OptiValue Tek and SFJ Business Solutions partner to transform Fortune 500 enterprises

Trending / By ET Edge Insights / March 5, 2026

Ashish Kumar, Founder & Managing Director, OptiValue Tek Consulting

OptiValue Tek, a global IT services company, has announced a strategic alliance with SFJ Business Solutions, a global technology and skilling leader, to deliver large-scale enterprise transformation programs for Fortune 500 organizations worldwide. The partnership brings together SFJ's strategic advisory and ecosystem orchestration expertise with OptiValue Tek's global engineering, IT, and execution capabilities to help enterprises modernize legacy systems, strengthen digital operating models, and accelerate innovation.

Through this partnership, OptiValue Tek and SFJ Business Solutions will jointly design, implement, and manage large-scale transformation initiatives that help organizations modernize legacy infrastructure, adopt AI-led operating models, and unlock new growth opportunities. The alliance focuses on enabling enterprises to transition from traditional digital transformation to intelligent, adaptive enterprises capable of responding faster to evolving business and market demands.

and self-optimizing. These frameworks enable autonomous workflows, intelligent orchestration across IT and business systems, predictive decision-making powered by advanced analytics, and enhanced human-AI collaboration to improve business agility and operational performance.

Ashish Kumar, Managing Director of OptiValue Tek, said, “This partnership represents a strong convergence of strategic vision and global execution capabilities. Together with SFJ Business Solutions, we aim to help Fortune 500 enterprises operationalize AI at scale, modernize their core systems, and create intelligent, future-ready businesses. Our focus is on delivering measurable impact and enabling sustainable enterprise growth.”

This collaboration will also leverage Global Capability Centers (GCCs), advanced engineering centers, and AI-driven automation frameworks to deliver integrated transformation programs. By combining strategy, technology, talent, and execution into a unified model, OptiValue Tek and SFJ Business Solutions will help enterprises reduce transformation risk, accelerate time-to-value, and build resilient digital operating models for long-term growth.

Sarthi, SFJ Business Solutions, added, “By combining our advisory leadership with OptiValue Tek’s global delivery strength, we are building a powerful transformation platform for Fortune 500 organizations. This alliance enables us to deliver intelligent, resilient, and autonomous enterprise ecosystems that will redefine how global businesses operate.”

With enterprises increasingly prioritizing AI adoption, operational resilience, and digital modernization, OptiValue Tek and SFJ Business Solutions aim to position themselves as trusted transformation partners for Fortune 500 organizations, delivering large-scale, future-ready enterprise transformation programs worldwide.
