Govt frontloads ₹75K cr to states

Move to help state govts spur capex amid pandemic

DILASHA SETH
New Delhi, 15 July

In a bid to spur spending by states amid the Covid-19 pandemic, the Centre on Thursday released as compensation nearly half of the estimated goods and services tax (GST) shortfall for the current fiscal year under the back-to-back loan facility.

The Ministry of Finance released ₹75,000 crore of the ₹1.59-trillion estimated as GST revenue shortfall in a single instalment, to facilitate capital spending by states, besides allowing better management of the pandemic, with most states reeling from severe fiscal stress.

The remaining amount will be released to states in the second half of the fiscal year in steady instalments.

“For effective response and management of the Covid-19 pandemic and a step-up in capital expenditure (capex), all states and Union Territories (UTs) have a very important role to play. For assisting states/UTs in their endeavour, the Ministry of Finance has front-loaded the release of assistance under the back-to-back loan facility during 2021-22 (FY22),” the ministry

STATES THAT HAVE MOST GST COMPENSATION REQUIREMENT

	Amount released (₹ crore)
Karnataka	8,542
Maharashtra	6,501
Gujarat	6,151
Punjab	5,723
Kerala	4,122
Uttar Pradesh	3,839
Tamil Nadu	3,818
Total	75,000

said in a statement. The Ministry of Finance in the GST Council meeting on May 28 had proposed market borrowing to the tune of ₹1.58 trillion to compensate states for the GST shortfall through back-to-back loans, like last year, assuming a 7 per cent growth in revenue. The GST compensation requirement for FY22 has been pegged at ₹2.7 trillion, of which ₹1.1 trillion is expected to be met through cess collection.

“All eligible states and UTs (with the legislature) have agreed to the arrangements for the funding of the compensation shortfall under the back-to-back loan facility,” said the finance ministry.

The Centre had projected a gap of ₹30,000 crore spilled over from last year, which it expects to meet through ₹1.58-trillion borrowing proposed for FY22. It is expected that this release will help states/UTs in planning their public expenditure for improving health infrastructure (infra0 and taking up infra projects, said the government statement.

The Centre’s borrowing programme for the remaining period of the first half of the current fiscal year — as announced in the issuance calendar for marketable dated securities for April 2021-September 2021 released on March 31 — will remain unchanged, it stated.

Aditi Nayar, chief economist, ICRA Ratings, said the release of these funds from the Government of India’s (GoI’s) own borrowings raised so far corroborates the inference that healthy tax and non-tax revenues have augmented cash flows of the central government. She added that the release of ₹75,000 crore will substantially ease cash flows of state governments and help them ramp up expenditure.

“This will complement the pick-up in momentum being seen after the phased unlocking, and bodes well for sustaining the nascent revival,” said Nayar.

M S Mani, senior director, Deloitte India, pointed out that while the release of the compensation shortfall amounts committed to states would alleviate the fiscal position of states, the recovery of the amounts borrowed to make the payments would necessitate the extension of the period during which the compensation cess is levied beyond 2022.

States were promised compensation for five years after GST implementation in July 2017 revenue shortfall, assuming a 14-per cent annual growth, since states lost autonomy over indirect taxes. Compensation cess is levied on a few items in the 28-per cent GST slab, such as automobiles, cigarettes, and aerated drinks.

Aditya Singhania, partner, Singhania’s GST Consultancy & Co., said the release of ₹75,000 crore compensation in anticipation of the third Covid-19 wave will iron out the issues being faced by states in handling health and other capex.

Last year, the Centre had estimated a GST compensation requirement of ₹2.35 trillion, of which ₹1.1 trillion was met by way of borrowing and another ₹70,000 crore came from compensation cess collection, leaving a gap of ₹55,000 crore, which the government had promised to fulfil over the course of time. The release of ₹75,000 crore is funded from the borrowings of GoI in five-year securities, totalling ₹68,500 crore and two-year securities for ₹6,500 crore issued in the current fiscal year, at a weighted average yield of 5.6 and 4.25 per cent per annum, respectively.

Das: Will soon bring financial inclusion index

ANUP ROY
Mumbai, 15 July

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is in the process of publishing a financial inclusion index shortly, even as the country has improved its performance on the inclusion part, Governor Shaktikanta Das said on Thursday.

“The financial inclusion index will have parameters across the three dimensions of financial inclusion viz., Access, Usage and Quality. Work on FI Index is underway and the Index will be published shortly by the RBI,” Das said in a keynote address at a financial inclusion summit.

Financial inclusion will continue to be the policy priority for the central bank, to make the post-pandemic recovery more inclusive and sustainable, Das said.

In this context, the recent guidelines on the microfinance sector will help limit over indebtedness of borrowers and would also help rationalise interest rates and enhance transparency of loan pricing.

