the detailed Opinion on Fair Share Entitlement Ratio by Chartered Accountant, the methods of valuation, the parameters considered, additions and exclusions, the rationale and justification etc. and the evaluation methodology adopted.
5. The Scheme of Amalgamation pursuant to section 391/394 of the Companies Act, 1956 read with Sections 100-103 of the said Act as well as the provisions under Section 55 and other applicable provisions of the Companies Act 2013 do not envisage any changes in the Capital Structure of JBCHEM, the Transferee Company. Once approved, the Scheme will result in cancellation of the Equity shares held by "Promoter Group Holding Companies" (the above 6 Companies) and allotment of equivalent number of Equity Shares to the Equity Shareholders of the unlisted promoter group holding companies listed above. There will neither be any change in the total paid up equity Share capital of JBCHEM nor of the aggregate holding of its Promoters/promoter group.
6. We have also examined the Opinion on Fair Share Entitlement Ratio from N.A. Shah Associates, Chartered Accountants, the independent valuer who has opined on the fair share entitlement ratio.

Based on the detailed examination by us as stated above, We, Fedex Securities Limited, a Category I Merchant Banker, registered with Securities and Exchange Board of India, hereby certify that

- (a) The evaluation methodology adopted in valuing the respective Promoter Holding Companies at the Market Value of their holdings in JBCHEM is fair and adequate. The fair Value of JBCHEM is arrived at as the highest quoted price of JBCHEM at The BSE Ltd (BSE) on April 01, 2014, being the appointed date of merger. The same Market Value of JBCHEM is considered uniformly across all the Promoter Holding Companies to arrive at the exchange ratio which is fair. The valuer has considered only the Market Value of the Equity Shares of JBCHEM. This is also found adequate as the Scheme does not envisage any additional issue of Equity Shares by JBCHEM nor any reduction and as such the fair value of JBCHEM for the limited purpose of arriving at the exchange ratio is in fact neutral. There is no change in Promoter Group holding or of the public and as such does not affect the interest of minority Shareholders.
- (b) For determining the value of shares, only the holding of Equity Shares of JBCHEM in the respective Promoter Holding Companies has been considered. The Promoter Holding Companies are essentially holding Equity Shares of JBCHEM and do not have any other significant assets. The only exception noticed/worthwhile assets other than Equity Shares of JBCHEM are cash and bank balances aggregating to Rs. 3.59 Lacs and liquid investments in money market instruments aggregating to Rs. 450.85 Lacs. These assets have been ignored.
- (c) The valuer has justified ignoring these assets for arriving at the valuation as the same will be offset by the current liabilities of the Promoter Holding Companies and expenses in connection with the implementation of the Scheme. We agree with this approach, especially in the context of the present Scheme and also for the fact that the same favours the interest of the minority Shareholders. Even though we feel that the value of these assets net of liabilities including possible surpluses after meeting expenses relating to the amalgamation will be positive, the intention to ignore the same is acceptable especially since the same is in favor of the minority Shareholders. Had these assets or any part thereof been considered for the purpose of valuation, allotment to the promoters of the Promoter Holding Companies would have been slightly higher which would have had the effect of diluting the holding of the Public/minority Shareholders.

The methodology adopted in valuing the shares of the respective Promoter Holding Companies are found to fairly state the relative values of each of the Equity Shares of the respective Promoter Holding Companies rather than the absolute values of each of the Promoter Holding Companies. This is also found fair and adequate since absolute values will not reflect the true present value especially since the assets of the Promoter Holding Companies are mostly, if not entirely, Equity Shares of JBCHEM.

- (d) The Scheme is value neutral to the Shareholders including the promoter group Shareholders of JBCHEM. The valuation of each of the Promoter Holding Companies and consequently their Equity Shares is done following the same methodology and principles, which in our opinion is fair. The value of the Transferee Company is made under Market Value method, based on the quoted price at the Stock Exchange where the Equity Shares are most actively traded. As regards Promoter Holding Companies, the value based on their holding in the Transferee Company is also done at the Market Value and the same is applied across all the Promoter Holding Companies.
- (e) Based on the evaluation of the Promoter Holding Companies and Transferee Company, as stated above, the ratio of Equity Shares of Transferee Company which is to be allotted to the Equity Shareholders of the Promoter Holding Companies have been arrived at. Accordingly,
- i. Shareholders of JMPL are proposed to be allotted 746.6242 fully paid up Equity Shares of Face Value Rs. 2/- each of the Transferee Company for every 1 (one) Equity Share of Face Value Rs. 10/- each, held in JMPL
 - ii. Shareholders of AMPL are proposed to be allotted 723.4882 fully paid up Equity Shares of Face Value Rs. 2/- each of the Transferee Company for every 1 (one) Equity Share of Face Value Rs. 10/- each held in AMPL
 - iii. Shareholders of DMPL are proposed to be allotted 705.5326 fully paid up Equity Shares of Face Value Rs. 2/- each of the Transferee Company for every 1 (one) Equity Share of Face Value Rs. 10/- each held in DMPL
 - iv. Shareholders of KMPL are proposed to be allotted 718.1232 fully paid up Equity Shares of Face Value Rs. 2/- each of the Transferee Company for every 1 (one) Equity Share of Face Value Rs. 10/- each held in KMPL,
 - v. Shareholders of SMPL are proposed to be allotted 637.1318 fully paid up Equity Shares of Face Value Rs. 2/- each of the Transferee Company for every 1 (one) Equity Share of Face Value Rs. 10/- each held in SMPL and
 - vi. Shareholders of BMPL are proposed to be allotted 787.3987 fully paid up Equity Shares of Face Value Rs. 2/- each of the Transferee Company for every 1 (one) Equity Share of Face Value Rs. 10/- each held in BMPL.

Based on the above exchange ratio, the aggregate number of Equity Shares of Transferee Company, proposed to be allotted to Equity Shareholders of each of the Promoter Holding Companies are equal to the number of Shares held in the Transferee Company by the respective Promoter Holding Companies.

Considering the above we certify that

The proposal envisaged in the Scheme of Amalgamation to issue and allot fully paid up Equity Shares of Rs.2/- each of J.B. Chemicals & Pharmaceuticals Limited, the Transferee Company to the Equity shareholders of Promoter Holding Companies as stated under sub clauses (i) to (vi) of para (e) above is fair and justified

We also find that the exchange ratio shall not affect the interest of minority Shareholders of J.B Chemicals & Pharmaceuticals Limited, the Transferee Company in which the public are substantially interested, consequent to the Amalgamation.

The listing requirements of the Stock Exchanges shall be complied with and continued listing requirements shall be ensured.

Any fractional entitlement arising out of issue and allotment of the Equity Shares of the Transferee Company to the shareholders of the Promoter Holding Companies shall be rounded off to the nearest integer.
