The disconnect in rural broadband

BBNL's cancelled tender to lay optical fibre cable across India's villages highlights the avoidable complexity in bidding terms

SUBHOMOY BHATTACHARJEE
New Delhi, 1 March

Earlier this month, government-owned Bharat Broadband Network Ltd (BBNL) cancelled a ₹19,000 crore tender to lay optical fibre cable (OFC) across villages because there were no bidders to execute the project. The cancellation puts at risk the target of broadband connectivity for every village by 2024.

To be clear, there is no shortage of enthusiasm in the private sector to bid for projects in rural areas, per se. After all, they offer wireless telephony across the country. But companies were unenthused by the way the government, specifically the Department of Telecommunications (DoT), wants to go about its broadband plans.

Using satellites to offer broadband services based on competitive bidding for each rural circle would have done the job. Instead, the department has clogged its plans in a maze of details that have scared off potential bidders.

Chief among those are the requirement that bidders have to secure the right of way (RoW) from states, towns and village authorities to lay the 1,600,000 kilometres of cables to secure the connectivity. BBNL will only act as a facilitator for this process.

An India Ratings & Research note last year had described this requirement as a "complex" challenge. "... stakeholders will be concerned over delays in RoW, which can affect the project completion and the revenue potential of the network". Bidders are right to be worried. In a decade, even government-owned companies have managed to secure only about 25 per cent of the distance. Some of that was by BSNL, and that too by a special purpose vehicle it set up in 2012 to solely do this job.

The current tender was approved by the Union cabinet last year to lay the rest of the cables in 16 states (the tender bunches some of the smaller states into circles to create a viable scale of operation). For this purpose, the cabinet has offered ₹19,041 crore of viability gap funding for a public-private partnership model. This model was supposed to be executed as nine separate packages across 16 states, for a concession period of 30 years. BharatNet is considered the backbone of the government's Digital India programme that aims to reduce the digital divide between urban and rural India. When up and running, it will connect all 643,000 villages.

There was an easy answer to this vast challenge, though. Instead of laying fibres along the ground, braving local opposition on land rights, the bidders should have been allowed to tap broadband from a constellation of low earth orbit satellites. India now has the capacity to send up these satellites regularly. It would have saved the Centre a lot of money. Besides the viability gap funding, the Centre has already spent ₹24,000 crore through BBNL. Adding other expenses, the total outlay for BharatNet project is now at a massive ₹61,109 crore.

Instead of laying fibres along the ground, braving local opposition on land rights, the bidders should have been allowed to tap broadband from a constellation of low earth orbit satellites

There are two reasons the cheaper alternative is not being explored. The first is that Prime Minister Narendra Modi in his Independence Day speech of 2020 had announced his plans to reach OFC links to all villages within the next 1,000 days. This target could have been simplified easily. The aim of the PM's announcement was to reach broadband connectivity to villages, so DoT could have interpreted the message to mean satellite-based connectivity, with only the bare minimum local connections riding on cables. That way, the deadline of 2024 would have been far easier to meet.

The other challenge was the problems with bureaucracy, which was more difficult to dismantle. Since 2005, a clutch of state-run companies — BSNL, RailTel and Power Grid Corporation of India — have tried to provide a right of way for the OFC network. As BBNL's study in a July 2021 investor presentation shows, the results have been dismal. It pointed to "limited focus on operation, maintenance and utilisation" of the dark fibres. The United Progressive Alliance government in 2012 tried a different track. It established BBNL with the sole aim of implementing BharatNet. After a decade of trying, the failed tenders this month show, this too was a wasted effort.

In 2016-17, the pace of laying the OFC was 168 km per day. By the end of calendar 2016, 65,000 village panchayats had been reached. The speed of laying the cables has risen since then, to about 350 km per day as of January 2020, when the total length of the network reached 445,304 km. To reach the remaining 450,000 villages within the next 1,000 days, they will need to lay another 1,251,000 km of cable. And this assumes there are no problems in securing permissions for the right of way.

But a simpler environment would entail laying off a vast army of government employees. Meanwhile, BBNL's bill adds to that of its sister organisations, BSNL and MTNL, which have cost the government ₹69,000 crore in revival packages till FY21. There are now plans to merge BBNL with BSNL. Incidentally, in its tenders, BBNL had clipped the role of BSNL instead, allowing state government and private sector companies to enter the competition that was earlier reserved only for the central government-run companies.