Financial literacy is becoming part of the curriculum of school children, with 15 states so far making it as part of the syllabus.

“Lessons from the past and experiences gained during the Covid-19 pandemic clearly indicate that financial inclusion and inclusive growth reinforce financial stability,” the RBI governor said.

“Greater financial literacy and education, together with sound consumer protection mechanisms, will ensure that people at the bottom of the pyramid are empowered to take informed financial decisions. This will also enable banks, NBFCs, MFIs, etc. to enhance their customer base and products and diversify their balance sheet.” Financial inclusion would lead to sustainable future, and there is a need for “accelerated universal reach of bank accounts along with access to financial products relating to credit, investment, insurance and pension,” the governor said, adding that grievance redressal mechanism has to be improved too.

Centre may get 30% more from infra asset sale

“The assets must be handed back to the government once the transaction period is over,” said the official.

He added that the NMP criteria will be different from that of privatisation.

In the first phase, sources say, the government has lined up plans to monetise assets including roads, electricity transmission, oil and gas pipelines, telecom towers and sports stadia, among others, in the current financial year.

Niti Aayog has asked ministries to identify and share information on the assets to be included in the pipeline.

Several meetings with the Core Group of Secretaries for Asset Monetisation have taken place recently following the Finance Minister’s announcement during the February Budget about launching the monetisation plan for potential brownfield infrastructure assets. This is unlike the National Infrastructure Pipeline which is working only on greenfield projects.

Second coming of social media has a biz peg..

The company says that there are already 15 million WhatsApp business accounts. And they send out over 100 million messages a day. And a study undertaken by US reserach agency Harris Poll for India has shown that 75 per cent of Indian adults surveyed preferred to message a business when they needed to contact them now more than they did pre-Covid, while 76 per cent said that they would more likely do business with or purchase from a firm that they can contact through messaging.

Elaborating on the big push to target businesses, Ajit Mohan, managing director of Facebook India says: “What we are seeing is the second coming of social media as the powerful medium for business which has been accentuated by Covid-19.” Mohan says that there have been three areas of disruption in customer behaviour during the pandemic. “One, they are spending more time online. Two, customers are increasingly discovering brands and categories through Instagram and Facebook platforms either through friends or influencers or brands. This process of discovery has accentuated in the last 15 months,” he says.

The third change, according to Mohan, is that customers now want to engage with businesses with the same ease as they do with their friends and relatives on platforms like WhatsApp. They would like to ask questions about the product, its efficacy and pricing before deciding to make a transaction. To support these transactions, Facebook has launched WhatsApp Pay, which is currently being perfected so that it is simple to operate. Mohan says that from a marketing and advertisers’ point of view, the transition is already happening. The reach that TV offered to advertisers will now be to available on digital platforms, he says. “The role played by TV will now be offered by digital platforms, because now we have scale which is more than what TV offers and is relevant for big companies, too,” says Mohan, adding that this is evident from the sheer number of active users who spend a substantial amount of time on Facebook every day.

Social media also offers companies the opportunity to target customers without wasting money. Crucially, says Mohan, it offers a cost-to-reach per customer which is more attractive than TV ads. He backs it up by citing a study by Nielsen, which showed that while digital constituted 27 per cent of ad spends, they contributed to 41 per cent of revenue.

Facebook clearly has three different business models. First, to address the needs of small entrepreneurs and provide them with an easy and not too expensive option to acquire customers through the platform within India as well as globally. Second, to work with large companies such as MakeMyTrip, ICICI Bank and others by helping them increase their business through the use of digital platforms. And third, to tie up with a large e-commerce player like Jio Mart and work together to reach the kirana stores and enable them to use platforms like WhatsApp to do their business.

More than a little bit of China in import basket

Consumer electronics from China, which makes key durable items such as vacuum cleaners, refrigerators or microwaves, captured a big market share in India in April compared to the corresponding period last year.

About 63 per cent of consumer electronics imports in India were from China in April compared to 26 per cent last year. The share grew significantly in 2020-21 to 52.3 per cent from 44 per cent in 2019-20. Computer hardware and peripherals shipped from Beijing made up for half of India’s shipments last year. The share has grown to 50.8 per cent in FY21 compared to 46.4 per cent in FY20 and 44.6 per cent in FY19. The share has expanded further in April 2021 to 55 per cent compared to 51 per cent in the corresponding period last year.

Telecom instrument imports from China accounted for 43.5 per cent of India’s inbound shipment in this area in 2020-21, compared to 39 per cent in the previous year. In April, the share of telecom instruments from China rose to 47.3 per cent from 33.6 per cent. More than half the consumer electronics imports in India in FY21 were from China, compared to about 40 per cent in the previous two years.

