365squared launches AI-powered voice fraud protection solution, 365callguard

New solution helps operators protect subscribers from increasingly sophisticated voice scams and fraud.

MALTA, 3rd November 2026 – 365squared, a Route Mobile company within Proximus Global, has launched 365callguard, a new AI-powered voice fraud protection solution designed to help mobile and fixed-line operators and voice carriers detect and stop fraudulent calls before they reach subscribers.

Voice fraud is a fast-growing threat facing operators and carriers. As fraudsters increasingly leverage AI and social engineering techniques, operators face growing financial losses, regulatory scrutiny and damage to subscriber trust.

365callguard helps operators detect and mitigate seven major types of fraud through a single platform: vishing, CLI spoofing, Wangiri, IRSF, SIM box fraud, flash calls and robocalls. The solution combines dedicated AI models with rule-based detection to provide real-time analysis and clear visibility into fraud impact and revenue protection.

Tonio Ellul, Chief Executive Officer at 365squared, said: "Voice fraud is evolving rapidly and becoming more difficult to detect using traditional methods. Operators need solutions that not only identify suspicious activity but also stop fraud before it affects customers. 365callguard brings advanced AI-driven protection across multiple fraud vectors in a single platform, helping operators protect both revenues and subscriber trust."

365callguard integrates with existing operator infrastructure and can automatically trigger actions such as call blocking, caller ID modification or subscriber alerts, depending on operator policies and network capabilities.

Tushar Agnihotri, CEO, Route Mobile, said: "As fraudsters become more sophisticated, security has become a strategic priority for operators worldwide. With 365callguard, 365squared is further strengthening Proximus Global's portfolio of trusted communications solutions, helping our customers protect revenues, safeguard subscribers, and deliver more secure digital experiences."

365callguard complements 365smsguard, 365squared's AI-powered messaging protection platform, extending the company's fraud prevention capabilities across both voice and messaging channels.

365squared's solutions also contribute to Proximus Global's wider focus on communications security across BICS, Route Mobile, Telesign, and their subsidiaries.