The other challenge written in the aborted tender is that the network uptime requirement should be at least 98 per cent. Data from the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (Trai) shows the present installed networks reported an uptime of 58 per cent, as of November 30, 2020. To offer the higher service requirement, operators would need to ensure uninterrupted power, safety of cables and so on.

A simpler tender for private sector bidders doing away with the OFC requirement was all that was needed. It would have ushered in competition among the bidders since there would be no monopoly powers with respect to an owned cable line. This is something Trai had suggested.

BHARATNET TIMELINE

■ Two-phase rollout: First phase led by BSNL, the second by BBNL

■Phase-I completed in December 2017 covering over 100,000 gram panchayats (GPs). The issues:
a) inadequate O&M quality
b) limited bandwidth: 100 mbps per panchayat

■Revised Phase II strategy finalised in June 2021
a) through PPP model for 16 states covering about 361,000 villages (including 137,000 GPs)
b) projected bandwidth: 1 gbps per panchayat

■Existing connections from Phase I also to be upgraded

■Model:
a) Design, Build, Finance, Operate and Transfer (DBFOT) for a concession period of 30 to 35 years
b) A bidder can only bid for four packages out of the nine offered
c) Revenue share arrangement:

•4% share: 11th to 20th year

•6% share: 21st year till end of concession period

d) GOI support: VGF money as equity support of 40% of the total grant

Balance to be paid as bi-annual instalments over a period of 5 years after construction period

War eases Indian rules for pets from Ukraine

RITWIK SHARMA
New Delhi, 1 March

The government on Tuesday issued a memorandum promising "a one-time relaxation measure" for bringing back pet dogs and cats along with stranded Indians who are being evacuated from war-hit Ukraine.

The measure by the government followed an appeal from the People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) India after the non-profit noticed a video on social media on Saturday. In the video, Rishabh Kaushik, a final-year undergrad student of software engineering at the Kharkiv National University of Radio Electronics in Ukraine, complained that he had been trying to contact Indian authorities but they repeatedly asked him for documents in order to bring his pet dog, Malibu.

PETA India wrote to Parshottam Rupala, the minister for fisheries, animal husbandry and dairying. On Tuesday, PETA shared the office memo that includes relaxed pre-import and post-import conditions and directs regional officers of all animal quarantine and certification services (AQCS) to coordinate with the state veterinary authorities concerned to share details of each migrant pet with the Centre's Department of Animal Husbandry and Dairying.

"We are extremely thankful to the Modi government for this compassionate decision to include companion animals in the evacuation process. Separating animal companions from their guardians would have been another tragedy for those desperately fleeing Ukraine, and it would have only resulted in more heartbreak and unnecessarily lost lives," said PETA India Chief Executive Officer and veterinarian Manilal Valliyate in a press release.

He added that with this decision, India joined a select list of countries — including Hungary, Poland, Romania, Slovakia, the Czech Republic, and Lithuania — "that have made entry for animals less bureaucratic, thereby helping families, including people like Rishabh, escape the warzone with their beloved companion animals".

The measure by the government followed an appeal from PETA India after the non-profit noticed a video by undergrad student Rishabh Kaushik (above) on social media

When asked about how the relaxation has eased conditions, Valliyate told Business Standard that according to the existing law, anyone bringing a companion animal from abroad has to produce proof of continuous stay of two years in that particular country, along with proof of transferring his or her residence to India, which implies an airline ticket. Besides this, one requires an advance customs permission.

Most importantly, the individual has to produce a health certificate from a vet ruling that the animal is free from any contagious diseases, as well as a vaccination certificate that is valid. The vaccination of the animal has to be within 12 months of travel, with the latest round not less than one month prior. Finally, the person has to give a declaration saying that the animal is not being transported for any commercial purposes.

Putting this tedious documentation aside, Valliyate says, what the government has now done is to allow a person to give a declaration claiming possession of the pet for merely one month.

"Ideally, the government still prefers a health certificate and vaccination certificate of the animal. If you are travelling and crossing the border to another friendly country, you can take the animal to a veterinarian and get a certificate."

