Financial Performance

Q2FY27 Results – Standalone Financial Highlights

- Revenue growth of 7.5% year on year largely on account of more points added and better yield per point
- EBITDA margins dropped by 7.6% y-o-y on account of increase in minimum wages in many states, shortage of armed guards in few states and continued losses in RVL
- Company has obtained price revision with all its customers and the effect of it will be reflected in the current quarter.

- Lowest cash losses in the Industry continued in this Quarter
- RVL has steadily improved its performance and expect to breakeven in Q4FY27
- Acemoney has turned near EBITDA break-even on healthy revenue growth

Experienced management team

Business and Revenue Model

	Cash Pickup & Delivery	Network Cash Management	Cash Processing	Cash Van Operations	Others
Service Description	Pick up cash from end-user outlet on daily basis or on request and deposit the cash in client's bank account. Also selectively deliver cash to end-user outlets based on request from banks	Value added service in which cash is deposited in Radiant's bank account in locations where client does not have a bank branch and subsequently transfer funds electronically	At end-user request, cash is counted and verified at the time of pick-up (as against sealed bag pick-up) for an additional fee	Provide armored vans with full crew comprising driver, armed guards, cash custodian on short or long term lease mostly to banks for their own bulk handling of cash (between branches and vaults)	Includes Man Behind Counter (providing trained manpower at end user location for handling large volumes of cash in high footfall outlets), Vault operations where banks and others rent our vaults for storing of cash or valuables
Revenue Model	Fixed amount per point per month, based on the location of the outlet, and the daily cash limit.	Variable amount linked directly to the amount of cash deposited in Radiant's bank account	Fees directly linked to quantum of cash picked up	A fixed amount per van per month (or per day) with additional charges for excess usage of time and distance, if any.	MBC is billed as per headcount per month. Vault rent is billed based on quantum and value of storage, and its duration.
Growth Drivers	Growth in number of points, particularly beat pick up points which are serviced every working day	Growth of points in Tier 3+ locations, where bank branch presence is limited	Growth in volume of cash handled	Growth in currency in circulation, extent of currency replacement by RBI (culling out soiled notes and introducing fresh notes), branch expansion network of banks

Significantly built-up technology to optimize Operations

Technology acting as a key differentiator

- Allows efficient handling of operations in a high-fidelity business
- Technology solutions help clients to increase their focus on their core competence without a need to make significant investments in operational infrastructure
- Enhanced partner engagement and experience through digitization of processes and augmentation of technology platforms

API integration with few clients

- Created API integration with a few of clients' ERP software, with a view towards providing a seamless experience to client
- Allows the clients and the end-users to track real time data for cash management which are outsourced to the company
- Added benefit of being able to continue to service the client and may act as a barrier to the client to switch service providers in the future

Key initiatives undertaken by the Company

- Implementation of CPIN/OTP during cash collection adding one more level of security
- Client view application provides direct access to their points and pick ups and thereby providing real time data
- QR code Scan to record cash collected thereby avoiding any manual intervention while picking up cash and any possible errors

Mobile Applications

- Radmus App and Radiant Sandesh App for end-to-end reconciliation

CSR Initiatives

Nutrition, Education, and Sanitation are the key focus areas

CSR Projects

Ashraya Project

About
One of the flagship initiatives of RCMS. The project aims to provide free noon meals every day to the elderly and destitute. The project is running since 2011. RCMS is also associated with Chennai Roti Bank.

Progress
Mid-day meals provided to 1,258 elderly destitute in 32 villages in Chennai.

Projects undertaken in the past

Reciprocity Foundation: Contributed to the foundation for the Beach Cleaning project in Chennai.

Project Shiksha: Interest-free education loan to deserving students of Ashraya Project villages. More than 450 students benefited.

Radiant Sambandh: Provided support to the next of kin of physical casualties of the Armed Forces.
