Mr. Seckin Arikan, Chairman, Route Mobile Limited and CEO, Proximus Global, said, "Our focus at Route Mobile remains on strengthening our core business while expanding into differentiated, higher-value solutions that can support long-term value creation. The addition of Heltar's conversational AI capabilities is an important step in broadening our solutions portfolio. At the same time, we recognize the importance of translating business momentum into sustainable profitability and delivering value for shareholders. As we review our first-half performance, our priorities remain disciplined execution, prudent cost management and building a strong foundation for the future."

"We delivered revenue performance in Q2 FY27 in line with our guidance, alongside a recovery in gross profit margin compared with the previous quarter. New product revenues also recorded a significant increase, reflecting the contribution of our expanding solutions portfolio. The acquisition of Heltar's business, completed on July 29, strengthens our capabilities in conversational AI and enables us to address evolving customer requirements. We are seeing an encouraging pipeline for these offerings and remain focused on converting these opportunities into revenue while maintaining disciplined execution across the business.," added Mr. Tushar Agnihotri, CEO, Route Mobile.
