TCS and Solace Systems Team Up to Deliver Digital Reimagination™ Solutions and Services

NEW YORK | MUMBAI, April 22, 2015: Tata Consultancy Services (TCS), a leading IT services, consulting and business solutions organization, today announced that it has partnered with Solace Systems, the leading provider of next generation messaging middleware solutions. This collaboration will enable customers to quickly and cost-effectively implement big data, mobility and Internet of Things (IoT) initiatives.

Business focus has turned to digital transformation as a required action to remain competitive. As a result, the flood of information big data enables can create new business challenges. Together, TCS and Solace Systems are helping to solve the combined complexity of data volume, coupled with velocity requirements of Big Data in digital transformation and Digital Reimagination™ initiatives.

The collaboration will provide new digital solutions and industry expertise that enable customers to reimagine their business processes and achieve results. To drive innovation, TCS will leverage Solace next-generation messaging middleware as part of a private cloud at TCS' Cincinnati Business Solutions Lab. Solace's unified platform for linking devices, gateways and datacenters reduces the capital and operating expenses associated with supporting digital initiatives, helping customers implement and adopt solutions at a lower total cost of ownership (TCO).

"TCS and Solace Systems are bringing to customers around the world the benefits of TCS' deep domain knowledge and implementation expertise together with Solace's next generation messaging middleware," said TCS' Raman Venkatraman, Global Head, Alliance and Technology Unit. "This exciting partnership will enable greater business process agility, with ability to adapt based on handling real time data and business events, while offering greater capacity, performance and robustness."

"We look forward to working with TCS to help businesses upgrade not just their IT infrastructure, but the way they automate business processes, make decisions and serve customers," said Solace Systems' Denis King, SVP of Field Operations and Strategic Alliances. "The combination of Solace's technology and TCS' implementation expertise will make it easier than ever for joint customers to successfully pursue strategic initiatives in areas such as big data, mobility and the Internet of Things."
