The Digital Garage is the first such center in Asia-Pacific, expanding TCS' roster of TCS Pace facilities spread across New York, Pittsburg, Amsterdam, and Tokyo.

The advanced research hub is designed to holistically look at innovation, helping businesses establish their competitive differentiation, increase speed to market, and navigate their growth and transformation journeys. The Digital Garage was inaugurated through a virtual event by NSW Minister for Customer Service and Digital Government, Hon. Both government and the private sector have dual responsibilities to expand and accelerate our capabilities for the future of the country as a whole,"* said Minister Dominello. "I am pleased that TCS has chosen Sydney to launch its Digital Garage. It not only provides an innovation powerhouse for businesses in NSW but also opens newer opportunities across Australia."

The launch event also featured leading technology executives such as Stephen Edwards, Chief Technology Officer, Foxtel; Mario Tieppo, Chief Digital Officer, AEMO; John Hunt, Chief Information Officer, Woolworths Group, and Nick Eshkenazi, Chief Digital Technology, Woolworths Group. In a panel discussion, these guests highlighted the need for Australian businesses to develop digital capabilities and continuously explore, deploy and scale digital technologies to transform and grow.

"Collaborative innovation, harnessing the collective knowledge of an ecosystem of partners, better enables the development of transformational digital solutions and sustainable business that build a better future," said Vikram Singh, Country Head, TCS Australia & New Zealand. "The launch of the Digital Garage in Sydney enables TCS to better collaborate with our clients, bringing the best of TCS' global capabilities to Australia to support local transformation and delivery of ideas that meet the needs of local businesses and improve the lives of Australians."

"TCS Sydney Digital Garage, Powered by TCS Pace is a great step forward in our endeavour to accelerate growth and transformation of our customers," said K Ananth Krishnan, CTO, TCS. "We have been investing in emerging technology areas with Australian academia and have built Agile Innovation Clouds with customers. We are excited to bring TCS Pace capabilities to Australia and further encourage collaborative research and innovation."
