RIICO EASES RULES FOR MULTI-STOREY NON-INDUSTRIAL PLOTS, EXPANDS LEVY PAYMENT TO 8 INSTALMENTS

RIICO has provided in its rules for construction of more than the permissible built-up area on plots, by depositing a betterment levy, for construction of multi-storey buildings on non-industrial plots. This enables the builder to carry out construction on the plot as per the rules, as appropriate, and to make maximum use of the plot. In order to encourage maximum construction in multi-storey non-industrial buildings and to ensure better financial management during the construction work, RIICO has simplified the rules relating to payment of the payable betterment levy. Under the amended arrangement, for plots on which multi-storey buildings are proposed, the amount of betterment levy payable can now be deposited in eight instalments within the prescribed time period. Earlier, the provision was for depositing it in five instalments.

Under RIICO's new amendment, before the building map approval for non-industrial multi-storey buildings is issued, 1 percent of the betterment levy amount as the first instalment, along with 100 percent of the applicable GST, must be deposited. Thereafter, the remaining betterment levy amount can be deposited in six half-yearly instalments. The six instalments will be of 15 percent each, and the final instalment will be of 9 percent.
