Temasek Bets Big on India's Healthcare with Buyout Plans

Reghu Balakrishnan

Mumbai: Singapore investment fund Temasek is building out its India investment strategy by focusing on scalable, regionally diverse, and specialty-driven platforms across the healthcare delivery spectrum. The fund is deploying capital through both organic growth and bolt-on acquisitions with a long-term view towards an accessible, profitable, and high-quality care, according to a senior executive. Last week, Temasek backed Manipal Hospitals acquired the Sahyadri Group of Hospitals, outbidding rival hospital chains and PE firms. "Our focus is to back platforms that can deliver healthcare at scale across India. The recent acquisition of the Sahyadri Group in Pune fits right into that," Ravi Lambah, head of Temasek in India, told ET. With this acquisition, Manipal Hospitals expanded its footprint significantly in western India. The Manipal group now operates 49 hospitals with more than 12,000 beds, following a series of acquisitions and new builds. Sahyadri alone added 11 hospitals to the three already under Manipal in Pune, reinforcing its strength in the region. The Manipal platform has established strong positions in the South and East (West Deccan via Medica Synergy acquisition), and with Sahyadri, it has further strengthened its base in the West. The most logical end position target is Karnataka, where it is exploring a mix of strategies, including greenfield development and bolt-on acquisitions, he said. "We typically target hospitals in the 300-400-bed range that have a mix of specialty services across cities. Flagship hospitals may go up to 500 beds, but the sweet spot remains mid-sized facilities," Lambah said.
