Chinese Solar Gear Imports Down 80% in Jan-June

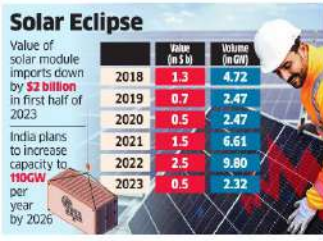

Global think tank Ember says trade down post imposition of tariffs as India focuses on building domestic mfg capacity

Ishaan Gera & Shilpa Samant

New Delhi: India's solar module imports from China reduced nearly 80% by $2 billion in the first half of 2023, according to Chinese export figures collated by global energy think tank Ember. The total solar module imports declined 76% to 2.3 GW between January and June 2023 from 9.8 GW in a similar period from a year ago, according to an ET analysis of Ember's data, as India tries to wean away from import dependence and build its domestic manufacturing capabilities.

"This followed the imposition of tariffs as India shifts away from imports to focus on building and utilising domestic manufacturing capacity. India's domestic solar module manufacturing capacity has stepped up," the global think tank said in a report.

The government had imposed a basic customs duty of 40% on solar modules, which came into effect in April last year and has also allocated 48.4GW of capacity in two tranches of the production-linked incentive scheme with $238.500 crore in support. India's solar module imports for the first six months are now lower than 2020, when India had imported 2.5GW of modules from China, as per Ember data.

While the government expects 7.5 GW to become operational by October 2024, and 16.4 GW by April 2025, another 15.4 GW is expected to come up by April 2026.

"India aims to increase manufacturing capacity to 110 GW/year by 2026," Ember stated, pointing out that India remains the second largest importer of solar cells from China.

India accounted for a 17% share of China's total solar cell exports, second to Turkey, which had a 33% share. "There has also been a rise in the number of Chinese cells, which are then assembled locally into solar panels, with India now the second largest destination for exported solar cells after Turkey," the report stated.

OIL Looks at Ways to Bring Home $150m Payout from Russia

Our Bureau

New Delhi: State-run Oil India is exploring legal as well as diplomatic channels to repatriate its dividends worth $150 million from Russia, said its chairman Ranjit Rath.

Oil India, Indian Oil Corporation, BPCL and ONGC have participating interests in multiple oil and gas projects in Russia from which they earn dividends periodically. Companies have been receiving dividends but have been unable to transfer them out of Russia since February 2022 due to the banking restrictions in the wake of the Ukraine war and the Western sanctions on Moscow.

Indian Oil and BPCL have similar amounts of dividends stuck in Russia.

Wholesale Inflation Declines for Fifth Month to 0.5% in Aug

Our Bureau

However, they point that wholesale prices could rise later in September as the base effects wane and crude oil prices that have been rising since July weigh on WPI index.

"The degree of WPI deflation has been coming down and is likely to turn into inflation in the September print," said VK Vijayakumar, Chief Investment Strategist at Genji Financial Services.

Crude oil prices rose 7.5% sequentially in August easing the decline in WPI to 0.9% in August from 12.8% in the previous month, according to data released on Thursday.

Sequentially 3% rise in fuel and power index drove the wholesale price index up 0.3% in August from the previous month.

"We could expect WPI inflation to enter the positive territory next month onwards. Additionally rise in global crude oil prices and deficient rainfall domestically pose an upside threat," said Rajan Sinha, chief economist, Care Edge.

But this is unlikely to make a significant dent on wholesale inflation. Gauza Sengupta, economist, IIFEC First Bank, projects wholesale inflation to average 0.2% in FY24, which she believes will upset government's nominal GDP target.

Earlier this week, retail inflation eased more than expected as decline in food prices brought down consumer inflation to 3.4% for August.

Experts indicate that further fall in tomato prices along with the ₹200 price cut in LPG cylinders is likely to bring inflation around 3.5% in September.
