Management commentary:

Commenting on the results, Dr. Manoj Kumar Jhawar, MD & CEO, PTC India Ltd., said

"Trades across different tenures have contributed to the growth of 24% in trading volume in Q2-FY 27. The short-term trades have contributed 65% of the volume and balance has been contributed by medium- & long-term contracts. The value adds in the form of energy market insights are provided to our consulting clients.

The cross-border power from Bhutan has shown a significant dip due to higher domestic requirement in Bhutan leading to decrease in trading income to that extent. Power demand is expected to remain robust, albeit with seasonal variations, supporting firm short-term power prices. With the introduction of market-oriented initiatives by CERC and policy initiatives of the Ministry of Power on BESS and suitable fiscal incentives, the price is expected to soften as storage capacity gets onstream. With our pan India reach and innovative products & services basket we expect to penetrate deeper into the opportunity space and maintain our leadership position."
