Salzer Electronics Granted Patent for Compact High-Voltage Safety Device

Coimbatore, October 07, 2025: Salzer Electronics Limited is pleased to announce that it has been granted a patent for its product titled “Disconnecting and Earthing Device for High Voltage Applications.” This patent recognizes Salzer’s innovation in developing a more compact, efficient, and user-friendly design for high-voltage disconnection and earthing systems.

The newly patented product is designed for use in traction and locomotive systems, as well as other high-voltage power networks, where safe maintenance and compact installation are essential. It offers a significant reduction in size compared to conventional models, featuring an innovative contact design and installer-friendly wiring arrangements that enhance both safety and ease of use.

Commenting on this achievement, Mr. D. Rajesh Kumar, Joint Managing Director, said:

“This patent underscores our focus on practical innovation and engineering excellence. Our goal was to design a high-voltage (1000 volts) disconnecting and earthing device that delivers superior safety performance while offering tangible benefits in compactness, ease of installation, and operational efficiency. Salzer’s sustained investment in R&D has led to multiple innovations in recent years, reaffirming our commitment to developing advanced electrical solutions that align with evolving industry needs.”

With this milestone, Salzer Electronics further strengthens its position as a technology-driven manufacturer delivering reliable, space-efficient, and safety-oriented solutions for high-performance electrical applications.
