Q1FY15 HighlightsConsolidated Sales higher by 19%, EBITDA rises 29%

Sintex Industries, a dominant leader in plastics and textiles segment announced results for the quarter ended June 2014.

Highlighting the strategic importance of Q1FY15 developments, Amit Patel, Group Managing Director, Sintex Industries, said:

"We are in unique times, the priorities of the new government is perfectly aligned to our core presence in areas of education, healthcare, sanitation and EWS housing. I strongly believe, with an established portfolio of products and pan India positioning, we are well positioned to leverage the huge potential in all these segments."

"Our product innovations and distribution strategy is aligned to changing market dynamics. Reflecting our long term commitment to derisking our businesses and focus on core areas, I believe is paying off. "

Cons. Sales up 19 % to Rs 13414 mn.

Driven by Prefabs, Textile and Custom Molding revenues.

EBITDA rises 29 % to Rs 2074 mn

PAT rises by 32 % to Rs 611 mn,

Basic EPS at Rs 1.93 (not annualized)

Commenting on the Q1FY15 performance, Group CEO, Sunil Kanojia, said:

"Its been a healthy quarter despite Q1 being a lean period. Particularly Prefabs strong growth momentum driven by social spending continues and the visibility appears to be robust. Our custom molding business has seen significant stride with French acquisition of Groupe Simonin. It will add significant value to our offerings. Domestically too, we invested in new process to our product portfolio a synergy driven by US subsidiary. In all, we are looking at a healthy growth domestically with better margins."

Key developments in the recent quarter post elections that can accelerate buoyancy in our key product segments :

Growth drivers - Short to medium term		Growth drivers - Long term
Education Budget	Over Rs 400 bln allocated to Education sector A) Education for all and mid day meal scheme. SC order on toilets to be installed in all schools, seperate toilet for girls.	EWS housing Initiative	Housing for all by 2022. An agenda by Urban Development Ministry. Large demand & supply gap exists.
Sanitation &	Project Swach Bharat (clean India), 800 mn toilets and modern sewage systems. 20 mn in first one year estimated. Couple of health and sanitation schemes to be integrated to push sanitation in a big way.	Warehousing	35-40% wastage at source. Reduce wastage and Invigorate warehousing sector to improve post harvest storage for farmers .
Healthcare Programs	'Health for all' Free drugs and diagnosis will push healthcare centers in rural areas.	CM	Growth in India GDP and recovery in global economy. Revival of domestic automotive segment.
Infra sector	Broad push for capex's in Infra to make site offices, worker shelters, bunk houses and other utilities	CSR Opportunity	Estimated Rs 150-200 bln of corporate profit to flow into CSR activity. Slum development included in CSR list.

Building Products

Prefabricated building systems continues to be strong growth driver with a growth of 27 % for the quarter under review. Continued social spending and a special thrust on sanitation for all rural households is being given a massive thrust by the current government. Sintex with a pan India presence and seamless execution is well positioned. Besides, fresh initiatives to push the growth on infra segment will entail potential demand for prefab structures in the form of kiosks/ site offices, worker shelters, bunk houses and other utilities.

Consolidation continues in monolithic business as focus is maintained on streamlining working capital. With renewed focus on "Housing for All" agenda by the Urban Development Ministry, the segment will see interesting times ahead.

The Infra revenue during the quarter under review was Rs 1.14 bln.

Custom Molding

The custom molding business is purely dependent on heightened industrial activity. While composites segment globally continues to grow by replacing metals across Industries. Sintex with presence across US, Europe and India in sectors ranging from Aerospace and Defense, Electrical, Automotive, Medical Imaging and Mass Transit is well geared to capitalize both globally, as well as domestically. The business has recorded a decent growth of 14 % during the quarter.

The custom molding basket has seen strategically important developments in the quarter. First, the acquisition of Groupe Simonin for Euro 18 mln. The acquisition is a stepping stone in consolidating the positioning in European continent with metal parts over molded parts, to meet growing demand of Fortune 500 OEM's ranging from Electrical, Automotive and Home Automation. The company's facilities are spread across France and Morocco. This will help integrate French and Indian plants to offer products and services with a bouquet of manufacturing footprint technology and capabilities with differential cost basis. Secondly, a step further in synergies, the Pune Plant in India inaugurated LRTM (Light Resin Transfer Molding) process. The process has been replicated from our US Subsidiary to cater to customers in India ranging from tractors to excavation/off-the-road vehicles.

The revival in domestic economy, especially the Indian automotive segment is a strong booster for Indian custom molding business. The domestic business grew 35 % during the quarter.

Textiles

The textiles segment registered a healthy topline growth of 39% driven by volume growth. Thus resulting in an increased capacity utilization.

Spinning Project

The spinning project is progressing as per schedule. With first 1,00,000 spindles to be on stream March 2015 onwards, balance 2,00,000 spindles to be commissioned by September 2015.