The memo gives further relaxation. "For example, if you have a vaccination certificate, upon arrival at a place where you have the quarantine services, the pet will be examined along with the certificate and given a clearance. In case there is no vaccination certificate, the animal will be kept in quarantine for 15 or 30 days, at the end of which the animal will be vaccinated," Valliyate said.

After the animal is taken home, it has to be taken to a vet and its owner has to submit a certificate to the AQCS.

Valliyate pointed out that India is an exception of sorts, as other countries relaxing rules similarly are those bordering Ukraine.

A Facebook page of the alumni association of St Joseph's Academy, a co-ed school in Dehradun where Kaushik studied, posted his video and has been giving regular updates on his whereabouts. It had posted that Kaushik had refused to leave for Dubai with his family on February 19. His family runs an export business in Ukraine.

When the crisis in Ukraine worsened, Kaushik's father immediately arranged a visa for his return. But Kaushik was adamant about leaving with his pet.

Praveen Chandhok, who heads the alumni association of the school, said Kaushik caught a train from Kiev on Monday, along with Malibu, to Uzhhorod, a city in western Ukraine along the border with Slovakia and near Hungary. He is expected to reach Hungary on Tuesday and fly with his pet to India soon after.

This is with reference to the article titled "Eminent yes men behind NSE" by Debashis Basu, published in the Business Standard on February 28, 2022. The article describes at great length the problems with the appointment of Chitra Ramkrishna and Anand Subramanian at NSE. The entire set of events at NSE described in relation to these events are dated November 6, 2012 and beyond. I demitted office in February 2011.

In the column, there is a reference to colocation scam as having happened between 2010 to 2014. The Securities and Exchange Board of India's order on colocation was passed in February 2021. It is a long order, but right in the beginning, the order states that the first complaint with regard to the abuse of the colocation facility was received by Sebi on January 8, 2015, almost four years after I left Sebi. The article which mentions dates of appointment of Chitra Ramkrishna, formation of selection committee etc. fails to mention the date on which Sebi received the first complaint on colocation. Colocation was started in 2010 but by itself it is not a scam. It is a facility common in other jurisdictions as well. The scam was that an unfair advantage may have been provided to a broker(s) vis-a-vis the other brokers. This was brought to the notice of Sebi in 2015. One could ask why it took Sebi four years (2015 to 2019) to pass an order in a matter in which the integrity of the market was questioned. However, it is clearly not for me to answer this.

Colocation facilities were offered by NSE to the brokers from 2010 onwards. When did the misuse of this facility start? We have no explicit statement on this in the Sebi orders. However, the order against OPG Securities gives us enough clues.

Sebi punished OPG Securities for connecting to the Secondary POP server on 135 days between January 2010 to April 5, 2014. (para 8.43). The profits of those days were considered illegal and OPG was asked to disgorge them. The preceding para 8.42 clearly states that the "connection to the Secondary POP server was first established on December 11, 2011." No connection was made to the Secondary POP server before December 11, 2011. Sebi's finding, therefore, is that there was no wrongdoing prior to December 11, 2011, that is till ten months after I left Sebi.It follows that the scam did not occur during my time at Sebi and it was brought to the notice of Sebi four years after I left the organisation.

The author is entitled to his opinion. But in the face of all these dates in these two cases, to drag my name and to say that worst things happened during my tenure is at best biased and at worst defamatory.

The author was Sebi Chairman between 2008 and 2011

1043 பேருக்கு கல்லீரல் மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சை: அமைச்சர் மா.சுப்பிரமணியன் தகவல்

சென்னை, மார்ச் 2–

தமிழகத்தில் முதலமைச்சரின் விரிவான மருத்துவ காப்பீட்டு திட்டத்தின் கீழ் இதுவரை 220 கோடி ரூபாய் மதிப்பில் கல்லீரல் மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சையும், 149 கோடி ரூபாய் மதிப்பில் எலும்பு மஜ்ஜை மாற்று சிகிச்சையும் மேற்கொள்ளப்பட்டுள்ளது என சுகாதாரத்துறை அமைச்சர் மா.சுப்பிரமணியன் தெரிவித்துள்ளார்.

