Remsons Announces Strategic Technical License Agreement with AUSUS Automotive Systems do Brasil LTDA, Brazil for Technology Transfer to Support Local OEMs in Brazil

[Mumbai, 27th June 2025] – Remsons, a leading provider of advanced engineering solutions and manufacturer of automotive components, is pleased to announce a Strategic Technical License Agreement with AUSUS Automotive Systems do Brasil LTDA, incorporated in Brazil, a prominent player in the technology and manufacturing sector. This partnership aims to facilitate the transfer of technology into Brazil, empowering local Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs) with innovative solutions and enhanced capabilities.

Under this agreement, Remsons India will collaborate with ASUS Brazil to license proprietary technologies, enabling the development and manufacturing of high-quality products tailored to the local market. This initiative underscores Remsons India's commitment to fostering technological advancement and supporting the growth of the automotive and electronics industries in Brazil.

Key Highlights:

- Technology Transfer: Facilitating the transfer of advanced engineering and manufacturing technologies to ASUS Brazil.
- Support for Local OEMs: Enabling Brazilian OEMs to access innovative solutions, thereby enhancing their product offerings.
- Strategic Collaboration: Strengthening international partnerships to promote local industry development and technological self-sufficiency.
- Market Growth: Contributing to the growth of the Brazilian manufacturing sector and creating new opportunities for local employment.

Commenting on the Partnership, Rahul Kejriwal, Director of Remsons, said:

"We are excited to partner with ASUS Brazil to bring our technological expertise to the Brazilian market. This collaboration is a significant step towards supporting local OEMs and strengthening the industrial ecosystem in Brazil."
