Festive sales face a discount squeeze

Higher prices, no GST tailwind leave less room to match last year's discounts

ANEEES HUSSAIN
Bengaluru, October 8

ONLINE FESTIVE SALES are likely to grow strongly this year, but the growth is expected to come increasingly from higher volumes and cheaper products rather than the deep price cuts that drove demand last year, as rising product costs and the absence of a GST tailwind leave e-commerce platforms with less room to absorb discounts.

Average selling prices across the top seven e-commerce categories tracked by data firm 1digitalstack.ai are now above last year's October festive sale levels. Laptops are up 41%, footwear 13.5%, air conditioners 11%, smartphones 10%, clothing 5%, washing machines 4% and beauty and personal care products 4%.

As a result, platforms would have to offer substantially deeper discounts simply to bring prices back to last year's festive levels. Laptop prices would need to fall 29%, footwear 12%, ACs 10%, smartphones 9%, clothing 5% and washing machines 4%. This compares with declines of 4%, 10%, 6.5%, 4.5%, 4% and 0.5%, respectively, during last year's festive period.

The comparison is particularly stark because last year's

Average festive basket size may shrink 1.5%

Festive item sales at Flipkart may rise 34%, but value growth only 20% festive season benefited from GST cuts that took effect on September 22, 2025.

There is no comparable tax benefit this year, while higher input costs, freight expenses following the West Asia conflict and a weaker rupee have pushed up product prices. Prices in categories that received GST cuts last year have also risen above their August 2025 levels, before the tax reduction and festive sales.

The pressure is already visible in online prices. Average laptop selling prices rose 32% between January and September this year to ₹78,122, while prices of ACs, smartphones and washing machines increased 11%, 7% and 3%, respectively, 1digitalstack.ai data showed.

The squeeze is particularly significant for smartphones, which account for the largest share of online festive sales. Datum expects festive smartphone sales to grow just 6% this year, against 26% last year, as higher prices and limited consumer spending power constrain demand.

Yet this does not imply a weak festive season. Datum expects online festive sales to rise 25-29% to ₹1.5-1.55 lakh crore. The difference is that consumers are expected to spread spending across more, smaller purchases, with average basket size projected to decline 1.5%.

Flipkart illustrates the shift. Its festive-season item sales are expected to rise 34%, while sales value is projected to increase only 20%, according to Datum. This suggests consumers are buying more products but moving towards lower-priced items.

CJP, Dhruv Rathee, Prakash Raj join hands against SIR, demand CEC's resignation

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Bengaluru, October 8

CJP FOUNDER ABHIJEET Dipke, YouTuber Dhruv Rathee, and actor-activist Prakash Raj on Thursday joined hands against the SIR and staged a protest in Bengaluru demanding CEC Gyanesh Kumar's resignation and the scrapping of revision exercise of electoral rolls.

Dipke, addressing a protest christened 'people's tribunal', held by civil societies and the CJP alleged that deletions of names of voters under the SIR were aimed at disenfranchising those opposed to the BJP and accused Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the EC of "undermining" democracy.

Dipke claimed that people whose names had been deleted from the electoral rolls were present at the agitation to demonstrate that they were alive.

"Narendra Modi became Prime Minister by deleting and stealing votes," he alleged.

The CJP founder alleged that Election Commission officials, including Chief Election Commissioner Gyanesh Kumar, had deleted the votes of people complying with the alleged directions of PM Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah.

YouTuber Dhruv Rathee, in his address, sought the resignation of CEC Gyanesh Kumar and alleged that there was "zero transparency and zero accountability from the EC", over the SIR exercise.

The YouTuber alleged that 'Vote Chori' concerned every citizen irrespective of their political affiliation.

Actor-activist Prakash Raj demanded scrapping the SIR exercise, alleging it was not merely about deletion of votes, but an attack on the dignity and rights of citizens.

Delhi on high alert ahead of Oct 10 protest

DELHI HAS BEEN put on high alert ahead of the CJP protest scheduled for October 10, with extensive security arrangements being put in place across the national capital, sources said.

However, permission for the proposed protest has not been granted so far, sources said.

According to sources, around 23,000 security personnel are expected to be deployed across Delhi between October 8 and 12.

