From Minto Road to Ramlila Maidan, INDIA bloc leaders take to streets

ABHINAV KUMAR JHA
New Delhi

A long procession of political leaders and party workers moved out from the Minto Road-Connaught Place junction on Sunday, flags and banners rising above the crowd as an open vehicle carrying some of the country's most prominent Opposition figures made its way towards Ramlila Maidan. Rahul Gandhi, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, Akhilesh Yadav and Mamata Banerjee were among those travelling with other INDIA bloc leaders, while supporters walked alongside the vehicle, turning the stretch towards the rally venue into a moving procession.

The march, organised under the banner of 'Vote Bachao, Desh Bachao', was the most visible part of the Opposition alliance's mobilisation against Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar. But the gathering had begun taking shape across the capital several hours before the leaders arrived at Minto Road. At Ramlila Maidan, supporters of different Opposition parties had started assembling early in the morning. Congress workers gathered outside Himachal Bhawan before proceeding towards the venue, while Samajwadi Party supporters assembled outside Akhilesh Yadav's residence. Groups affiliated with Left parties also arrived in the Capital, with student organisations joining the mobilisation.

Supporters were not limited to party workers from Delhi. Several groups had travelled from neighbouring States and other parts of the country. Supporters of the INDIA bloc gathered carrying party flags, banners and placards, while groups of students and representatives of different organisations made their way towards the rally venue.

At the centre of the preparations was Ramlila Maidan, where a large tricolour canopy had been erected above the main stage. A separate stage was arranged for representatives of the alliance's State units. White canopy tents, temporary platforms and designated enclosures occupied portions of the grounds, with barricades installed to regulate the movement of people.

Cut-outs of Rahul Gandhi, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra and Mallikarjun Kharge were also put up outside the venue. The rally arrangements included separate entry points and enclosures for different categories of attendees.

As the morning progressed, the focus shifted towards the Minto Road-Connaught Place junction, where the alliance's senior leaders were scheduled to assemble for the march. The leaders had first gathered at Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge's residence. From there, they travelled towards Minto Road in open vehicles. The procession included Rahul Gandhi, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, Kharge, Akhilesh Yadav, Mamata Banerjee, Abhishek Banerjee, Farooq Abdullah, Mehbooba Mufti, Tejashwi Yadav and several other Opposition leaders.

The open vehicle became one of the defining visual features of the procession. Leaders stood alongside one another as the vehicle moved slowly through the route, acknowledging supporters gathered along the way.

The crowd accompanying them carried flags representing different parties in the INDIA bloc. Congress flags appeared alongside those of regional parties, while banners and placards bearing messages against the Election Commission and demanding the CEC's resignation were visible among the supporters. The procession moved from the Minto Road-Connaught Place junction towards Ramlila Maidan, taking the route through the central Delhi road network.

One particularly striking visual emerged near Minto Bridge, where supporters marched along the road as a train passed overhead. The procession moved beneath the railway bridge, with the city's everyday transport infrastructure forming the backdrop to the political mobilisation.

The Indian Youth Congress also brought an unusual element to the procession. Its workers displayed long voter lists, which they alleged contained names of eligible voters deleted during the Special Intensive Revision exercise. The lists stretched for a considerable distance along the route, with the organisation claiming that voters from minority, OBC and Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe communities had been affected. The lists added another visual element to a procession otherwise dominated by party flags, banners and photographs of political leaders.

Security arrangements were visible across the central parts of the city. Police personnel were deployed around Connaught Place, Minto Road, Jantar Mantar and the approaches to Ramlila Maidan. Barricades had been installed at several locations, while additional forces were stationed along important stretches of the route.

Delhi Police had made extensive arrangements ahead of the event. Reports put the deployment across central and New Delhi districts at nearly 10,000 police and paramilitary personnel, although the deployment around Ramlila Maidan was separately reported at more than 4,000 personnel. Surveillance arrangements included CCTV cameras and drone monitoring. Traffic restrictions and diversions were also put in place around the rally venue and adjoining roads.

At Ramlila Maidan, the gathering continued to grow as the procession approached. Supporters carrying placards raised slogans against the Special Intensive Revision exercise and demanded Kumar's resignation. Party workers and student groups occupied different sections of the venue, while the main stage remained the focal point for the senior alliance leadership. By around 1.30 pm, the crowd at the ground had swelled, with supporters of different INDIA bloc constituents continuing to arrive.

The march and the rally presented two distinct visual settings. On the roads, the procession was defined by the open vehicle carrying senior leaders, supporters walking alongside and a succession of flags and banners. Inside Ramlila Maidan, the arrangement was more structured, with designated enclosures, stages and canopies accommodating the gathering.

The procession also brought together leaders who rarely appear in the same frame outside major Opposition programmes. Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi Vadra stood alongside Akhilesh Yadav, Mamata Banerjee, Farooq Abdullah and leaders of several Left parties as the open vehicle moved towards the venue.

BJP holds march to commemorate 1984 Anti-Sikh violence

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi

To counter India Bloc's rally at Ramlila ground, the BJP held a march in West Delhi to remember those killed in the 1984 anti-Sikh riots, with the party accusing the Congress of holding its rally on the anniversary of the violence.

The protest march led by Union Cabinet minister Hardeep Singh Puri, Chief Minister Rekha Gupta, Delhi BJP president Harsh Malhotra and several others, began from the Sikh-dominated Hari Nagar area and concluded at Tilak Nagar metro station. Hundreds of BJP workers carrying the Tricolour and party flags marched through the Sikh-dominated areas, holding placards blaming the Congress for the 1984 violence. BJP leaders demanded an apology from the Congress for holding its rally on a day that they said was marked by an escalation in violence against Sikhs following the assassination of then Prime Minister Indira Gandhi.

