India Poised for Wheat Imports after Six Years to Shore Up Reserves

Reuters

New Delhi | Mumbai: India is poised to begin wheat imports after a six-year gap, to replenish depleted reserves and hold down prices that leaped following three years of disappointing crops, sources say, as the approaching end of general elections removes a key hurdle.

New Delhi is expected to abandon a 40% tax on wheat imports this year, officials and other sources told Reuters, paving the way for private traders and flour millers to buy from producers such as top exporter Russia, albeit in modest volumes.

As the new-season wheat harvest rolls in, the government is likely to wait until after June to scrap the import tax, in time for Russia's harvest, the sources said.

While New Delhi's import requirements are not huge, they could help lift global prices. Benchmark wheat prices in Chicago jumped this week to their highest in 10 months, before edging lower on Wednesday as hopes for rain in parched Russian sowing areas led investors to lock in profits.

Despite the recent surge in global wheat prices, fuelled by worries that adverse weather conditions could cut output in Russia, industry insiders said duty-free imports were viable.

"There is a compelling case for the removal of the wheat import duty," said Pramod Kumar, president of the Roller Flour Millers Federation of India. "That is the best possible way to ensure sufficient supplies in the open market."

The government is likely to concede to the demand.

Jakson Green Raises ₹60cr from HSBC India

MUMBAI: Jakson Green, a new energy transition platform backed by Jakson Group, has secured ₹60 crore funding from HSBC India, the company said on Wednesday. This funding will support the company's working capital requirements for its renewable energy business, both in India and internationally, the company said. "It not only bolsters our renewable energy initiatives within India but also supports our global expansion," said Chandan Goswami, chief financial officer of Jakson Green. Jakson Green is expanding operations in the Middle East, Africa, Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) countries and Europe. The company has set up an electrolyzer manufacturing unit. It plans to produce 0.5 million tonnes per annum of green hydrogen/ ammonia by 2030. —Our Bureau

JUNE 6 AUCTION

Airtel may Pip Jio in Spectrum Buys with 900MHz Bet

Analysts say govt may get ₹1,200 cr from upcoming sale as Airtel, Jio & Vi are expected to collectively buy only about ₹12,500 cr of 5G airwaves

Kalyan.Parbat@timesgroup.com

Kolkata: Bharti Airtel is likely to boost sub-GHz airwave holdings in the coveted 900 MHz band in a dozen circles and emerge as the top spectrum buyer among three telcos in the upcoming auction despite Reliance Jio submitting the highest earnest money deposit (EMD), analysts said.

As per latest telco spectrum data collected by Axis Capital, Airtel's sub-GHz spectrum holdings in 800, 900 MHz bands are significantly lower at 178 MHz compared to Jio's 445 MHz. Jio's sub-GHz spectrum holdings are larger than Airtel and Vi as it is the only telco with pan-India 700 MHz airwaves apart from nationwide 800 MHz spectrum. Vodafone Idea's (Vi) sub-GHz spectrum holding (900 MHz band only) is at 141.2 MHz.

Earlier this month, Airtel managing director Gopal Vittal had said the telco would continue to focus on expanding 4G network in rural India by adding another 25,000 sites in the next few quarters.

EMD is indicative of a telco's bidding strategy and spectrum buying capacity as it gives the applicant eligibility points, based on which it can target a certain quantum of spectrum in select or all available bands in specific or all circles.

"Despite Jio having posted the highest EMD, Airtel may be the biggest spender in the 2024 spectrum auction as its recent rural thrust and improved balance sheet have strengthened the case for more 900 MHz spectrum buys in 12 circles, especially considering the significantly higher low-frequency spectrum holdings for Jio," IIFL said in a research note seen by ET.

The brokerage estimates Jio, Airtel and Vi's spectrum outlay at ₹900 crore, ₹80,400 crore and ₹1,200 crore respectively in the upcoming sale. Jio is expected to buy some 1800 MHz spectrum in four markets while Vi is slated to renew 900 MHz spectrum in West Bengal and UP West circles only. Jio's ₹3,000 crore EMD is much higher than Airtel (₹1,050 crore) and Vi (₹300 crore), but none of its spectrum is due for renewal in the upcoming sale. Air-tel and Vi face renewals in six and two circles respectively in the 900 MHz and 1800 MHz bands. Telcos can technically bid for spectrum worth 12 times their EMD.

Analysts estimate the government to collect a modest ₹2,000 crore from the upcoming sale as it expects Airtel, Jio and Vi to collectively buy only around ₹12,500 crore of 5G airwaves—or about 13% of the ₹96,300 crore worth of spectrum on offer. The estimate is also based on expectations that Jio, Airtel and Vi will opt for the softest equal annual instalment payment option over a 20-year span. Equal annual instalments are seen as the most relaxed payment option in terms of cash flow over the 20-year useful life of the spectrum.

This is since telcos opt for such a payment method need to pay 9.8% of the bid value every year, which is likely to be more manageable from a cash flow perspective.

