Centre extends bid deadline for rare earth magnet scheme again

INDUSTRY PRESSURE. Multiple stakeholders demanded extension, says Ministry of Heavy Industries

S Ronendra Singh
New Delhi

There seems a mere interest from the global rare earth permanent magnet (REPM) manufacturers as the Ministry of Heavy Industries (MHI) on Thursday extended another timeline for global tender under the ₹7,280 crore REPM scheme.

The Ministry in a statement said that this extension was due to "a response to demand for same by multiple stakeholders". This is the second such extension with the first extension being moved from May 28, 2026 to June 29, 2026.

The global tender was invited by the Ministry on March 20, 2026, for selection of manufacturers as beneficiaries under REPM scheme to establish integrated REPM manufacturing facilities in India, and even identified some of the coastal regions of the country.

USED IN EVS
REPMs are one of the most powerful commercially available magnets made from alloys that include rare earth elements, primarily neodymium (Nd), praseodymium (Pr) and samarium (Sm), and these are majorly used in electric vehicles, wind turbines, high-end electronics, aerospace and defence systems.

Currently, China dominates about 90 per cent of global production of rare-earth magnet, and it temporarily restricted the exports to India in early 2025, and after complaints of vehicle makers from India, the Centre decided to launch the scheme so that it can be manufactured domestically and even export at a later stage. Some of the prospective companies include Bosch India, Mishra Dhatu Nigam

INDIGENISATION PUSH. The Centre has decided to launch the scheme so that the magnets can be made domestically

Ltd, Global Tech & Material, Tata AutoComp Systems and Mahindra Group.

COASTAL REGIONS
According to government, India has one of the world's largest rare earth reserves mostly located in coastal regions. IREL (India), under the Department of Atomic Energy, is the only company in India that is engaged in the mining of rare earth ores and refining these into rare earth oxides (REOs).

By building a complete value chain from NdPr oxide to finished magnets in India, the scheme is expected to significantly reduce import dependence in this sector, the Centre said.

"The bid due date has been extended from June 29, 2026 to July 29, 2026, while the opening of technical bids has been rescheduled from June 30, 2026 to July 30, 2026 to facilitate wider participation and provide additional time for stakeholders in bidding process," the MHI said.

On November 26, 2025, the Cabinet, chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, approved the scheme with a financial outlay of ₹7,280 crore, comprising a ₹750 crore capital subsidy and ₹6,450 crore in sales-linked incentives over five years. Eligible manufacturers can claim incentives of up to 40 per cent of eligible net sales. The scheme, a first-of-its-kind initiative, aims to establish a total capacity of 6,000 metric tonnes per annum of integrated REPM manufacturing facilities in India, thereby enhancing self-reliance and positioning India as a key player in the global REPM market.

Bangladesh clearing Godda electricity dues: Adani Power

Avinash Nair
Ahmedabad

Adani Power on Thursday said Bangladesh continues to draw power from its 1,600 MW Godda Thermal Power Plant in Jharkhand and has been steadily clearing outstanding dues, with the company expressing confidence that the remaining issues under discussion between the two sides will be resolved.

The power supply arrangement with the Bangladesh Power Development Board (BPDB) remains operational and commercially stable despite concerns raised over payment delays in the past, Managing Director Anil Sardana said.

Anil Sardana, MD, Adani Power

"The asset is doing well and they (Bangladesh) continue to absorb power and continue to be associated with the commercial arrangements with us currently," Sardana said during the company's annual general meeting.

The comments come amid efforts by Adani Power and BPDB to reconcile certain claims under the long-term power purchase agreement governing electricity exports from the Godda plant.

Sardana said the issues currently under arbitration relate only to specific aspects of imported fuel pricing and benchmark indices and do not affect the broader power supply arrangement.

IMPORTED FUEL
"BPDB has accepted the expert conducting the arbitration between the two sides. This (the arbitration) is related to the specific aspect of the imported fuel and its indices and nothing else. The issues involved are very small and we are confident that we should be able to resolve some of these issues," he added.

