➤ Praj renames Neela Systems as Praj HiPurity Systems

March 25, 2014: Praj Industries, global process solutions Company, announced that it has changed the name of its subsidiary Neela Systems as Praj HiPurity Systems Limited. Praj Industries had acquired majority stake in Mumbai headquartered Neela Systems in 2012. The change of identity is in line with the growth plan of Praj HiPurity to go beyond pure water solutions for Pharma Industry to end-to-end, integrated solutions for pharma, biotech and cosmetics industries and the enhanced shareholding of Praj in the subsidiary. Commenting on the new identity, Mr. Pramod Chaudhari, Executive Chairman, Praj Industries and Chairman, Praj HiPurity Systems said: "We realized that the new identity was imperative considering not only the increased participation of Praj but also the changed business direction. Praj HiPurity Systems, an ISO 9001:2008 certified company, offers US FDA and UK MHRA compliant systems for pharma and biotech industries.

As part of the integrated solutions, Praj HiPurity will also offer wastewater treatment systems and Zero Liquid Discharge Systems in association with Praj Industries Limited. Additionally, the Company is working towards increased international business. Recently the Company bagged big ticket order from an American Multinational Pharma company for supply of integrated systems for a state-of-the-art facility at Vizag, Andhra Pradesh and also another client in Central Asia. The efforts are underway to repeat the success overseas.

He added: "Under Praj HiPurity Systems we will be catering to manufacturers of steroids, DNA recombinants, Vaccines, Proteins, Anti Biotic Drugs, Enzymes, Bulk Drugs, Formulations, Nutraceuticals, Beverages, etc. We have nurtured highly skilled manpower including scientists, microbiologists, technologists, fermentation and implementation specialists to take Praj HiPurity Systems to the next level."

Over the past three years, Praj has steadily increased its shareholding in Praj HiPurity Systems to the current 70%. Praj HiPurity Systems has an impressive client profile with marquee customers from pharma, biotech and cosmetics industries. The parent brand "Praj" will help the company to grow its horizon further and increase its market reach. Praj Industries already has a global spread across 5 continents. Praj HiPurity will also benefit from the R & D efforts and the technology and process know-how. Praj HiPurity offers water treatment solutions & modular systems, and process engineering & design capability.
