Quicktouch Technologies
Limited's Strategic Investment in
Techquench Private Limited
Yields Strong Market Presence in Robotics and STEM Education

New Delhi, April 16, 2025 – Quicktouch Technologies Limited is pleased to announce the growing success of its wholly-owned subsidiary, Techquench Private Limited, which has rapidly made a name for itself in the field of robotics lab solutions and STEM education, specifically designed to align with the CBSE curriculum. This milestone further validates Quicktouch's strategic decision to invest in the future of innovation and technical education through Techquench.

Techquench, a pioneering force in STEM learning, develops customized education kits, AI modules, and embedded system solutions that meet the requirements of schools and institutions following the CBSE framework. The company has secured numerous assignments from leading educational institutions, helping students gain practical exposure to emerging technologies in robotics and automation.

The subsidiary's training and robotics lab initiatives have reached over 1,000+ sessions across North India along with some long term contract, making it one of the region's most prominent players in robotic and AI solutions. Techquench also offers training facility in North India in robotic and AI programming to engineering students, further setting it apart from conventional offerings.

Quicktouch's investment in Techquench has proven to be highly rewarding, complementing its broader mission to enable access to next-generation technology education. Techquench's facilities serve as platforms for students to explore, innovate, and build—providing a hands-on learning experience that aligns with national academic goals.

“Our strategic investment in Techquench reflects our belief in nurturing future-ready skills through technology-led education,” said by Gaurav Jindal, Managing Director of Quicktouch Technologies Limited. “Techquench's curriculum-aligned solutions and training programs are equipping students with critical thinking, coding, and automation skills—empowering India's next generation of engineers and innovators.”

As Techquench continues to expand its reach and impact, Quicktouch remains committed to supporting its mission to transform education through cutting-edge, practical, and curriculum-aligned learning environments
