Flipkart looks to raise $1 bn in latest funding round

REUTERS
Mumbai, 8 March

India's top e-commerce company Flipkart is holding talks with investors to raise up to $1 billion in one of its biggest funding rounds so far, a source familiar with developments said on Wednesday.

The source declined to name the potential investors and the exact valuation Flipkart was looking for, but said it hoped the valuation would be in the "double digits", referring to a valuation of $10 billion or more.

Earlier on Wednesday, Financial Express newspaper, citing unidentified sources, said the expected fundraising could value Flipkart at up to $8 billion, far lower than the roughly $15 billion in its last

Alibaba's UCWeb plans big India investment, to partner Paytm

Chinese internet major Alibaba's mobile business arm is forming a strategic group that will explore opportunities to increase investments in India and has set no ceiling for deployment of funds.

The group's digital media platform UCWeb is also planning to collaborate with Paytm and other e-commerce firms to push its content ecosystem.

"The first one may see a collaboration between funding round.

A Flipkart spokesman said the company would not comment on market speculation.

Flipkart's latest fundraising comes amid intensifying competition in the e-commerce space from the likes of US internet giant Amazon.com Inc and domestic rival Snapdeal, which is backed by Japan's Softbank Group.

The ensuing heavy losses have hit valuations among India's e-commerce players. Some funds that have invested in Flipkart have recently slashed the value of their holdings, media reports have said, citing securities filings.

Launched by two former Amazon employees in 2007, Flipkart's biggest investor is US hedge fund Tiger Global. Others include Accel Partners, DST Global, and Baillie Gifford.

The company has so far raised more than $3 billion in funding, mostly from international investors.

HC rules in favour of India drug firms Natco, Alembic

Delhi High Court on Wednesday allowed Indian firms Natco Pharma and Alembic Pharmaceuticals to export Sorafinatin and Rivaroxaban, respectively, which are copies of German firm Bayer's cancer and blood-thinning medicines.

Bayer had initiated proceedings to stop them from exporting the drugs. The Indian firms said they were being exported for experimentation and generation of clinical trial data. Bayer had argued that such exports did not qualify for exceptions to patent infringement provided under Section 107A of the Indian Patents Act, 1970, as they violated conditions of compulsory licences (Natco) and exceeded reasonable quantities (Alembic).

Bayer had claimed that under the compulsory licence provided to Natco, the company could only sell Sorafinatin within India; and Alembic could not qualify for exception as it had exported over 90 kilograms of Rivaroxaban, worth around ₹3 crore. The German drug maker had also sought directions to Customs to seize and confiscate the consignments from being exported outside the country.

High Court said the companies were allowed to export the medicines. The court said the exports were for data-gathering purposes and in line with the global agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS) and were covered under the constitutional right under Article 19(1)(g) of the Constitution. — SAYAN GHOSAL, New Delhi