The Ministry of Home Affairs has provided the Delhi Police with additional companies of Central Armed Police Forces (CAPFs) to strengthen security arrangements in view of the proposed protest.

Security agencies are also closely monitoring social media activity.

Nana Patekar passes away at 75

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Panaji, October 8

VETERAN ACTOR NANA Patekar, who went from painting zebra crossings and printing movie posters to a mainstream artist who stood out for his raw, earthy performances across diverse films such as Krantiveer and Khamoshi: The Musical, died at his Goa home in the early hours of Thursday. He was 75.

Patekar, whose powerful screen presence was felt even in ensemble comedies such as Welcome, is suspected to have suffered a heart attack, doctors said.

The sudden death of the actor, who effectively captured the anger, helplessness and disillusionment of the common person in his roles, came as a shock to his colleagues and friends.

Just four days ago, he said at an event in Goa, "We all have to go someday. I don't know whether I will be here tomorrow." The words underscoring the fragility of life.

Patekar is survived by his wife Neelkanti and son Malhar.

The actor's body has been taken to his Pune farmhouse for the last rites, where he will be accorded state funeral.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi condoled Patekar's death in a post on X, saying the actor's death leaves a deep void.

"Few actors possessed the intensity, individuality and unmistakable presence that Shri Nana Patekar ji had. He brought remarkable versatility and creativity to every role and gave us characters that will be remembered for generations. He was also admired for his frank and forthright views, never hesitating to express what he believed in," the PM said.

Shah Rukh Khan, his co-star in Raju Ban Gaya Gentleman, said Patekar was a masterful actor and an unbeatable carrom champion.

Akshay Kumar, who worked with Patekar on blockbuster comedy Welcome, said he has so many memories from their time together on the movie.

Indians in Saudi put on alert; Embassy says stay indoors

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Dubai, October 8

INDIA ON THURSDAY advised its nationals in Saudi Arabia to remain alert and vigilant amid an evolving security situation in the Gulf kingdom, asking them to stay indoors as necessary and follow instructions issued by local authorities through official channels.

The advisory by the Indian Embassy in Riyadh came amid a recent escalation in hostilities involving Saudi Arabia and the Iran-backed Houthi group.

In the last few weeks, Houthi has been targeting Saudi border regions, energy facilities, and civilian infrastructure using armed drones and missiles.

"In view of the current situation, all Indian nationals in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia are advised to remain alert and vigilant, stay indoors as necessary, and follow the instructions issued by local authorities through official channels," the mission said. It also strongly advised Indian nationals against circulating or reposting videos or news related to the ongoing events.

Anne Carson bags Literature Nobel Prize for her 'bold and inventive' work

NOBEL PRIZE '26
LITERATURE

CANADIAN POET AND writer Anne Carson won the 2026 Nobel Prize in Literature "for her bold and inventive oeuvre that, in playful dialogue with the classical tradition, has created new forms for contemporary literature," the award-giving body said on Thursday.

The prize is awarded by the Swedish Academy and is worth 12 million Swedish crowns

($1.2 million).

"She was very taken by surprise. We didn't have so much time to speak, and all she had time to tell me was that she is for the moment in Iceland, where she's listening to the wind," said Ingrid Carlborg, permanent secretary of the Swedish Academy.

Carson's work often blends verse, prose, dialogue and translation in a genre-defying mix. Born in Toronto, she has also held Icelandic citizenship since 2022.

She is widely known for her translations of classical Greek literature, which heavily influences her work which ranges from opera libretti to literary criticism and verse novels such as "Autobiography of Red" from 1998. "Almost all her literary production has centred upon the intersection between the philologist's obsession with words and the poet's desire for new meaning," the Academy said.

"She has herself identified the etymology of words as the starting point for all her work. Her translations from Classical Greek may be regarded as independent works in their own right." Her style is exemplified in "Norma Jeane Baker of Troy" from 2019, a performance piece which mixes the stories of Helen of Troy in Euripides' play "Helen" and Marilyn Monroe.

Carson, 76, had been among the favourites to win this year's prize, according to bookmakers Ladbrokes, and takes a place beside luminaries such as Alexander Solzhenitsyn, Alice Munro and Ernest Hemingway as a recipient of the award.
