Norms eased for highway contractors

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, April 2

THE GOVERNMENT ON Thursday announced a set of relief measures for highway contractors to offset the impact of rising costs of fuel, construction materials, and associated logistics. These measures include compressing the payment schedule and enabling more frequent revisions in input costs, which determine the extent of payout.

considered one month prior to the relevant Interim Payment Certificate (IPC) month, instead of three months earlier.

These measures will be applicable for three months till June-end, according to a statement by the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways.

Similarly, for bitumen, the official retail price as on the first day of the month — one month prior to the IPC month — will be used for price adjustment, replacing the earlier three-month reference period.

As part of the initiative, provisions under Engineering Procurement Construction (EPC) and Hybrid Annuity Mode (HAM) projects have been relaxed to allow monthly payments to contractors and concessionaires for work executed.

Additionally, price adjustment payments under EPC contracts will be released along with monthly payments. In HAM projects, price escalation calculated using the Price Index Multiple (PIM) may also be released on a monthly basis, thereby improving liquidity and cash flow for contractors and concessionaires involved in the construction and maintenance of National Highway projects.

Further, the mechanism for price adjustment under EPC contracts has been revised to better reflect prevailing market conditions. The Wholesale Price Index (WPI) for key components such as construction machinery, ordinary portland cement, mild steel, and other commodities will now be con-

Re surges on RBI crackdown

IN A SEPARATE move to curb speculation, the Clearing Corporation of India (CCIL) imposed a 25% volatility margin on dollar-rupee forward trades with immediate effect. The additional margin is expected to increase overall margin requirements, and the clearing house has asked members to keep their margin accounts adequately funded.

“Global shocks hit offshore NDF markets harder than onshore due to heavier speculation. The RBI’s new rules curb this, providing them better control over the exchange rate. It also enhances the effectiveness of reserve interventions—in recent weeks, despite heavy reserve drawdowns, the impact had been minimal,” said Dhairaj Nim, FX strategist & economist at ANZ Bank.

These RBI measures, while effective in stabilising the rupee amid West Asia tensions, come at a cost. These somewhat contradict the regulator’s push to internationalise the rupee. But given that the tough times and traditional measures have not been working well, they had little choice but to act, said market participants.

A coming-of-age moment for Indian art

KISHORE SINGH FEELS this is a validation that Indian art comes with inherent strengths and “buyers are now more than willing to turn their interest into a form of cultural custodianship that is important for a developed nation’s identity”.

But what about global interest, especially as Indian art valuations are nowhere near global standards? Vazirani explained that the Indian art market is still nascent, only about 20-25 years old, but said all indicators are in the right direction for it to take off. Sonal Singh of Christie’s mirrored the optimism, saying that the current interest from collectors of Indian origin is only natural, and will shift gradually to a wider base. Anand of DAG said sales such as Yashoda and Krishna signal the transition of Indian art from a regional market into one that is increasingly aligned with global valuation frameworks. “The dominance of Indian buyers today reflects the strength of domestic wealth and conviction, not the absence of global interest. In fact, much of the growth in the Indian art market over the past decade has been driven by Indian capital entering the category—mirroring patterns we have seen in China. At the same time, international institutions and collectors are increasingly engaging with Indian art, and global auction houses are consistently achieving strong results for Indian artists,” he said. He added that what we are witnessing is the foundation stage: a strong domestic collector base establishing price confidence. “Historically, that is the precursor to sustained international participation. As benchmarks rise and scholarship deepens, global capital inevitably follows. So, rather than a limitation, this is a sign of market maturity — India is beginning to define the value of its own cultural assets.”

trading and offshoring, which have risen despite expectations of a decline. The unwinding of arbitrage trades pushed forward premium rates higher, with the premium rising 71 basis points to 3.66% on Thursday—the highest since 2022. Traders expect further gains in the rupee, projecting a near-term range of 92.50–93.50. However, sustaining the appreciation may prove challenging amid ongoing geopolitical uncertainties.

Manufacturing PMI slumps to 4-year low

MEANWHILE, INPUT COSTS rose sharply across a broad range of items, including aluminium, chemicals and fuels. For now, firms appear to be absorbing much of the increase, keeping output prices relatively contained.”

Employment continued to expand, with job creation reaching its strongest rate in seven months. Manufacturers also increased input purchases to build contingency stocks and support production, though the overall growth eased to a three-month low while remaining historically strong. Pre-production inventories rose at a sharp pace (above the long-run average), though the rate of accumulation slowed to a 40-month low.

Compiled by S&P Global from responses of around 400 manufacturers, the seasonally adjusted PMI tracks changes in new orders, output, employment, supplier delivery times, and stocks of purchases. A reading above 50 signals expansion, while below 50 indicates deterioration.

Finished goods inventories, meanwhile, saw a marginal decline as firms drew down stocks to fulfil orders. Supplier delivery times improved, reflecting comfortable capacity among vendors, though the vast majority of respondents (92%) reported no change from the previous month. Outstanding business volumes fell for the first time in close to a year-and-a-half, aided by additional hiring and the softer rise in new orders.

“The two largest sub-components of the PMI, new orders and output, rose at the slowest rates since mid-2022. Anecdotal evidence showed that growth was curbed by challenging market conditions, cost pressures and the war in West Asia,” the report said. It stated that the March data showed input prices increased to the greatest extent in over three-and-a-half years. “Aluminium, chemicals, fuel, jute, leather, fabric, oil, rubber and steel were some of the items reported to be up in price.”

On the trade front, external sales registered the strongest expansion since last September, with gains reported from clients in Australia, Brazil, Canada, mainland China, Europe, Japan, West Asia, Turkey and Vietnam. Manufacturers also grew more optimistic about the year-ahead outlook for production.

Despite this, manufacturers limited increases in factory gate charges to the slowest pace in two years, as many firms absorbed higher costs to retain existing customers and attract new ones.