China has been the manufacturing factory of the world for many years. Even as the government is talking of Aatmanirbhar Bharat initiatives, it is difficult to implement it in a short period. It is not easy to shift sourcing away from China to any other country in the world,” said Arvind Singhal, chairman and managing director, Technopak Advisors.

“It is important to note that despite the fact that even as GDP (in 2020-21) collapsed due to the pandemic, imports from China remained almost where they were even before the outbreak of Covid-19. China remains the most competitive manufacturer in the world,” Singhal said.

5 private banks' credit card issuance...

Their other income could also take a small hit during this phase. However, public sector banks will not be impacted as they are increasingly issuing cards on the indigenous RuPay card payment network.

Suresh Ganapathy, associate director, Macquarie Capital Securities, said: “For a few months, there will be lower issuance of credit cards, depending on who has how much proportion of Mastercard. Debit card issuance may also be slower,” he said, adding that it was a supply issue, which can be corrected in subsequent quarters.

As of now, it looks like an 8-12 week problem,” he added. For debit cards, many may move towards RuPay and for credit cards banks’ will move towards Visa.

Nomura has identified RBL Bank, YES Bank, and Bajaj Finserv as the ones that will be impacted the most by the ban as all their card schemes are allied to Mastercard. HDFC Bank has 60 per cent of its card schemes tied to Mastercard, Amex, and Diners, while for Axis Bank and ICICI Bank it is about 35-36 per cent, the report added. The impact on players will vary, depending on their tie-ups with other card networks and the type of cards. For example, RBL Bank has a tie-up with Mastercard for credit card issuance but its debit and prepaid cards were enabled on other payment networks in addition to Mastercard. Similarly, YES Bank said, its debit cards are also available on Visa and RuPay platforms.

Banks that have exclusive tie-ups with Mastercard are the ones that have to forge partnerships with other networks. Furthermore, another area of concern is co-branded credit cards, which are tie-ups between banks and vendors/merchants and a particular card network. After the ban, the new issuance of co-branded cards with Mastercard also has to stop.

Axis Bank, one of the largest credit card issuers, has a co-branded credit card with Flipkart on the Mastercard platform. Similarly, SBI Credit Card has co-branded credit cards with Tata Capital and Club Vistara on the Mastercard platform. RBL Bank has a co-branded credit card with Bookmyshow on the Mastercard platform.

In FY21, Axis Bank sourced nearly 200,000 credit cards through its partnerships with Flipkart and Google Pay, according to its annual report. “The bank’s marquee card proposition ‘Flipkart Axis Bank Credit Card’, crossed a significant milestone of 1 million cards in force (CIF) in a record time of 20 months from its launch despite the pandemic slowing down acquisition for a few months,” the bank said.

An email sent to Axis Bank seeking comments went unanswered. An SBI Cards spokesperson said: “We have a diversified product portfolio on multiple networks, viz. RuPay, Visa, Mastercard, and American Express. Our new customer acquisition impact is minimal as there are only a few co-brand credit cards on the Mastercard network.”

It should be noted that the RBI ban is only on fresh issuances, while the existing cards business remains unimpacted.

Visa is the largest player in the space, followed by Mastercard and RuPay, according to industry estimates. But Mastercard is seen as enjoying a premium position in the industry. RuPay is seen as a disruptor, fast catching up with its global peers. While data on the market share of card operators is not available in the public domain, the National Payments Corporation of India had earlier this year said RuPay’s market share by volume was 34 per cent and 30 per cent by value.

According to the RBI’s latest figures, there are 902.3 million debit cards and 60.23 million credit cards. In debit cards, all three players command a sizeable share, but in credit cards, Visa and Mastercard are the dominant players.

GDP growth estimated at 22% in Q1...

The RBI said a pick-up in inflation was driven largely by adverse supply shocks, such as in the case of protein-rich food items, edible oils and pulses, and sector-specific demand-supply mismatches caused by the pandemic. “These factors should ease over the year as supply side measures take effect,” it said.

Even as inflation remained above the RBI’s tolerance band during June-November 2020 and again moved above the upper threshold of 6 per cent in May and June 2021, the sense now is that “inflation will persist at these elevated levels for some months before easing in the third quarter of 2021-22 when the kharif harvest arrives in markets”.

Steps have been taken to address specific supply-side measures, “but more needs to be done”, the report said.

Coming to the pandemic itself, the report said a mathematical model had suggested that in the best and normal course, the third wave could just be a ripple and life would return to normalcy by August. However, in its pessimistic scenario, which assumes that a new 25 per cent more infectious virus other than Delta+ spreads in August, there will be a bigger impact.

If there is no such mutant, the third wave will be a ripple and comparable to the first.
