Bridge Tribute

RAJKOT MAYOR Nehal C Shukla on Saturday announced that the General Body of the Rajkot Municipal Corporation (RMC) decided to name the iconic cable stayed bridge, coming up on Katariya chowkdi, after the late Vijay Rupani, who had served as CM of Gujarat, MLA from Rajkot West and as Mayor of RMC during his long political career. Rupani was among the 241 killed in the crash of London-bound Air India flight AI 171 on June 12, 2025. Katariya Chowkdi is the intersection of the Ring Road 2 (RR-2) and State Highway 23 (SH-23). It is being developed into a three-layered junction with an underpass and an overhead "iconic" cable-stayed bridge that will be constructed at a cost of Rs 167.24 crore and is expected to benefit nearly two lakh people using these routes daily. The 744-metre-long, six-lane iconic flyover will have a 160-metre centre portion in the cable-stayed design.

Vibrant Gujarat: Ministers to tour globe for Summit promotion

Parimal A Dabhi
Ahmedabad, October 18

DEPUTY CHIEF Minister Harsh Sanghavi late on Saturday embarked on a week-long tour of Japan and South Korea to promote the upcoming Vibrant Gujarat Global Summit (VGGS) 2027 scheduled to be held in January next year.

The deputy CM was accompanied by a delegation of senior officials of the state government, including Additional Chief Secretary (Industries & Mines) Mamta Verma and Industries Commissioner P Swaroop. Sanghavi is scheduled to conclude his visit on October 25.

Also, a delegation led by Minister for Forest, Environment and Climate Change and Science and Technology Arjun Modhwadia was scheduled to leave for Singapore and South Korea on Sunday night.

Both the delegations — led by Sanghavi and Modhwadia — are expected to converge in Seoul.

Even as Sanghavi is likely to visit Osaka, Kobe and Tokyo in Japan and Daegu and Seoul in South Korea, other delegations headed by senior ministers are expected to go to Malaysia, Vietnam, Indonesia, Australia, New Zealand, Denmark, Finland, Sweden, Oman, Qatar, UAE, Singapore, Russia, Poland, France, Germany, the Netherlands, Kenya, Tanzania and Mozambique by December to promote the VGGS 2027.

The forest minister's visit to Singapore and South Korea is likely to focus on sectors like shipping, semiconductor, electronics, information technology, artificial intelligence, and data centre.

According to government sources, Kanubhai Desai (Finance and Urban Development), Jitu Vaghani (Agriculture) and Rushikesh Patel (Energy and Petrochemicals) are among the ministers who will lead the delegations.

Meanwhile, several delegations of the state government are likely to carry out promotional events in eight Indian cities — Jaipur, Chennai, Bhubaneswar, Hyderabad, Lucknow, Bengaluru, Kolkata and Guwahati. These events are likely to be led by ministers Kunvarji Bavaliya, Manisha Vakil, Jayram Gamit, Pradyuman Vaja, Kanubhai Desai and Naresh Patel.

Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel went to the United States and Canada in August to promote the VGGS 2027. In September, he led a roadshow in Mumbai.

MORE THAN A WEEK LATER, NO TRACE OF 10-YEAR-OLD WHO FELL INTO AN OPEN DRAIN IN AHMEDABAD

‘Bring my daughter back, dead or alive’

Sewer depth and heavy flow of hazardous industrial waste pose challenge, say rescue officials

Ritu Sharma
Ahmedabad, October 18

UNDER A flyover on the Ahmedabad-Dholka Road in the city, a family desperately waits for any news of their daughter, who has been missing for several days after she allegedly fell into an open drain. All that the parents can do is get their hopes up every time fire and sanitation personnel go inside the drain in search of 10-year-old Manisha Salat.

However, the rescue personnel have not had much luck. Manisha, who is said to be suffering from vision impairment, has remained untraceable since October 10. Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation (AMC) has stationed a fire truck at the site. Its personnel go down the sewer to look for Manisha wearing safety gear. A kilometre away, a team of municipal staff scans a pit of chemical sludge.

For the last seven days, Paruben Salat, her husband Bhabhai and their two sons aged five and seven years have been camping under the bridge, watching the drill of the rescue teams. The family lives in a shanty a kilometre away.

"Give me my daughter back, dead or alive," cries Paruben, a daily wage worker. Her family had gotten off an autorickshaw after returning from a chore when Manisha started walking away even as her mother was busy settling the fare. "Ma, I am falling", Paru remembers her daughter screaming as she disappeared into the 40 feet deep pit.

"Even if it is just bones, find her," she says repeatedly, adding how her sons too "cannot see after dark". Manisha was suspected to be suffering from night blindness, like her brothers.

"We removed the grass that

had grown over the drain opening camouflaging it. We tried to find our daughter through pipes and sticks but could see nothing as it was full of sludge and water. I appealed to my family to let me go inside and search for her, but they stopped me saying there were poisonous chemicals and gas inside. They said let the rescue teams arrive," Paruben says.

According to Paruben, the incident happened around 3 pm; an Ahmedabad Fire and Emergency Services team arrived around 4 pm. Since then, round-the-clock search operations have yielded no trace of the child. After directions of AMC Standing Committee Chairman Kamlesh Patel to use CCTV and borewell cameras along the nearly one-km stretch till a pumping station and the Sabarmati bank, where the sewer pipeline drains, the rescue teams carried out a search till Thursday night.

While fire department teams continue their search through the underground drainage network using cameras, heavy desilting machines have been deployed to clear the passage for the search teams. An ongoing road construction work has complicated the rescue with loose earth leading to the silting of the lines.

"Necessary instructions have been passed on to the relevant departments to ensure that there is no delay in the search for the girl," Patel said.

The challenge is the depth of the sewer and the heavy flow of hazardous industrial waste that emits poisonous gases like methane.

The site is close to the Naroda and Narol industrial cluster and the city's waste dumping site of Pirana.

"We've been working in eight-hour shifts round-the-clock since October 10, but couldn't trace her. Teams have conducted searches with the help of CCTV cameras at the manhole-end, as well as those at the Sabarmati Riverbank-end and the pumping station. The main trunk line, which is around 20 km long, receives sludge water from Naroda and the city's North, South, and East zones. Due to heavy water flow in the daytime, search operations are not easy. So, our search operation is aggressive at night," Pritesh Gadhi, Station Fire Officer of Jamalpur Fire Station who is supervising the search operations, told The Indian Express on Friday.

The search teams are sent into the drainage with the SCABA (self-contained breathing apparatus), oxygen cylinders and masks, he says.

AMC engineers say the toxic chemical effluent mixing into the municipal sewage stream poses health and safety risks.
