Maruti Suzuki begins export of Super Carry to South Africa, Tanzania

Super Carry India launch soon

New Delhi, May 27th, 2016: Maruti Suzuki leader in passenger vehicles is all set to start exports of its much awaited Light Commercial Vehicle “Super Carry” to South Africa and Tanzania.

The first lot of nearly 100 Super Carry Light Commercial Vehicles has been dispatched for shipment.

The shipment to South Africa and Tanzania is of the petrol variant of Super Carry.

The petrol variant for export market is powered by G12B engine.

Besides African markets the Company also plans to export the Super Carry to SAARC nations.

Based on the feedback, Maruti Suzuki will explore export opportunities for Super Carry in other international markets.

The India launch for Super Carry is planned in the second quarter of the current fiscal. To begin with, it will be launched in select parts of the country. For the domestic market Super Carry will be powered by the E08 diesel engine.

The Company is setting up a separate retail channel in the Indian market, exclusively for the Super Carry.