உறுப்பு மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சையில் தமிழக சுகாதாரத்துறை சிறந்து விளங்குவதாகவும், பல மாநிலங்கள் தமிழகத்தில் உள்ள மருத்துவ சிகிச்சை முறைகளைப் பின்பற்றுவதாகவும் ரேலா மருத்துவமனையின் தலைவர் முகமது ரேலா கூறினார்.

சென்னை எழும்பூரில் உள்ள தமிழ்நாடு மருத்துவமனைகள் தழுவத்தில் ரேலா மருத்துவமனைகளுக்கும், ராஜீவ் காந்தி அரசு மருத்துவமனை, எழும்பூர் குழந்தைகள் நல மருத்துவமனை, ஸ்டான்லி அரசு மருத்துவமனை, கோவை அரசு மருத்துவமனை, மதுரை அரசு மருத்துவமனை என 5 அரசு மருத்துவமனைகளுக்கும் இடையே கல்லீரல் மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சை மற்றும் எலும்பு மஜ்ஜை மாற்று சிகிச்சைக்கான புரிந்துணர்வு ஒப்பந்தம் கையெழுத்தானது.

இந்நிகழ்வில் மருத்துவத்துறை அமைச்சர் மா.சுப்பிரமணியன் பேசியதாவது:

5 அரசு மருத்துவமனைகளுடன் ரேலா மருத்துவமனை ஒப்பந்தம்

இந்த ஒப்பந்தத்தின் படி ரேலா மருத்துவர்கள் குழு அரசு மருத்துவமனைக்கு வந்து மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சையை செய்வார்கள். இந்த அறுவை சிகிச்சையின் போது அரசு மருத்துவர்கள் உடனிருந்து பயிற்சி பெற்றுக் கொள்ளலாம். எழும்பூர் குழந்தைகள் நல மருத்துவமனையில் மட்டும் ரேலா மருத்துவமனைக்கு சென்று சிகிச்சை பெறுவார்கள்.

முதல்வர் விரிவான காப்பீட்டுத் திட்டத்தின் கீழ் கல்லீரல் மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சைக்கு 19 லட்சமும், எலும்பு மஜ்ஜை மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சைக்கு 5 லட்சமும் செலவிடப்படுகிறது. அரசு மருத்துவமனைகளில் ஸ்டான்லி மருத்துவமனையில் 2005ம் ஆண்டு முதல் கல்லீரல் மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சை செய்யப்படுகிறது. இதுவரை முதல்வர் காப்பீட்டுத் திட்டத்தின் கீழ் 1043 நோயாளிகள் கல்லீரல் மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சை 225 மையத்தில் செய்யப்பட்டுள்ளது. தலசீமியா, ரத்த புற்றுநோய், ரத்த சோகை அரிய நோய்களால் பாதிக்கப்பட்ட நோயாளிகளுக்கு இதுவரை 1493 பேருக்கு எலும்பு மஜ்ஜை மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சை 149 மையத்தில் செய்யப்பட்டுள்ளது. தமிழ்நாட்டில் தற்போது 314 பேர் கல்லீரல் மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சைக்காக காத்திருந்தார்கள்.

முகமது ரேலா

திவுத்தியில் ரேலா மருத்துவமனையின் தலைவர் முகமது ரேலா பேசியதாவது

உறுப்பு மாற்று அறுவை சிகிச்சையில் தமிழகம் பிறந்து விளங்குகிறது. பல மாநிலங்கள் தமிழகத்தில் உள்ள சிகிச்சை முறைகளை பின்பற்றியிருக்கின்றன. கல்லீரல் மற்றும் அறுவை சிகிச்சைக்கு 19 லட்சம் வரை அரசு செலவு ஏற்கிறது. இதனால் ஏழ்மை சிகிச்சை மேற்கொள்ள தமிழகத்தில் பணம் இல்லாமல் சிகிச்சையிற்றி உயிர்முக்கும் எண்ணிக்கை இல்லை. மற்ற மாநிலங்களில் பணம் இல்லாததால் சிகிச்சை மேற்கொள்ள முடியாமல் பல உயிர்முக்கின்றன். இதன் மூலம் தமிழக சுகாதாரத்துறை மக்களின் சிகிச்சைக்காக தொகை ஒதுக்குவதில் முன்னோடி மாநிலமாக உள்ளது.