In contrast, if telcos opt for 10% upfront payment option, they will have to pay 10.9% of the bid value every year from the third year onwards as per latest auction rules.

Analysts also believe that further savings on spectrum usage charges (SUC) won't be a driver for any aggressive bidding in the upcoming sale as current SUC levels for Jio/Airtel/Vi are already quite low at 0.19%/0.31%/0.8% respectively of AGR, especially since spectrum purchases from the July 2023 auction don't have any SUC.

Silver Continues to Glitter, Hits a Record ₹97,100/kg

Press Trust of India

New Delhi: Silver prices hit a lifetime high levels of ₹97,100 in the local market on Wednesday, while gold prices rose ₹250 in line with strong trends in the overseas markets, according to HDFC Securities.

Continuing its winning run for the third straight session, silver soared ₹1,150 to ₹97,100 per kg. It had closed at ₹95,950 per kg on Tuesday.

In the futures trade, silver also hit a lifetime peak of ₹96,483 per kg on the Multi Commodity Exchange (MCX) on Wednesday. Meanwhile, the gold prices climbed ₹250 to ₹73,200 per 10 grams in the national capital. In the previous session, the precious metal prices had settled at ₹72,950 per 10 grams.

"Spot gold prices (24 carats) in the Delhi markets are trading at ₹73,200 per 10 grams, up ₹250 against the previous close," Saumil Gandhi, Senior Analyst, Commodities at HDFC Securities, said.

In international markets, spot gold at Comex was trading at $2,352 per ounce, up $6 from the previous close.

"Gold prices rose slightly on Wednesday, as safe haven demand following another attack on a ship in the Red Sea added to heightened geopolitical tensions in the Middle East."

"However, hawkish comments from several US Federal Reserve officials and a jump in US Treasury yields limit the gains in precious metals," Gandhi said.

Additionally, silver also traded higher at $32.05 per ounce. In the previous session, it ended at $31.50 per ounce. Spot silver prices have gained 35 per cent this year to date, reaching 12-year highs.

"Gold price faced resistance at $2,355-2,380 level in Comex, and MCX Gold faced selling around ₹72,450. Amid a rise in US dollar and upcoming Personal Consumption Expenditures (PCE) price index data on Friday, which will hint towards inflation projections, thus profit booking was seen in gold after a positive rally from ₹71,250 to ₹72,450 in last three trading sessions," Jateen Trivedi, VP Research Analyst of Commodity and Currency at LKP Securities, said.

On MCX, the most traded July contract of silver gained ₹52 to trade at ₹96,500 per kg. However, gold contracts for June delivery were trading lower by ₹31, or 0.18%, to ₹72,048 per 10 grams on the bourse.

China's Silver Imports Set to Increase

Chinese silver imports could surge in coming weeks, as traders take advantage of a jump in demand that's taken prices well above the international market. Silver's in a sweet spot because of its dual uses as an industrial metal and a financial asset. It's an important material in solar panels, and it's also a cheaper alternative to gold, which is setting its own records on price led by Chinese demand.

Although silver prices rose to an 11-year high last week, the arbitrage window—or the spread between Chinese and world prices—has widened even further. That creates the incentive to send more metal to China, potentially squeezing supply for other countries.

"A wave of imports into China is going to drain the free float away from the West even further," said Daniel Ghali, senior commodity strategist at TD Securities Inc. That hasn't been captured by market pricing, he said. Bloomberg

Saudi Arabia Eyes a Future Beyond Oil

The New York Times

Riyadh: At a two-hour drive from Riyadh, Saudi Arabia's capital, rows of solar panels extend to the horizon like waves on an ocean. Despite having almost limitless reserves of oil, the kingdom is embracing solar and wind power, partly in an effort to retain a leading position in the energy industry, which is vitally important to the country but fast changing.

Looking out over 3.3 million panels, covering 14 square miles of desert, Faisal Al Omari, the CEO of a recently completed solar project called Sudair, said he would tell his children and grandchildren about contributing to Saudi Arabia's energy transition. "I'm really proud to be part of it," he said.

Although petroleum production retains a crucial role in the Saudi economy, the kingdom is putting its chips on other forms of energy. Sudair, which can light up 183,000 homes, is the first of what could be many giant projects intended to raise output from renewable sources including solar and wind to around 50% by 2030. Currently, renewable accounts for a negligible amount of Saudi electricity generation.

Analysts say achieving that hugely ambitious goal is unlikely. "If they get 30%, I would be happy because that would be a good signal," said Karim Elgendy, a climate analyst at the Middle East Institute, a research organization in Washington.

Still, the kingdom is planning to build solar farms at a rapid pace. "The volumes you see here, you don't see anywhere else, only in China," said Marco Arcelli, the CEO of Acwa Power, Sudair's Saudi developer and a growing force in the international electricity and water industries.

The Saudis not only have the money to expand rapidly, but are free of the long permit processes that inhibit such projects in the West. "They have a lot of investment capital, and they can move quickly and pull the trigger on project development," said Ben Cahill, a senior fellow at the Center for Strategic and International Studies, a research institution in Washington.