According to Adani Power's FY26 annual report, the company has requested the Singapore International Arbitration Centre to appoint an expert to resolve certain matters pending reconciliation between the two parties. Both Adani Power and BPDB have nominated representatives to engage with the expert, and the appointment agreement has already been executed.

Without giving details of pending dues from Bangladesh, Adani Power also indicated that payment collections from Bangladesh have improved significantly over the past year.

"They have paid a lot of arrears and continue to commit to the fact that they do not want any of those arrears to languish. To that extent I would like to convey to the shareholders that the dues have been admitted by the Bangladesh side. Their commitment is visible in the way they have been liquidating some of the past arrears," Sardana said.

Tata Motors unveils Iveco integration plan after €3.8 b deal

Amit Vijay Mohile
Mumbai

With only financial regulatory approvals in France and Spain pending, Tata Motors Ltd (TML) has, for the first time, outlined how it plans to integrate Iveco following its €3.8 billion acquisition.

The company is betting on complementary products, dealer networks, technology sharing and expansion into Latin America, rather than factory consolidation to unlock growth. The combined commercial vehicle business is expected to generate annual revenues of more than €22 billion and sell over 5,40,000 vehicles, creating one of the world's largest commercial vehicle groups.

Rather than pursuing a traditional merger centred on cost-cutting, TML's strategy is to create new revenue opportunities by giving each company access to products, markets and distribution channels where the other has limited presence.

GLOBAL REACH. Iveco will gain access to TML's distribution network across India, South Asia, Africa and parts of West Asia

"When we announced the deal, nobody thought there could be a top-line benefit. That point has now got registered," said, Girish Wagh, MD & CEO, Tata Motors.

Chief Financial Officer Ramakrishnan Raman said documentation with regulators has been completed and the company remains confident of closing the transaction by the end of Q2 FY27.

"We are through with the back-and-forth on documentation and questioning. We are pretty confident it should come through now," Raman said.

TML'S ROADMAP

The acquisition marks a shift from completing a transaction to executing an integration strategy. Because regulatory restrictions remain in place until the deal closes, TML has developed much of its roadmap through what executives described as an "outside-in" assessment of Iveco, with detailed integration planning to accelerate after completion.

TML's light commercial vehicle portfolio is expected to gain access to Latin America through Iveco's dealer network, while selected Iveco products, including the Daily minibus and deep-mining tippers, are being evaluated for India.

The strategy also works in reverse. Iveco will gain access to TML's distribution network across India, South Asia, Africa and parts of West Asia, while benefiting from Tata Motors' design-to-value engineering and sourcing expertise to improve competitiveness.

The acquisition will also bring Tata Daewoo into a broader global commercial vehicle strategy. Wagh said Tata Daewoo already shares technology linkages with Iveco through FPT Industrial engines, creating opportunities for joint product planning, powertrain development and market expansion.

INTEGRATION PHASES

TML expects synergies to emerge in three stages and has guided for cumulative annual free cash flow synergies of up to 0.5 per cent of combined revenue by FY28.

The first phase will focus on cross-selling products through each other's distribution networks and introducing vehicles into new markets. Over the medium term, TML plans to deploy its design-to-value engineering capabilities and sourcing expertise to improve Iveco's cost competitiveness, including reducing dependence on Western European suppliers where feasible.

The longer-term opportunity lies in jointly developing next-gen technologies under Unlimited Pathways 2.0, covering software-defined vehicles, advanced driver assistance systems, connectivity, electrification and powertrains.

Wagh said Iveco is ahead in several of these technologies, allowing TML to accelerate their adoption in India while reducing future product-development costs by sharing investments in software, electrification and next-gen vehicle platforms.

For Wagh, however, the acquisition's biggest advantage is not manufacturing capacity but market access.

"Creating a channel is the most difficult thing. That is one asset which gets undervalued or unrecognised in acquisitions like this," he said.

Besides expanding TML's presence through Iveco's dealer network in Europe and Latin America, the acquisition also provides access to Iveco's retail financing — an important advantage in commercial vehicles, where financing underpins most purchases.

JSW Green invests in Lithium Urban

Our Bureau
Mumbai

Lithium Urban Technologies, a leading integrated enterprise mobility platform, on Thursday announced a strategic investment from JSW Green Mobility.

