Sub: Tie –Up with LIGHTNING SOURCE INC (The INGRAM Content Group Inc) to become a part of the Ingram Content Group's Global Connect program

Dear Sir,

We would like to inform you that Repro Knowledgecast Limited(RKCL) –100% subsidiary of Repro India Limited signed an agreement in Frankfurt on Friday October 16th, 2015, with the LIGHTNING SOURCE INC (The INGRAM Content Group Inc) to become a part of the Ingram Content Group's Global Connect program

The Global Connect Program expands the reach of a publisher's physical content to new markets through a network of select book manufacturing and distribution networks.

With this tie-up in place, RKCL's clients ie. Publishers will gain access to new sales channels without the worry of inventory in market, importation and customs issues, shipping and warehousing costs.

RKCL is a complete Gateway for its Publisher clients as a revenue earner and generator – as it creates new channels, provides new services and new products which enable publishers to reach larger numbers of students and readers. RKCL helps publishers grow their business by making available their content in the e-tail space in India and globally, through School channels in India and Africa and through Digital books.

With e-commerce changing the global scenario so rapidly, RKCL's Publisher clients need to reach their titles to readers all over the world. Sometimes, with just a single book directly to the reader. To meet this need, RKCL has built the One Book Factory with state of the art infrastructure. This infrastructure enables the fulfilment of orders with a very short turnaround time RKCL's content repository, stores books in digital form – and these are printed and fulfilled in the quantities and time required. Therefore RKCL acts as a vital bridge between the publisher - wherever he may be located - and the reader in India.

For the Ingram Content Group, the connection with RKCL will provide their publisher customers with a unique opportunity to access the Indian market. Print-on-demand allied to an in-market distribution network has the capability to transform both the import and export of books in India.

All books that are manufactured by printers in the Global Connect program adhere to the same quality control processes in place at Ingram facilities worldwide. Ingram maintains file integrity and security, as well as reporting and payment remittance. The new facility in India is the eighth Global Connect agreement for Ingram.

About Repro India Limited:

Repro India, as a Content Aggregator, bridges the miles between content owners (Publishers) and their end customer. Repro's clients who are publishers all over the world, own content which requires to be delivered to their customers – who are students or readers. These physical books or e-books need to be delivered on any media (book, computers, tablets or mobiles). Repro India bridges this requirement by producing and delivering the books in the required time, at the required price, anywhere in the world to students or readers.

Repro offers services which range from Content Designing to Digital Warehousing - from Content Adaptation to Multimedia Enhancements and from producing millions of books for students - to just One Book on Demand for the e-Commerce /e-tailers' customer. Repro has a presence through India, Africa, US and UK and has been partnering with publishers all over the world for over 2 decades, often pioneering unique solutions required in the Industry. www.reproindia ltd.com