Union Minister "Sardar Hardeep Singh Puri" said that he remembered being posted in Geneva 42 years ago, while his parents lived in Delhi's GDA Colony. When the violence began, some of his Hindu friends came forward and safely escorted his parents to a secure location in their car. He said that 2,733 people were killed in Delhi and subjected to horrific brutality.

According to nationwide figures, approximately 3,325 people were killed. These are official figures, which the Sikh community has always considered an incomplete record. He said that the incident is often described using the word "riot". However, these were not riots.

Riots generally involve clashes between two groups, whereas in Delhi, 2,733 people were brutally killed in a one-sided wave of violence.

Govt plans 3.3-km Netaji Subhash Marg revamp to ease traffic

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi

Chief Minister Rekha Gupta on Sunday said the Delhi Government will revamp more than three kilometres long Netaji Subhash Marg to decongest the city, adding that it will act as a link between the national Capital's heritage and modern life.

The Indraprastha Virasat Punarvikas Nigam (IVPN) aims to transform the approximately 3.3-km stretch from Delhi Gate to Kashmere Gate into a more organised, attractive and safe corridor. Along with improving the road's appearance, the plan places special emphasis on connecting the historic monuments, parks and public spaces in the surrounding area.

"Government aims to develop the stretch not merely as a transport route, but as a vibrant link between Delhi's history, heritage, architecture, culture and modern urban life," she said.

Under the project, the area around Delhi Gate is proposed to receive special attention, with a "Heritage Interpretation Park" envisaged at the site. "The park will feature a statue, an attractive pavilion, green spaces, pedestrian access and parking facilities. Its design will give prominence to greenery, ornamental plants, trees and architectural elements reflecting the area's heritage," the CM said in a statement.

According to the plan, the proposed corridor will begin at Delhi Gate and extend up to Kashmere Gate. Based on the available road width, the beautification plan has been divided into three sections.

"The first section will extend from Kashmere Gate to GPO Chowk. This is the busiest part of the corridor, with a road width ranging from 12 to 24 metres. The second section will cover the stretch from GPO Chowk to Brij Mohan Chowk, the intersection leading towards Jama Masjid, and has an average width of 45 metres. The third section will extend from Brij Mohan Chowk to Delhi Gate intersection, with an average width ranging from 16.8 to 26 metres," the statement added.

The proposed facilities include footpaths, bus lanes, motor vehicle lanes, parking spaces, pedestrian plazas and cycle tracks. Modern public toilets will also be constructed on both sides of the road, while existing bus stops will be upgraded. These facilities will be developed in accordance with the design guidelines shared by the PWD for its existing streetscape project.

A key feature of the project is the integrated development of historic, cultural and public spaces located around Netaji Subhash Marg.

Traders claim 3 lakh shops shut amid protest; Rahul targets BJP

PIONEER NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi

War of words over the losses to Delhi traders between Leader of the Opposition Rahul Gandhi and the BJP is escalating further. After a round of allegations and counter-allegations from both sides, Rahul Gandhi again took a swipe at the BJP, accusing it of harming the financial interests of traders. He uploaded a short video in which he said the BJP had forcibly shut down all the shops, preventing people taking part in the protest from buying anything.

Meanwhile, traders' bodies claimed that 2.5 to 3 lakh shops in markets within a 5-kilometre radius of Ramlila Maidan remained shut on Sunday, raising concerns over festival season earnings getting hit badly due to traffic congestion in the busy central Delhi shopping district.

In a video from an open canter he was travelling in while heading to the Minto Road-Connaught Place junction, Rahul Gandhi said the INDIA bloc had appealed to those attending the opposition bloc's rally to do their shopping here, so that the shopkeepers could benefit.

"We told everyone that when you come here for the march and the mega rally, buy things, do some shopping. But, while coming to Connaught Place here, we found out that the BJP has forcibly shut down every single shop. So, you should know who is causing the loss to the traders, and how it's happening!" Rahul Gandhi said.

गेस्ट हाउस में महिला की गला घोंटकर हत्या

फरीदाबाद। बल्लभगढ़ में मथुरा रोड स्थित चावला कॉलोनी चौक के पास गेस्ट हाउस में शादीशुदा महिला की गला घोंटकर हत्या कर दी गई है। महिला शनिवार सुबह अपने प्रेमी के साथ गेस्ट हाउस के कमरा नंबर 201 में ठहरी थी। देर रात होटल कर्मचारी को महिला बेड पर बेसुध मिली, जबकि उसके साथ आया प्रेमी गायब था।

पुलिस ने शुरुआती जांच में गला घोंटकर हत्या किए जाने की आशंका जताई है। पुलिस के अनुसार, मृतका की पहचान बिहार के खड़गपुर निवासी चांदनी के रूप में हुई है। वह फिलहाल गदपुरी क्षेत्र में अपने बच्चों के साथ रहती थी और मजदूरी करती थी। सूचना मिलने पर बल्लभगढ़ सिटी थाना पुलिस और फॉरेंसिक टीम मौके पर पहुंची। उन्होंने घटनास्थल से साक्ष्य जुटाए। पुलिस महिला को बीके नागरिक अस्पताल लेकर गई। वहां डॉक्टरों ने उसे मृत घोषित कर दिया। महिला के गले पर कसने के निशान मिले हैं। फॉरेंसिक टीम ने जरूरी वैज्ञानिक साक्ष्य एकत्र किए हैं। संवाद