The company has built an integrated mobility platform spanning electric fleets, charging infrastructure, fleet intelligence systems and centralised operational command capabilities.

The company manages over 25,000 trips daily through a network of over 3,000 vehicles and 1,300 chargers, serving over 100 enterprise customers.

Dhanpal Jhaveri, Chief Executive Officer, Eversource Capital, said Lithium Urban has built a business with strong operating foundations and the investment by JSW Green Mobility provides significant headroom for growth. By combin-

The investment marks the next phase of growth for Lithium as it continues to expand its fleet ing fleets, charging infrastructure and centralised operational oversight within a single platform, the firm has developed capabilities that are increasingly difficult to replicate at scale, he said.

COMPANY'S EXPANSION

The strategic partnership will accelerate the company's expansion as demand for reliable, technology-enabled and sustainable mobility solutions continues to grow across enterprise and digital mobility ecosystems. Parth Jindal scion of JSW Group, said India's mobility landscape is undergoing a structural transformation, driven by rapid urbanisation, electrification and the growing scale of digital commerce.

"We believe the future will be shaped by integrated, technology-led mobility platforms that can deliver reliability, operational efficiency and scale," he said.

Don Thomas, Chief Executive Officer, Lithium Urban Technologies, said over the last decade, the company has built the foundation spanning charging infrastructure, fleet intelligence systems and centralised network operations centres.

The investment marks the next phase of growth for Lithium as it continues to expand its fleet, charging infrastructure and technology capabilities.

With transportation systems becoming increasingly electrified, connected and software-enabled, it is focused on building the scale and operating capabilities required to support India's evolving mobility needs.

Apple to raise prices amid memory chip shortage

Model	Previous price	Revised price
MacBook Neo	69,900.00	79,900.00
MacBook Air	1,19,900.00	1,49,900.00
MacBook Pro	1,89,900.00	2,39,900.00
iPad Air	59,900.00	89,900.00
iPad Pro	99,900.00	1,39,900.00

Vallari Sanzgiri
Mumbai

Prices of Apple Inc products in India will rise by a minimum of 15-20 per cent as the company confirms cost revision following global memory chip shortage.

Flagging "an unprecedented challenge" in the consumer electronics industry, an Apple spokesperson said there is a sharp spike in memory and storage demand due to the rapid expansion of AI data centres.

"We have shielded our customers from these increases so far, but we have now reached a point where we need to begin raising prices on a number of products, including today's increases for iPad and Mac. We know this is not welcome news, and we are working tirelessly to find solutions," said the spokesperson on Thursday.

Costs for products like MacBook Neo, MacBook Air, MacBook Pro, iPad Air and iPad Pro in India increased between ₹30,000-50,000, as per the revised prices on the company website.

As per analysts, all Apple products are expected to increase between 15-20 per cent in coming days owing to the memory crunch.

However, many pointed out that the company held off on price hikes longer than other brands.

Some estimated other PC and tablet OEMs to follow in Apple's footsteps by either increasing prices on select products, cutting discounts or adjusting product line focus to more premium devices.

Other brands have already increased prices four times this year with another 13-15 per cent price hike expected towards the end of July.

"Others have already increased prices by 35-40 per cent whereas this is the first hike by Apple," said Bharath Shenoy, Senior Market Analyst at IDC India.

Based on this, he stated that the hike is unlikely to have any real impact on Apple sales in India.

FOURFOLD RISE

Memory prices have increased more than fourfold since the fourth quarter of 2025.

This single component has eroded profit margins of most consumer electronics players, as per Counterpoint Research.

Apple's recent price hikes for the MacBook Neo, MacBook Air, MacBook Pro, iPad Air, and iPad Pro Wi-Fi are not just about individual products; instead, they signal a shift in how the entire industry sets prices.

The growing demand for AI infrastructure has fundamentally changed the memory supply chain, meaning higher bill of materials costs are now a lasting challenge. "We think these changes will reshape the market through 2026. We expect total notebook shipments to slow down after the 2025 pull-forward, but advanced notebook PCs should still grow by 11 per cent on-year basis," said Shubham Singh, Research Analyst at Counterpoint Research.
