Wipro recognized as a Leader by Everest Group in Automation across Applications, Infrastructure and Business Process Services

East Brunswick, New Jersey, USA and Bangalore, India – September 4, 2017: Wipro Limited (NYSE: WIT, BSE: 507685, NSE: WIPRO), a leading global information technology, consulting and business process services company, today announced that it has been positioned as a Leader by Everest Group, a global independent consulting and research firm, in the PEAK Matrix™ Assessments for Automation in IT Application Dev-Test, IT Infrastructure Services Automation, and Business Process Service Delivery Automation (BPSDA).

These three PEAK Matrix™ assessments analyze leading global service providers on their Automation vision, capability and market success across parameters such as strategy, scale, investments, deployment footprint and value delivered. Wipro's focus on leveraging the Wipro HOLMES Artificial Intelligence Platform™ and its integrated automation solution covering all aspects of application services such as coding, requirements management, testing and project management have been recognized as strengths in the application dev-test space. The service provider's credibility in building an automation suite targeting workplace and cloud services is attributed to its strong experience in these areas. Everest Group has also acknowledged Wipro's proprietary and partnership-based offerings for business process service delivery automation as well as reference clients' praise of its automation expertise, implementation and integration skills, and flexibility to accommodate change requests.

Chirajeet Sengupta, Partner, Information Technology Services at Everest Group said, "The full potential of enterprise automation lies in end-to-end straight-through processing across infrastructure, applications, and business operations. Wipro has continuously invested in a wide portfolio of automation use cases across industry verticals, SDLC activities, and IT operations, and is able to deliver automation services across multiple models ranging from consulting to automation enriched managed services. Wipro's IP investments in the form of the Wipro HOLMES Artificial Intelligence Platform™ as well as an agnostic ecosystem has been instrumental in securing the position of Leader across Everest Group's IT Infrastructure Services, Application Dev-Test, and Business Process Services Delivery Automation PEAK Matrix™ Assessments."

Rohit Adlakha, Vice President and Global Head, Wipro HOLMES and Automation Ecosystem, Wipro Limited said, "The extensive use cases addressed by Wipro HOLMES enable faster time to market for application services, minimum human touch points in IT infrastructure operations and enhanced process efficiencies across key business processes through theme-driven AI and automation offerings. Everest Group's recognition of our leadership in Automation across applications, infrastructure and business process services is a testimony to the value we deliver for our clients globally through the automation ecosystem led by Wipro HOLMES."
