Ramky starts work on the Rs.380 Crore Gabon Special Economic Zone, West Africa

Hyderabad, 30th November 2010: Ramky Engineering and Consulting Services (FZC), Sharjah, a fully-owned subsidiary of Ramky Infrastructure Limited, has commenced work on the Gabon Special Economic Zone (GSEZ) in the capital city of Libreville, Gabon, West Africa.

The GSEZ-SA is a Joint Venture between the Government of Gabon and Singapore-based OLAM, one of the world's leading commodities trading company.

The work of developing the GSEZ was awarded to Ramky Engineering and Consulting Services (FZC), and is worth Rs. 380 Crores. The project is a turnkey contract for the design, engineering, procurement and construction of the 1000 acre Gabon Special Economic Zone.

Ramky will develop the internal infrastructure, viz, boundary wall, entrance plaza, fencing, landscaping, internal roads, drainage system, water supply system, water treatment plants, road lighting and the telecommunication system, in addition to a guest house, club, hospital and an R&D block.

The GSEZ is part of the Government of Gabon's drive to diversify its economy in an attempt to lessen its reliance on dwindling oil reserves, and is expected to give a boost to the latent timber industry in Gabon and create job opportunities for the local population.

Commenting on the commencement of work on the GSEZ, Mr. Alla Ayodhya Rami Reddy, Chairman of the Ramky Group of Companies said, "I'm very happy to note that work has commenced on Gabon's first Special Economic Zone, a concept that Ramky was instrumental in introducing to the Gabonese Republic... but what I'm more
