Wipro, First Book Bring New Books to Houston Area Kids in Need this Holiday Season

Partnership focused on promoting power of reading

Houston, USA, December 15, 2017: Five hundred brand new books are being donated to students at Blackshear Elementary School, Holeman Street, Houston, Texas, on December 15, 2017 as a result of a partnership between Wipro Limited (NYSE: WIT, BSE: 507685, NSE: WIPRO), a leading global information technology, consulting and business process services company, and First Book, a nonprofit social enterprise that has delivered more than 170 million books and educational resources to programs and schools with children in need.

The book donation event also involves a reading celebration with employee volunteers and students at Blackshear Elementary School. Wipro previously worked with First Book this year to donate 18,000 new books to the elementary, middle, and high schools in Texas impacted by Hurricane Harvey, as well as 500 books to Clifford M. Dunn Elementary School students in Houston. In 2015, Wipro also donated 6,250 books to students and conducted a reading event at Ashford Elementary School in Houston in 2015.

Launched in 1998, the First Book National Book Bank is the first and only centralized distribution system for large-scale children's book donations from publishers, to schools and programs serving kids in need. The National Book Bank distributes 10 million books annually. Since 2015, Wipro and First Book have partnered together to distribute over 138,000 books throughout the U.S. and Canada, with a goal of distributing over 200,000 books to children in need, as part of their three-year partnership.

"Wipro is privileged to be a part of the community of the Houston area," said Anurag Behar, Chief Sustainability Officer, Wipro Ltd. "This is part of our ongoing commitment to serve the communities in which our employees live and work."

Book ownership and a print-rich environment are leading indicators of a child's educational success, but for the 32 million children growing up in low-income families in the U.S. alone, books are scarce. A recent study found that in one low-income neighborhood, there was only one book for more than 800 children, whereas in moderate income neighborhoods, there are 13 books for every one child.^[1]

First Book, which has operations in both the U.S. and Canada, works with formal and informal educators serving children in need aged between 0-18 years in a wide range of settings – from schools, classrooms, summer school and parks and recreational programs, to health clinics, homeless shelters, faith-based programs, libraries, museums, summer food sites and more. The organization supports more than one in four of the 1.3 million classrooms and programs that are serving children in need in the U.S. alone.

"First Book is excited to help Wipro grow its relationship with the local community in Houston through the power of reading," said Kyle Zimmer, president and CEO of First Book.

Earlier this year, Wipro was recognized with the Elevate Texas Award by the Texas Economic Development Corporation for its contribution to Texas' economy through infrastructure and workforce development. Wipro's local footprint in Houston includes a development center in Eldridge Parkway, supporting clients in the oil and gas industry.
