Subex appoints Suresh Chintada as Chief Technology Officer

13TH OCTOBER, BANGALORE, INDIA – Subex, a pioneer in Digital Trust, announced the appointment of Suresh Chintada as Chief Technology Officer (CTO), with effect from October 12, 2020.

Suresh brings with him his wide-ranging leadership, managerial and technical expertise accrued across his overall experience of over 27 years. He has previously worked with organizations in the communications domain such as Motorola, ARRIS, and CommScope. Suresh has been responsible for building and scaling large-scale global software engineering, professional services, and technical support services operations during his previous stints. His expertise spans across multiple industry verticals such as cable, telecom, mobile, and wireless networking.

His vast experience spans establishing and growing new businesses and CoEs, managing product turnarounds, creating product strategies and processes, fundraising and incubation activities, leading research teams apart from running large software teams.

Commenting on the announcement, Vinod Kumar, Managing Director, and CEO said, "We are truly excited to have Suresh on board as the new CTO of Subex. Suresh's appointment comes at the right time when the industry is undergoing massive transformations and advancements, requiring solutions vendors to come up with differentiated offerings that are technologically ground-breaking. With over two decades of experience, Suresh has a deep understanding of creating product strategies geared towards accelerating growth, both from an organizational and customer-led viewpoint. We are confident that Suresh will augment and scale the technical leadership at Subex and strengthen our offerings towards being the front-runner of enabling Digital Trust."

Suresh holds a Bachelor's and Master's Degree in Electronics & Communications Engineering from Osmania University and a Post Graduate Diploma in software enterprise management, specializing in technology strategy and leadership from IIM, Bangalore. He is a keynote speaker, mentor, advisor, and angel investor who volunteers his time to enrich the country's start-up ecosystem and is passionate about grooming student entrepreneurs.
